ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE SELECTMEN

1920

REPORT OF SELECTMEN

Randolph, Mass., January 31, 1921.

To the Voters of the Town of Randolph:—

In presenting the Selectmen's report for the year 1920 there is little need of any apologies on the part of the Selectmen. The strong financial condition of the town is well known to the least observant.

During the past year there has been a number of overdrafts. Most of these occurred in accounts over which the Selectmen had no authority whatever. There was presented a bill for $962.18 covering commission on taxes collected for the years 1915-1916 and 1917. Upon rigid investigation we found that the bill was correct and as no appropriation was ever made to cover this bill, it was necessary to include this item among the overdrafts. We find also that there was no appropriation for commission on taxes for the year 1918. During that year the Collector of the taxes was allowed 1% as his commission but nothing was ever raised and included in the tax levy to provide for the payment of this bill. In order to give you a true condition of the finances of the town, we have reported all as unpaid bills, therefore, there will be due the Collectors of taxes when he collects his levy for 1919 and 1920 the sum of $1,349.39.

We find upon investigation that we have had less appropriation for the miscellaneous account than was available 15 years ago. This, coupled with the fact that items that are classified as miscellaneous have doubled in price, has made it impossible for us to keep within the appropriation, despite our efforts to spend no money during the past year that was not actually necessary. We desire to call to the attention of the voters that there is nothing in the way of business equipment to direct the affairs of the town in the town offices and we believe that steps should be immediately taken to provide some up-to-date office equipment for our offices. The volume of business done by the town requires that something of the nature be installed at once. There is far more detail connected with town work than the average citizen has any conception of, and, without the proper working equipment, efficient work cannot be attained.

Under Chapter 763 of the Acts of 1913, otherwise known as Mother's Aid we are obliged to aid certain people, one-third of such aid rendered is reimbursed by the State. We believe that some provision should be made in the tax levy to meet this account. By so doing this would eliminate an overdraft on this item.

There should have been no overdraft in the account of the Board of Health for the past year and we would have shown an unexpected balance had we received the proper credits from the State which we supposed we were receiving, but we are now happy to report that this leak has been stopped and the town is receiving the credits from the State to which they are and have been justly entitled to receive.

We are very fortunate during the past year in the matter of collections. We were unable to collect one bill of $456.73 from the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., for the removal of snow last winter. At first the railway authorities denied any obligations for this work but after many conferences with the Supt. of the Brockton Division, we succeeded in collecting the amount mentioned. This bill represented one half of the money expended in removing the snow from Main Street for which their plows were responsible. We also collected from the City of Boston the sum of $330.00 for aid rendered the poor of that city in our town and $272.00 from the Town of Saugus.

Another item that represents considerable work is a collection of $3,150.06 from the State covering bills for the years 1917-1918-1919 and 1920, more than three-fourths of which seemed hopelessly lost to the town. As a result of our efforts every cent due the town from the State for the past four years has been collected.

In submitting our report to the voters for the year 1920 we take great pride in stating that this is the first year since 1911 that the town will not be called upon to make an appropriation for the overdrafts. We have aimed to give the citizens a true statement of the condition of the town and we have endeavored to conduct the affairs on business principles with the best interests of the town at heart at all times.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. RUDDERHAM,
RICHARD F. FORREST,
JOHN B. MAHONEY,

Selectmen.

REPORT OF OVERSEERS OF THE POOR

The Overseers of the Poor submit herewith their report for the year ending December 31, 1920.

With reference to the poor out of Almshouse we would say that notwithstanding the large number of cases we were called upon to aid we have been able to keep within the appropriation, our report showing an unexpended balance of $873.62.

The Almshouse report also shows an unexpended balance despite the fact that we were obliged to make extensive repairs to the Almshouse barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Sullivan, Warden and Matron at the Almshouse are now entering upon their fifteenth consecutive year in their respective positions, and we feel safe in saying that no other institution of this kind is better managed or kept in better condition. Quarterly inspections were made during the year and we found everything in excellent order, and the inmates well taken care of.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN

Randolph, Mass., January 21, 1921.

To the Voters of the Town of Randolph:

The town in the past has been noted for its beautiful shade trees, but, they are fast being destroyed by various causes. Gas, electric wires, and the various pests, all have a tendency to help destroy the same.

Each year trees are removed and no provisions are made to replace the same.

A small appropriation each year for the planting of shade and ornamental trees, would help replace the many trees removed every year.

We hope some action will be taken this year in regard to the planting of new shade trees.

A lot of work still remains to be done on your outlying streets, and a number of large trees are yet to be taken down.

Report submitted by

JOHN T. MOORE,

Tree Warden.

REPORT OF THE LOCAL MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen, Randolph.

Gentlemen:

The Gypsy Moth situation in this town remains about the same.

While effective work was done by spraying last year, the woodlands are so badly infested that while you clean up the residential and highways the moths lay the egg clusters again where they fly and deposit the egg.

The weather so far this winter has been mild and very favorable for these egg clusters. Creosoting the egg clusters has been carried on this winter and we expect to be able to cover the whole town.

This department has one power sprayer put in first class condition last year. It is recommended that the town procure a truck. More effective work can be done and more ground covered than by using a horse to draw the apparatus. For a small amount a suitable truck could be obtained and we would be able to save time and reach all the people and parts of the town.

A warning was sent out last year from the office of the State Forrester in regard to the destruction of the Brown Tail Moth which has made its appearance again and is more destructive to the fruit trees than the Gypsy Moth. I destroyed a large number last spring in some sections of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Local Moth Supt.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS

To the Voters of the Town of Randolph:

In making my report for the year 1920 would say I was greeted with a good old fashioned snow storm to start the month of March.

The first of April work was begun cleaning gutters and scraping streets.

Union Street was picked up and re'ayed, five loads of Tarvia and 125 loads of sand and stone being used. Later 1200 gallons of Tarvia and 96 loads of sand were used for second coating.

At the entrance of Roel Street flagstones were laid and street raised.

Two hundred loads of ashes were spread on the sidewalks between Pleasant Street and Belcher Lane.

Streets Gravelled

North Street from Lincoln Stetson's Lane to Mrs. Swindell's, and from William Stetson's to John Doyle's.

The hill on High Street near Chapel.

West Street from Clarence Hagar's to Mann Brothers house.

Eighty-five loads were used on Liberty Street.

Warren Street was picked up and relayed from Main Street to Railroad, from Railroad to Mr. J. B. Brennan's was patched.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Warren Avenue to West Street was rebuilt.

Three-fourths of Silver Street was gravelled, also hill on Howard Street.

The hill on Mill Street near North.

School Street regravelled.

West Street is in bad condition.

Cottage Street is in bad condition.

Something should be done on North Street the coming year.

Canton Street also needs repairs, also Old and Pond Streets.

Centre Street also needs repairs.

In closing my report I would like to thank the Town Officials for the help they have given me the last year.

N. F. RANDALL,

Superintendent of Streets.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following regulations, until further notice, shall be considered a part of the contract with every person who uses water:

1. All applications for use of water must be made at the office of the Water Commissioners, and state fully the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Water will not be introduced into any building or premises except on the written application of the owner thereof, or by a duly authorized agent. The property will in all cases be held responsible for the water rates.

2. All persons taking water must keep their water pipes and fixtures in good repair and protected from the frost at their own expense. They will be held liable for all damages resulting from their failure to do so. They shall prevent all unnecessary waste, and water shall not be left running to prevent freezing. The Water Commissioners or their agent may, from time to time, ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of its use, and whether there is any unnecessary waste. They and their agents shall have free access to the premises supplied, to examine the apparatus, and if any fixtures are found not to be in good order, they shall direct them repaired, and if not repaired within two days the water shall be shut off and not let on again until such repairs are made, and the sum of two dollars paid for shutting off and turning on the water.

3. The occupant of any premises, when unnecessary waste of water occurs, shall be liable to a fine of two dollars for the first offence, and four dollars for the second offence during the same year, and shall be notified thereof in writing; and if such waste is not prevented and the fine aforesaid paid within two days from the time when the said notice is given, the water shall be shut off the premises, and shall not be again let on for the same occupant until the waste be stopped and the fine paid, together with an additional sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water, and in case of a third or subsequent offence the water shall be shut off, and shall not again be let on except by a vote of the Water Commissioners and the payment of such fine, not exceeding ten dollars, as the Water Commissioners may impose.

4. Any person supplied with water shall not allow another to take water from their fixtures without the written permission of the Water Commissioners. If any tenant, having no fixtures, has any use of such fixtures, full rates will be charged for such use by each tenant.

5. All persons using water for building purposes are required to obtain a permit from the Water Commissioners before taking water from any faucet or fixture connected with the water works, and all water takers are warned not to let any party take water from their premises until they show a permit from the Water Commissioners. Any person furnishing water in violation of this section will be subject to a fine not less than five or more than twenty dollars, and if the same when levied is not paid within three days from the time when the notice thereof is given, the water will be shut off from the premises and will not be let on again until such fine is paid.

7. All fixtures and water closets and urinals must be of a kind and quality approved by the Water Commissioners.

8. No person shall in any case be allowed to open any fire hydrants except by a written permit from the Water Commissioners; but the Engineers of the Fire Department shall in all cases have control of hydrants at fires and for practice.

9. The Commissioners reserve the right to restrict the use of hose or fountain, to shut off the water in all cases when it becomes necessary to make extensions or repairs, or for violations of any of the regulations, or whenever they deem it expedient.

10. The regulate rates for the use of water shall be payable in advance on the first days of January and July of each year, except where water is supplied to manufacturers by special agreement. In all cases of non-payment of the water rates within ten days after same is due, as well as for any violation of these rules and regulations, the supply will be shut off, and the water will not again be let on except upon the payment of the amount due, and the sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water.

The Commissioners may then proceed to lay the necessary service pipes to the interior of the building, provided all expense incurred beyond the line of the street shall be paid by the owner of the premises, who shall thereafter maintain and keep the same in good order at his own cost; and the same shall be at all times subject to the control of the Com-

TREASURER'S REPORT

To the Citizens of Randolph:—

In submitting my report as your Treasurer it is not my intention to go into all details, for should I tell of my experience and the many good things I have helped to bring about for our Town, it would require a much larger book and entail too great an expense. Should you care to prove to your satisfaction, compare the report of 1920 with the report of 1918, and there you will notice the great strides your town has taken in two short years.

In the 1918 report you will find reported unpaid bills as $22,171.30, when the town actually paid $46,000 on bills in 1919, which were due December 31, 1918. This was a mere difference of $24,000.

There was reported as an asset on the same page, accounts of undetermined standing $4,216.17. Less than two per cent of this was collected.

There is also reported on the same page Surplus Revenue of over $7,000, when there was an actual deficit of over $20,000.

Note the difference in the balance sheet of 1920. With all doubtful assets left out and all unpaid bills reported, the town has a clear surplus of almost $15,000.

A word as to the financial condition of the town. December 31, 1918 there was coming as assets $61,869.14. Everything was borrowed that possibly could be.

When I took office March 3, 1919, there was an overdue

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

note from December 20, 1918. For three months this note was overdue, and so tight was the town sewed up that there was no way possible in which to pay it, and it was by the good graces of the bank that held it that some of the town property was not put up at public auction to satisfy the obligation. Look at the balance sheet for 1920, we have coming as assets $63,174.07, which are bona fida assets. In the year 1918 money was borrowed to the limit, and at the close of that year the town had a borrowing credit of less than three hundred dollars.

Now see the difference in 1920. At the close of the year the town had a borrowing credit in anticipation of revenue of $38,304.14 and in anticipation of reimbursement of $13,000, making a total of $51,304.14. To a person unused to affairs of this nature, it means just this; that had there been owed for taxes at the close of the year 1920 $85,000 instead of the $33,000 that was owed the collector, I could have borrowed enough money to pay every bill the town owed.

The first year in this office I accomplished some wonderful things for the town. I saved the town enough on discounting bills to pay my salary many times. This year after the annual town meeting I saw the great necessity of bookkeeping for the selectmen, I took charge of this branch of the work and all summer I worked day and night seven days a week. I have been able to show each department at all times just where the accounts stood with the appropriation. In this way I know that many thousand dollars have been saved the town.

The result of this work has been shown in many ways. For instance, in collecting, there has been collected many thousands of dollars that had been given up as lost. In fact I have just received a check from the State Treasurer payable to the Town of Randolph for $2,077.56 which, with

$1,072.60 received before the accounts were closed makes a total of $3,150.16 collected from the department of public welfare on bills that were dug up out of the debris. Some of those bills went back to 1915. If you knew the conditions under which I had to labor in order to get the amounts of the various bills and if you knew the immense amount of work put into them you would wonder how any person would undertake anything like it. However I have kept the selectmen's accounts in a manner that has met the approval of every person who has seen them, and have also kept an index card file showing each person's account with the town. All this work has taken a great amount of time, at no expense to the town, is it worth continuing?

In closing I wish to thank all who have assisted me in salvaging the town from the tangled mess in which it was in when I was elected two years ago, should I mention any names I might forget some who have given me great assistance, I must say that I thank all the town officers who have heeded my advice and tried to keep their departments within their appropriations.

I wish to thank all the citizens of the town who have assisted me in any way.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN B. McNEILL,

Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Randolph, Mass., December 31, 1920.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The School Committee hereby submits its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1920.

The sessions of the elementary schools have been for a period of thirty-eight weeks, of the High School for a period of forty weeks. There has been but little change in the teaching force of the elementary schools, as Randolph following the custom of other towns in the state, has given preference to teachers of our own town. This obviates in a very marked degree the constant changes in teachers, which prevails, when they are chosen from out of town and insures more permanent and effective results. In the early part of the school year Miss Feeley, principal of the Belcher school, resigned to accept a more lucrative position in Boston. The committee feel that they were fortunate in securing Mr. Russell C. Dodge to fill the vacancy. During the year the Prescott school building has been shingled and repaired in a most satisfactory manner. The old wooden steps on the west side of the Prescott primary building have been replaced by cement steps, adding to the safety and convenience of the pupils.

In the High school we are quite sure we have a more efficient corps of teachers than has prevailed for some years.

The chimneys on the High school building have been capped and repaired, suitable gratings have been placed over the basement windows on the south side of the building.

In all work done on the school buildings the Committee has aimed for permanency and thoroughness of work. The Committee wish to acknowledge with grateful appreciation the work done upon the athletic field of the Stetson High school by Mr. James A. Brennan. The field has been enlarged graded and much work laid out upon it, showing a very marked improvement.

The Committee wish to call the attention of the citizens of the town, to the benefits that would be derived from the services of a nurse, to visit our schools, and work with the School Physician, and teachers, for a more careful supervision of the health and condition of the pupils.

A detailed statement of receipts and expenditures of this department is annexed to this report.

The Committee ask the town to raise and appropriate the following sum of money to meet the school expenses for the year ending December 31, 1921.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

To the School Committee of Randolph:

During the year 1920 there have been at various times slight epidemics of a contagious disease at the Belcher School Building. At no time has this condition been of a serious nature, and never has this building deserved the unpleasant remarks, made by a few people who themselves have never taken the task of looking this school building over. On two occasions during my term of School Physician the inspectors of the State Board of Health have made a careful survey and on both of these occasions given a most excellent report of the sanitary conditions found at the school.

On Nov. 2, 1917, Dr. Merrill Champion in a letter to the town writes, in part, "Many criticisms have been heard from the townspeople concerning the sanitary conditions of the school. These I found to be excellent, As a matter of fact, however, we know that even such sanitary conditions as overflowing cesspools or imperfect toilets have practically nothing to do with the spread of diphtheria." And below is the letter from the present State District Health Officer, Dr. George O'Donnell. As a physician in your town and with the interest of school children at heart I will say that no contagious disease, such as typhoid-fever, scarlet-fever or diphtheria, was ever contracted from lax sanitary conditions of that building.

The janitor, Mr. Frank Tileston, has been most careful of the closets and urinals and absolutely no blame can be laid to him.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

I would recommend that the School Committee pass a rule that no visitor during school hours be permitted to make any private investigation into the conditions of the sanitary department of any school building without a written permit from the above committee, as such investigations are very annoying to the small children.

We have had and always will have complaints in regard to head lice among school children. It is no crime for a child or adult to contract such a condition but it surely is a crime to keep head lice after once knowing that one has them. It must be a constant watch on the parent's part to rid a school of such a pest.

In closing let me say a few words in regard to the cess-pool conditions at the Belcher Building. We have two large wells and two good-sized dry wells on the ground. The first cess-pool takes care of all the material from the building and then from this there is an overflow into two dry wells. From the second of these two dry wells a pipe connects into the largest of the four wells, only liquid material comes to this cess-pool and after a heavy rain or snow we will have an overflow onto Belcher Lane, but this condition is of short duration.

I fully realize that the grounds around this building are far too small for children at play and I earnestly hope that at some future time it may be made possible for Randolph to give them a more modern building and spacious playgrounds.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the teachers, the Randolph Board of Health and the School Committee for their kind co-operation in all things regarding health conditions of your children.

Very sincerely yours.

GEORGE V. HIGGINS, M. D.

Report of Dr. George T. O'Donnell

January 20, 1921.

Mr. Belcher,
School Committee,
Randolph, Mass.

My dear Mr. Belcher:—

By way of confirming my opinions given you in regard to the Belcher School on the occasion of my recent visit, am writing you as follows:

At the request of your school committee I visited the Belcher School the morning of January 11th in company with Mr. Belcher and Dr. Higgins. I inspected the building and especially the toilet facilities in the basement and I am pleased to say that the building was in good condition sanitarily and I deemed the toilets in like condition, but would recommend better lighting of the same and a thorough cleansing of the toilets with acid or other suitable preparation such as would remove all corrosion, and repainting of the same. If the inside of the toilets could be painted white, it would be a very desirable addition. I would state right here that in the present condition they are not a factor in causing disease of any type.

Inspection of the school children showed no evidence of disease present. It is not possible for me to see wherein a great expenditure of money, such as an entire change of the plumbing would entail, could be followed by any great benefit.

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE T. O'DONNELL,

State District Health Officer.

Stetson School Fund

To the Citizens of Randolph.

The investment of Stetson School Fund remains the same as during 1919. During the year 1920 the Trustees have increased the rent of Stetson Hall to make up for increased cost of fuel and light. During the past month a piano was purchased for the hall, thus eliminating the constant moving of one piano from the stage to the floor.

During the year 1921, Stetson Hall Building will require painting both inside and out, and a separate appropriation will have to be made.

The investment for the Fund is as follows:

7 Northern Pacific & Great Northern R. R. Bonds	$7,000.00
2 American Telephone & Telegraph Bonds	2,000.00
2 Boston and Maine R. R. Bonds	2,000.00

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of Schools

1920

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

The School Committee, Randolph, Mass.

Gentlemen:

I submit my fourth annual report which is the twentieth among superintendents' reports.

Your superintendent has no wonderful achievement upon which to report nor an educational advancement which might be hailed as a phenomenon. He is, however, very happy to report that a sincere effort has been made by him and the teachers to more definitely outline the aims in the various subjects and to obtain a clearer conception of what the content in those subjects should be. This effort has been accompanied by an endeavor to find the best possible methods to reach the objectives set up in teaching.

Reading

Since the greater part of our reading in life is silent, emphasis has been placed, especially in the upper grades, on silent reading. To really get the full thought of what is read is a much different thing from glibly calling words. To ascertain the status of silent reading your superintendent has used the Munroe Silent Reading Tests.

Penmanship

There is continual progress in penmanship. The Palmer system, which was adopted two years ago is having its effect. At a school exhibit which will be held in the Spring, papers will be exhibited which will show the progress of individual pupils.

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

Arithmetic

Arithmetic has been one of our weakest subjects. It has been fairly definitely outlined, though there is need for even more definite organization in some of the grades.

A lack of knowledge of the number facts, such as automatically thinking 15 when 8 and 7 are presented and of thinking 85 when 78 and 7 are given, has been probably largely responsible for the poor work in the fundamental processes of arithmetic. To correct this, great emphasis has been placed on daily drill in these things. The Courtis practice tests in arithmetic are likewise having their beneficial effect upon the work.

Another matter in connection with arithmetic which has been given attention but which must have more thought, is the reasoning of problems. In fact the solving of problems whether in arithmetic or any other field of school work is much needed. It is not too radical to say that eventually school curricula will be organized about problems upon which children must do real thinking to solve. It is your superintendent's belief that the arithmetic work is improving and he hopes to show good results in the tests to be given next Spring.

Other Subjects

Comment, at least, might be made on the other school subjects, but it will probably suffice to say that all subjects are being examined as to aims, content, and method as fast as the superintendent can do it in a democratic way, and that means with the invaluable aid of the teachers themselves.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The three subjects above chosen are fundamental tools and they were selected to show that the fundamental subjects are being given the greatest thought.

Citizenship

This is a subject which has been neglected in our schools except where it inevitably appeared in other school subjects. Several of the teachers' meetings between now and June will be devoted to a discussion of it and eventually to an organization of subject matter which will give the subject more definiteness in the various grades. In teaching citizenship, the teacher will not of course fail to bring every subject of the curriculum to bear upon the work whenever such subject can be utilized. To spell correctly, to know the multiplication table, to be able to read a daily paper intelligently, to have a great respect for those who have made our country what it is, to recognize the inter-dependence of people, may all be considered a part of good citizenship. But with citizenship more definitely in mind, the teacher will be on the alert to use every subject and school activity when possible to inculcate civic ideas and ideals, civic habits and civic intelligence. This is not the place to write in detail what some of the traits of a good citizen are, but I will mention one that the pupils as young citizens might possess. The respect for property can be brought before youth very early. In the school, the defacement of desks is far from good citizenship. With pupils and teachers striving for respect for property of this nature, the habit is started which will no doubt carry over into non-school activities. In other words, the experience of children themselves will be used as a basis for developing proper civic attitudes, traits, habits and ideals. This is a rich field from which the harvest of better citizens may be obtained.

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

Time Allotments

In addition to working with the teachers on the curriculum, the superintendent has began a study of time allotments for the various subjects. As a result, several daily programs have been worked out with the assistance of the teachers, so that the same grade is giving substantially the same amount of time to each subject. This definite program might be such that it would have the weakness of a too rigid program. There is sufficient flexibility to allow for the varying conditions, however.

Poetry

A list of poems by grades is being arranged, so that greater definiteness may result in this important part of our work in literature.

Play

A word of commendation is surely due the principals and teachers for their initiative and interest in finding means by which to raise funds for their play equipment. A good beginning has been made in directed play at recess, especially when the grounds available are considered. Play space is especially lacking at the Belcher school.

Gardens

Gardens were again planted and cared for by some of our pupils, though we should have many more in this worthwhile work. Fifty dollars were distributed among the more successful pupils.

We are indebted to the following for their interest as manifested in the donation of money for prizes:—

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The Randolph Trust Co.,
Mr. John Mahoney,
F. W. Hayden Co.,
J. W. Roberts Co.,
Saunders Market.

Hot Cocoa at Noon

In the Prescott school about eighty pupils have the opportunity of obtaining hot cocoa at noon-time. This is of great value to children who bring cold lunches. The Ladies' Library Association for its initiative in the matter and Miss Hopkins for her supervision of the making and serving of the cocoa, are to be commended.

No suitable place seems to have been found to make the cocoa for the children at the Belcher school, so crowded are we for space.

Rules and Regulations

A few years ago the committee adopted Rules and Regulations which embodied a business-like organization of the schools and which prescribed the procedure which should be followed by all those connected with the schools. Without doubt, the regulations would be much more effective if they were printed and distributed.

I submit below a chart which shows graphically what the organization of the schools is in the light of the regulations adopted.

The Ability of a Town to Pay for Schools

The ability of a town to pay for schools is measured by two factors, first, the taxable wealth or valuation, and secondly, the number of pupils in its average school membership. In other words, the figure representing the valuation per pupil in the average membership is a good index of how much the town can afford for each pupil.

For the year ending December 31, 1918, the valuation per pupil in average membership was $3,674.00. Randolph ranked 325 among the other cities and towns in the amount of taxable wealth for each pupil. 324 cities and towns, in other words, out of 354 in the state had a larger amount of taxable property for each pupil than Randolph. The median amount for the state was over $6,000.00.

A community might have sufficient wealth but not tax itself freely for the schools, so it is necessary to know how much was spent for each pupil in support of schools. For the year ending December 31, 1918, Randolph expended for the support of the schools, for each pupil in average membership $35.03, ranking 334 out of 354 cities and towns in the state. While the comparative figures for the year ending December 31, 1920 are not available, I am pleased to state that the average amount expended per pupil for support of schools has advanced from $35.00 in 1918 to $51.00 in 1920, while the proposed increase to go into effect, if adopted by the town either this or the coming year will bring the average cost per pupil in our schools to $60.00 which I believe will compare favorably with any other town in the state of our size and wealth.

Recommendations

1. More Adequate School Accomodations.

This is without doubt not just the time to build, but our inadequate accommodations in the Belcher district should stimulate the committee to an investigation of a proper site with adequate play space and to the type of building which might be best suited to our conditions. In this connection the reorganization of the upper grades into a Junior High School should be considered.

Will the committee not turn to my first report, that of 1918, for a statement of this latter subject?

2. Health.

Health is practically the first duty of man, yet only $100.00 a year is appropriated for health work in the schools. A larger sum of money sufficient to pay a physician for a physical examination of every pupil would be greatly to our advantage. It is generally recognized that relative weight for height and age is an important index to good health. The discovery of the malnourished is an important need. A thorough physical examination for defects could be made preferably in the presence of the parents.

The employment of a school nurse would be most helpful in the general health and cleanliness of our pupils.

3. Teacher for a Special Class.

In every school system there is a group of school children scattered through the various grades that need special help. They may have entered school late because of illness; they may be below their grade because of irregular attendance due to moving from another town; they may be slower in learning. Such pupils can be found in practically every grade where they are not getting the attention they need because the teacher is already engaged with the remaining forty or more pupils. Such pupils are not only not having their own needs met, but they tend to handicap the others who are better graded.

I cannot too strongly recommend that a teacher be employed to give special instruction to these pupils with varying needs. The class should not exceed twenty.

4. Electric Lights.

There are certain parts of the year when two of the rooms in the Belcher school and all of the rooms in the Prescott school are not properly lighted. Electric lights should be installed in these rooms.

5. New Desks.

Many of our rooms have desks in such a poor condition that it is not possible for pupils to use them when writing.

I suggest that two rooms be refurnished with desks each year for a period of years until the rooms are properly equipped with modern adjustable desks.

Summary

1. Curriculum is being made more definite and the correlation of subject matter in the various grades is more marked, making for more effective results.

2. Course in Citizenship is being developed.

3. Daily programs of teachers are being scientifically planned.

4. Poetry is being given its proper place in our literature courses.

5. Town is growing but slowly. Per cent of increase in last twenty years, is less than that of State and Nation.

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

6. Town has less valuation per pupil than most of the cities and towns in the state.

7. Town likewise spends much less per pupil than most cities and towns of the state.

8. However as a result of new school laws, the town treasury is receiving roughly $8,000 a year from the state, which helps to reduce the amount which has to be raised by taxation.

9. An appropriation of $60 per pupil is not too much to look forward to.

10. A modern school building is much needed in the Belcher district.

11. A real need for an appropriation sufficient to pay a school physician enough to thoroughly examine all school children, preferably in presence of parents, and sufficient to employ a school nurse.

12. A teacher should be employed to give instruction to children who need special attention.

13. Electric lights are needed in the Prescott school.

14. A beginning should be made to replace our old desks by new adjustable desks.

15. The maximum high school salary should be raised to $1,500 if the town is to retain its good teachers or if it should be obliged next summer to obtain new teachers of the training and experience needed.

In conclusion, my thanks go to the teachers for their very important aid in improving the internal work of the schools. The two Principals of the elementary schools have been indefatigable in their work. In the resignation of Miss Minnie Feely, the town loses a woman of excellent personality, admirable professional spirit, a strong executive and an effective teacher.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Mr. Dodge, the new Principal has begun his work with great promise.

My thanks also go to the committee for their support and aid.

Respectfully,

JAMES J. QUINN.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL

STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

Trustees of Stetson High School and the Superintendent of Schools:—

Your request for this report comes three weeks before the usual time, and it is hardly possible to give it the necessary attention. It had been the intention to incorporate in the report some statistics gathered in other small high schools, but your early call finds these statistics somewhat incomplete.

Salaries paid to principals and assistant teachers in Massachusetts have been increased during the past year. In our school these salary increases appear to have kept pace with those of many other towns of our size. It remains to be seen whether our present salary-list will prove attractive enough to enable us to retain our teachers. The opinion of the writer is that at least one hundred dollars ought to be added to the amount at present paid each assistant teacher. For a number of years Randolph has been giving a period of training for young teachers who stay just long enough to get the experience necessary to obtain a position in some larger school. It ought to be our purpose to retain good teachers regardless of expense. That is, if a valuable assistant is tempted to leave for a higher salary, then that salary ought to be given her here. This much may be said—nothing can be done for our high school which will yield more beneficial results than to secure and retain good teachers. We owe it to our young people to give them the best. The loyalty of pupils of high school age is very largely loyalty to teachers—that is, the school to them is the teacher who interests and leads them. Conversely, weak inefficient teachers create disloyalty to the school and to the town, and this leads, among other evils, to a rapid withdrawal of pupils from school.

Only one who knows the inner life of a school can realize the menace in this constant change of assistant teachers. We have had for several years so many changes in the personnel of our teaching force that it is not too much to say that our pupils come back to a new school each September. All the ideals established by the teachers of the preceding year are gone, to be gradually replaced by those of their successors. Is it any wonder that pupils leave school? Is it to be wondered at that fault can be found with the effectiveness of our teaching?

This year the number of failures made by pupils coming to us from the grammar schools was unusually large. We sent back all those who at the end of eight weeks had failed in all four of the subjects taken by them as regular work. We still have a number of first-year pupils who have failed in three subjects. We are trying to keep these pupils, but, of course, promotion cannot be given at the end of the year. If a pupil comes to the high school from the grammar school we allow him to remain with us if he can get a passing rank in at least one subject. This is a very low standard of attainment.

The class of 1920 presented to the school in June, a Roll of Honor containing names of all former pupils of the school who had taken part in the Great War. The Honor Roll contains 132 names—a most creditable contribution to the war. It is very handsomely and expensively framed and has attracted much favorable comment from visitors to the school. The work on the tablet is all done by hand and is the contribution of Reginald Hogan, 1919.

Stetson Field has been so much improved that it now ranks as one of the best base ball parks in this part of the state. If the present ratio of improvement is maintained this commendation will certainly be merited. Mr. James A. Brennan deserves all the praise and gratitude which can be given to him for his efforts to give the town and the school a good base ball field. The Stetson Oracle has made the suggestion that the field be named "Brennan Field." The teachers and pupils of Stetson high school most heartily concur in the proposal to name the field after its most liberal benefactor.

Can a small high school fit for college? This question may be answered by saying that such preparation is being given by many small high schools in New England. A very considerable number of our pupils have prepared for, and successfully passed, their college entrance examinations without any other preparation than that afforded here.

What has been done, can be duplicated, and yet no school could guarantee that any individual pupil will pass an entrance examination. One of our pupils obtained 100% in Geometry, taking the College Entrance Examination Board papers. This same pupil passed the algebra examination with a rank of 94 without having taken any review for the test. Only one failure to enter college has occurred in the past 20 years from this school. This statement of course applies only to those who told us they were getting ready to enter college and who gave us time to do our part of the work. In the case of the one who failed there were certain extraneous circumstances which took the blame of failure somewhat away from the school. Even the best fitting schools show a certain percentage of failure, and certainly no small public high school ought to be held to a higher level of attainment than that reached by schools which make it their one aim to prepare pupils for college. If parents will send us pupils of good average ability and let us know in time that the pupil is intending to go to college, we think that we can give a preparation adequate to pass entrance examinations. Certain private schools make it a part of their propaganda to tell parents that the public high school is not able to fit for college. Such a school certainly cannot prepare pupils for college unless the parents send to the school the boys and girls who are wishing to carry their education farther than the secondary school. Stetson high school is today well able to give preparation for college.

Our preparation for office work includes two years in Stenography and three in Typewriting. It is the opinion of the writer that three years might well be given to Stenography. Some pupils who acquire slowly will get the necessary speed and accuracy from a longer course whereas they fall short if the extra time is not given. West Bridgewater, for instance, has changed this year from a two year course in Stenography to one of three years. Newton, while offering a two year course, has a post graduate year for commercial pupils who are given intensive work. Suppose a pupil could not, for some reason, finish his course, but could stay three years; in that case he would have had two years Stenography by the end of his third year, and would then have at least some chance of making good in office work.

Our present Senior class number sixteen—six boys and ten girls. In the Junior class there are twenty-nine—ten boys and nineteen girls. Granting that the senior class is smallest in years, there are some extenuating circumstances which may be considered. It is well to keep in mind that “fewer than one-third of the pupils who enter the four-year high school finish the course.” Bulletin No. 35, Department of the Interior, Bureau of Education. This would give Randolph, normally, somewhat less than twenty graduates of the high school per year. The class of 1921 entered Stetson High School September 1917. At this time the demand for workers to win the war was at its height. The war appeal drew many of the former members of the class away from school, and for a year thereafter there were numerous withdrawals due to the opportunity to earn good wages. Our teachers used their influence against the “blind alley” job, but without stemming the constant loss of pupils. During their Junior year the class of 1921 numbered twenty. Two of this number removed from Randolph, one to Kansas City, and one to Brockton. Two girls of the class left school, in one case much against her wish, to go to work. This reduces the number to sixteen which is really about the normal number for Randolph.

The Department of the Interior, in its pamphlet “Cardinal Principles of Secondary Education” sets forth six main objectives. (1). Health. (2.) Command of Fundamental Processes. (3.) Worthy Home Membership. (4.) Vocation. (5.) Citizenship. (6.) Ethical Character. What is being done in Stetson High School to recognize these aims in education? How far could we go in achieving these desirable ends without spending much more money? Take the first objective, Health. Do we, to mention two important items, care for the teeth of our pupils? Do we give them a hot lunch such as growing boys and girls ought to have? Do we even make any attempt to do these things? A good school certainly ought to have a teacher who looks after the physical well being of its pupils. No other investment the state can make will yield better results than this one. It is beyond dispute that boys and girls are ill-prepared for life unless they have good health, and it is equally true that much may be done by the public school to care for and develop good health.

Without the right kind of school spirit, any high school fails to interest and hold pupils. It is not easy to define school spirit or to tell how it may be secured. Games and entertainments may help to create the right attitude, but no school can hope to have very loyal enthusiastic pupils unless the regular work of the school is well done. Given, as a basis, good class-room work, good discipline, and we may go on to add some of the things which may be said to foster desirable school spirit. The pupil who expects everything to be given to him will never be a very loyal member of the school community. He must give his own best contributions toward good scholarship and discipline before he is a positive value to his class.

FREDERICK E. CHAPIN.

REPORT OF DRAWING SUPERVISOR

Mr. James J. Quinn, Superintendent of Schools:—

I hereby submit my report as Supervisor of Drawing, covering my work in the schools of Randolph.

The aim of the work this year has been to enable the student to adequately express his conception of the objects of his environment, to develop an appreciation of color and design and to stimulate an interest in construction work.

The work of the grades in color and design has been very satisfactory and has been correlated with other school work wherever possible.

The construction work has, of necessity, been quite limited, but it is my desire that this particular branch be enlarged upon. This is one phase of the work in drawing in which both pupils and teacher are deeply interested.

Other work has been accomplished in measuring, printing, object and perspective drawing, representation of the human figure and design.

The classes in High School are well attended but it is to be regretted that more boys do not realize the value of the course in Mechanical Drawing.

In Freehand Drawing considerable work has been done in the practical application of color and design worked out in stencil form and applied to materials such as table runners, bureau scarfs, etc.

If an addition to the High School were ever considered, it would be well to allow for a Drawing room as at present we use a class room which is very inconvenient and unsatisfactory from all standpoints.

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

I wish to thank all those teachers who have given their hearty co-operation in the work and hope the above statements will give an adequate idea of the work being accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,

ELINOR M. KIELY.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

Mr. James J. Quinn, Superintendent:—

It is my pleasure to state that the music throughout the Schools is progressing very favorably.

The percentage of children who do not take an active part in the work is very small, yet altogether too large considering the great amount of proficient and earnest efforts rendered by the teachers in their behalf.

Many and vigorous attempts have been made to spur the diffident children on by means of individual work, etc., but considering the limited amount of time given to music and the various conditions and circumstances connected with the individual, efforts in that direction seem rather futile, however, I think that the general average is excellent.

As the seating capacity of the Assembly Hall in the Stetson High School does not meet the requirement necessary for successful chorus work, I have been obliged to form two singing classes; such a plan entails more time and labor, but in order that each and every child should receive a fair amount of supervision, the plan stated was the only means available for solving the problem.

Very little, if any, money has been expended on music material this last year. It has always been my aim to economize as much as possible in this direction, but at the present time there is an urgent need of material, especially in the High School, and I may add a suitable closet for storing the same. Satisfactory results cannot be obtained without the necessary requirements.

I wish to thank the members of the School Committee, the teachers, and you, Mr. Quinn, for your kindly help and advice, and the teachers for their faithful and efficient efforts.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSE G. HAND,

Supervisor of Music.

All moneys received have been duly accounted for, and no money has been paid out except upon vouchers properly approved. The committee has examined also the securities representing the investment of the funds of the library, and has found them to be intact. No change has been made in these securities since our report for the year 1919 was submitted except that one Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Bond for $1,000 has since matured and the proceeds thereof are presented by a $1,000 Third Liberty bond and a $50 Liberty bond, as listed in the Treasurer's report.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1921.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:—

I have the honor to submit the annual report of the Librarian for the year ending December 31, 1920.

There have been 257 books added to the Library the past year, 203 by purchase, 8 bound magazines and 46 as gifts, from various sources, making 28,083 accessioned volumes.

The American Library Association gave some of the books used in the Library War Service to the Libraries, at the close of the war and through the kindness of Mr. Whitmore, Librarian of the Brockton Library, we received a number of almost new books on business and technical subjects.

The Library has been opened 303 days and 31,864 books have been borrowed and 527 magazines.

In April a renumbering of borrowers' cards was found necessary and up to December 31, 1920, we issued 948 cards. The last registration was in April, 1901.

We have done our usual work with the schools, lending books to the teachers and helping the pupils in reference work. Several sets of pictures from the Geographic Society have been added to our picture collection which the teachers find useful.

The reading room has had its usual number of readers but owing to the absence of a custodian no statistical report can be submitted this year.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The sum of $95.74 received for fines and collections has been turned over to the Treasurer.

The Librarian wishes to take this opportunity to acknowledge the helpful interest of the Trustees and the loyal co-operation of Miss Belcher, her assistant.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER,

Librarian

Randolph, Mass., January 31, 1922

The town in the past has been noted for its beautiful shade trees, but, they are fast being destroyed by various causes. Gas, electric wires, and the various pests, all have a tendency to help destroy the same.

Each year trees are removed and no provisions are made to replace the same.

A small appropriation each year, for the planting of shade and ornamental trees, would help replace the many trees removed each year.

We hope some action will be taken this year, in regard to the planting of new shade trees.

A lot of work still remains to be done on your outlying streets, and a number of large trees are yet to be taken down.

Report submitted by

JOHN T. MOORE,

Tree Warden.

REPORT OF THE LOCAL MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

Randolph, Mass., Jan. 31, 1922.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen,

Gentlemen:

The Gypsy Moth situation in this town remains about the same.

While effective work was done by spraying last year, the woodlands are so badly infested, that while you clean up the residentials and highways, the moths lay the egg clusters again where they fly, and deposit the eggs.

The weather so far this winter has been mild and very favorable for these egg clusters. Creosoting the egg clusters has been carried on this winter and we expect to be able to cover the whole town.

This department has one power sprayer put in first class condition last year. It is recommended that the town procure a truck. More effective work can be done, and more ground covered than by using a horse to draw the apparatus. For a small amount a suitable truck could be obtained, and we would be able to save time, and reach all the people, and parts of the town.

A warning was sent out last year from the office of the State Forrester, in regard to the destruction of the Brown Tail Moth which has made its appearance again, and is more destructive to the fruit trees than the Gypsy Moth. I destroyed a large number last spring in some sections of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Local Moth Supt.

To the Trustees of Turner Free Library:—

The report of the librarian statistically showing in detail the doings, management and results of the various departments of the library and the reports of the Treasurer showing the investment of the funds and the receipts and expenditures of the library are hereunto subjoined.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1922.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

I have the honor to submit the annual report of the librarian for the year ending December 31, 1921.

There have been 240 books added to the library the past year, 192 by purchase, 17 bound magazines and 30 as gifts from various sources. The totals number of accessioned volumes is now 28,324.

Two of our gift books, "The Knights of Columbus in Peace and War," were presented by the Vera Cruz Council, No. 129, Knights of Columbus. Dr. Frank C. Granger presented us with some old-time singing books, one published in 1829.

For several months we have had the loan of the Traveling Library sent out by the Woman's Educational Union. This collection consists of books on arts and crafts, which have been circulated the same as our own books.

The library has been opened 303 days and 34,376 books have been circulated, a gain over last year. There were 481 unbound magazines circulated.

We have issued 304 borrowers' cards, making a total of 1,252 cards, most of which are in constant use.

The work with the schools has been carried on as usual. We keep several of the teachers in the lower grades supplied with ten or a dozen books at a time for use in the school room.

We have done more reference work than usual this year, a greater part being with the High School pupils and the students attending school out of town. Our greatest help in this work is the magazine index, which makes available the valuable material on all subjects coming out in the weekly and monthly magazines.

The reading room is well patronized. We have added a new magazine, "The Open Road," for boys and young men. We have also renewed our subscription to "Forecast," a magazine devoted to up-to-date ideas on foods, cooking and health.

It has been necessary to make a rule that no one under 14 shall use the reading room in the evening. As we are opened three afternoons in the week we feel the children have ample opportunity to have their share in the room. It would be to the advantage of the librarians and the adult patrons, as well as to the children themselves, if the children should come to the library only during the afternoon sessions, but it is difficult to know how to bring this about.

The sum of $115.31 received for fines and collections has been turned over to the Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER,

Librarian.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Report of the School Committee

Randolph, December 30, 1921.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The School Committee hereby submits its annual report for the year ending December 30, 1921.

During the past year, your committee has had a number of problems to meet. First, in an unusual large enrolment of pupils in our schools. A number of our teachers, having more pupils than they can care for in a satisfactory manner. This is especially true of the school at the "West Corners," where we have been obliged to divide the school into a morning and afternoon session. This must be remedied as soon as possible, and provision made to care for the other rooms where an excess of numbers exists.

The number of pupils enrolled in the High School is large, 186, thirty one more than last year. Some provision must be made for larger accommodations in this building.

Several new teachers have been added to our force this year, Mr. Charles O. Ruddy as principal of the Prescott School, Miss Virginia Murphy at the Prescott School, Miss Mary O'Brien at the "West Corners", all of whom have been doing most excellent work. In the High School we were fortunate in securing Miss Marion F. Hutchings for the commercial department, and Mr. Hubert Powderly as teacher of Latin and History, and their work has been most satisfactory.

The Prescott School building has been painted in a thorough manner. Upon this building we were obliged to expend over $200.00 to repair the damage caused by the "explosion" last spring. In the spring Mr. McKeever of the Department of Public Safety of the State visited our schools and ordered better fire protection over the boilers in both of the Prescott buildings; his orders were carried out. At the same time we were told by Mr. McKeever to place Fire escapes on the Belcher school building. This was done and at quite an expense. We feel, however, that this necessary expense should not count where the safety of the pupils is considered.

Last summer a plot of land was purchased on the north side of "School Lane", and a cesspool built, which we hope will do away with any over-flow, such as we have had at the Belcher School in the past. The sanitary conditions at this school—while not ideal—are the best that have prevailed for some time.

At the close of the school year in June we received the resignation of Mr. James J. Quinn our School Superintendent, who left us to enter a larger field, and one with a more promising future, also with a much larger salary. Mr. Quinn had been with us for four years, during which time he was most successful in bringing our school system up to a very high standard. He was a man of fine personality, thoroughly educated for the work, and in every way conversant in all school law. It was with regret that we received his resignation.

During the summer the joint board met and elected Mr. Adolph O. Christiansen as Superintendent. Mr. Christiansen comes to us highly recommended and although he has been with us but a few months is entering upon the work with earnestness and efficiency. We hope our citizens will give his report careful consideration.

Our School Nurse, Miss Dorr in conjunction with our School Physician Dr. Higgins is caring in a most thorough manner for the health of the pupils in our schools.

The reports of the different departments of our School system follow as do the receipts and expenditures for 1921.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

During the year 1921, the schools in our town were free from any serious contagion. As in every town we have in Randolph, small outbreaks of Diptheria, Scarlet Fever and Measles. But during the past year nothing developed to cause alarm among the Board of Health in our town.

During the year 1921 the State Legislature enacted a bill compelling all towns with a valuation of one million dollars to employ a School Nurse, beginning January 1, 1922.

Your School Committee believing that the beginning of the school year was the proper time to start the new work among the children, they in July elected Miss Grace M. Dorr school nurse for our town. Miss Dorr commenced her duties in September 1921. She has been most helpful in the few months of her employ, being especially alert in overcoming any serious disease by reporting any suspicious case to your school physician.

We have tried very hard to banish from our schools, the head lice pest, and in some cases have done so, but it will take a great deal of time on the part of the parent, nurse, and child to overcome this trouble.

Tonsils and adenoids are receiving more attention, but by far too many parents over look the importance of the notice sent home in regard to same. Children after having their tonsils and adenoids removed soon show an improvement in general health, and a marked improvement in school work.

Removal of tonsils and adenoids should be given great consideration by the parent, as the best results can be obtained only by employing surgeons, qualified in that particular branch of surgery. The recurrence of tonsils and adenoids after operation in children is the result of employing men not qualified to perform such operations.

Overcrowding in some of the rooms still exist, and especially is this so in our High School. A building that was originally planned for one hundred and twenty pupils has been accomodating one hundred and eighty-five. This overcrowding is not good for the general health of growing children especially at the High School age. Something must be done in regard to enlarging our High School or the health of the pupils will suffer.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Randolph::

In accordance with your request, I herewith submit my annual report of the public schools of Randolph.

I desire at the offset to express to you my appreciation of the trust and confidence placed in me by extending to me this opportunity of service as superintendent of your schools. Undoubtedly the strongest and most effective way to express this gratitude is to translate it into faithful service and judicious actions. To every pupil, every teacher and school, therefore, this service is extended. This with your counsel and advice together with cooperation in and out of schools can react in no other way than for the benefits of the school children for which we all serve.

Enrollment

The enrollment this year was large and taxed our school capacity severely. The total for all schools was nine hundred eighty pupils distributed as follows:

Stetson High School	179
Prescott Grammar	273
Prescott Primary	143
Belcher	286
West Corners	53
Tower Hill	46

Total this year	980
Total last year	919

The annual increase in our school population points clearly to a time when the town must take some measure to release the congested conditions now existing. Aside from the over-crowded classes in the High School, 55 per cent of our grade teachers have classes each with an enrollment of forty-five pupils or more while five teachers alone are patiently yet energetically working with classes with individual enrollments of fifty or more children. It is sincerely hoped that the citizens of Randolph will respond to your plea for better school accommodations so that both pupils and teachers alike may find better working conditions so essential to best educational results.

Survey

Owing to the short period of time with you, I have necessarily confined my work, at least in part, to a study of the conditions such as I have found them. Aside from the condition mentioned above, I am pleased to note what I choose to call a well defined educational or professional attitude among the teachers. It is in itself a product of service and thought, not complete nor perfect, but present and casting an influence which is being felt more and more every day. I have found strong traces and examples of work carried on by Mr. Quinn, your former superintendent. It was a great comfort to note the uniformity of work outlined, instruction in reading from books of known value, accomplishments in penmanship and playground supervision. These form a nucleus of attainments around which further work can be carried on.

Arithmetic

This subject is rich in content but lacking in aim for general use. There is by far too much material in the average arithmetic for a teacher to cover in an allotted time and in a specified grade. In the faithful attempt to teach this mass of material, particularly in the four upper grades, teachers must necessarily hurry and cram despite educational objectives and theories to the contrary. Pupils do not "get" arithmetic under such conditions. Thinking is discouraged because of too many failures brought about by unassimilated facts. To overcome this, arithmetic must be simplified on the basis of what is most useful to the average person.

It is the purpose, therefore, to emphasize the four fundamentals throughout the grades. Teach decimals, fractions, per cent and simple interest from the point of view of application with plenty of practice and drill in every day problems. Oral and sight arithmetic must be included in this for such is our conversational, street, and shopping arithmetic.

Spelling

Although the Boston word list acts as a key to our spelling attainment, it is the opinion of those who have watched the progress in spelling that something more tangible to the common use of words as found in books, conversations, etc., should be used by way of teaching spelling in the grades. A spelling list, as such and in its abstract form, can hardly fix the words in the minds of the pupils much less teach the use of words as related to and associated with other words to express thoughts. The Boston list like other lists was the result of a needed study in this subject. Excellent at the time but gradually diminishing in usefulness as we allow it to become static and do not incorporate the words in language form from which it was originally extracted. Reading, writing and spelling must necessarily run in parallels.

Teachers

The disturbing factor found in the annual change of teachers is not so great here as in some towns. I am pleased to state that the new teachers have entered upon their work well and will produce results. Our staff, moreover has been strengthened this year by the addition of two new men teachers, Mr. Powderly of the High School and Mr. Ruddy as principal of the Prescott School.

Randolph, like any other city or town, possesses a group of teachers who, because of their professional training, activities, and love of service, are constantly contributing something of value and particular interest to their pupils whether in school or out. It is true, much of this activity and child-interest is never seen by the casual observer, nevertheless it is present and faithfully carried on. To such teachers, therefore, who have the time and the desire to render such extra services or who may wish to pursue some special educational study during the year, some recognition in the form of an increase should be made. An expenditure in this direction would, I believe, be a distinct investment for every boy and girl in school.

Medical Inspection and School Nurse

The recent State law which made it obligatory on the part of the town to employ a school nurse will do much for the cause of health. Miss Dorr, the School nurse, has been of invaluable assistance to Dr. Higgins in the examination and care of our school children. Follow up work is necessary and a nurse is particularly adapted and fitted for that service. Parents have likewise given this their careful attention knowing well that the health of one child has much to do with the health of another.

Cooperating Organizations

The independability of the schools as something apart from the community is a thing impossible. To function with the community the schools must be a part of that community and must in turn receive the sympathetic interest and support of its citizen members.

American Legion—No organization today can speak with greater force and authority as to the value of an education than the men under this standard who, only recently in our great national emergency, underwent the severest educational and physical strain known in history. As a result of this experience, their faith in the public schools, the teaching of democratic ideals and true Americanism was manifested last December by their appeal through the American Commission to set aside each year a special Educational Week for the advancement, support and betterment of public schools.

Randolph Grange—We wish to extend our thanks to the members of the local Grange for the interest taken in the school garden project, for the creditable exhibit held last Fall and for the money prizes awarded a number of the children through the cooperation of the Randolph Trust Company.

Much credit is likewise due the Red Cross Organization and the Visiting Nurse Association for their sympathetic and cooperative interest shown in the schools.

Recommendations

Mindful of the ever increasing school bill and the town's taxing power to raise money, I hesitate to mention any new project save that which now forces itself upon us regardless of likes and dislikes:

Because of the crowded conditions in the High school and similar conditions in the Prescott and Belcher schools, it is only too aparent that the town now faces a necessary building program or expansion somewhere in order to provide adequate accomodations for its school population. To add to the old grammar school buildings or to build another small elementary school in the center of the town does not appear to be economically sound or educationally wise. That more room must be provided is the underlying factor as an aid towards such a solution I am submitting the following plan for your consideration:

Project.

1. Build out in back the two unfinished wings of the Stetson high school and extend the assembly hall correspondingly, adding thereby five or six class rooms; a hall to seat three hundred and a space below it for gymnasium or other developments.

2. Make the high school a six or even a five-year school unit by taking grades seven and eight from the two elementary schools and housing them in the enlarged high school, thus leaving plenty of room in the Prescott and Belcher schools for further growth.

3. Organize the High school on the basis of a Junior and Senior high school, each distinct by itself and with its own staff of teachers but both functioning as a school unit under one principal.

Advantages.

1. A permanent school building which would not only relieve the congestion now and for the next eight to ten years but could at any time in the future be again turned over to a regular senior high school without alteration.

2. Both schools in the same building would be able to use certain units in common such as for example, the auditorium, science laboratories, apparatus, athletic field and gymnasium facilities.

3. It would provide superior instruction through departmental teaching. Your present seventh and eighth grade teacher can undertake the instruction with very little difficulty due to readjustment.

4. Promotion would be by subjects and not grades. Classification and grading of abilities would be for the benefit of the pupils.

5. The plan would hold and assist the pupils over that sudden and dreaded step between the grammar and the high school by introducing subjects now confined to the high school.

6. The hours of the school would be like those of the high school. More time could be given each pupil, more time to the arts, elementary sciences, clubs, and kindred subjects all of which are known to vitalize school work, and do more than the old plan toward making the pupil happy and more contented in school.

In closing my report I wish to reaffirm my previous statements, thanking the committee, parents, teachers and organizations for their assistance in this work.

Respectfully submitted,

A. O. CHRISTIANSEN.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL

Stetson High School

Randolph, Mass., January 18, 1922
Trustees of Stetson High School and Superintendent of Schools,
Gentlemen:

It seems advisable to use the space assigned to the report of the principal of the high school for the insertion of the names of the graduates of the classes of 1919 and 1920 together with the graduation programs. For a considerable number of years these programs have been printed in the annual town report; the list of graduates for the years 1919-1920 and 1921 would in this way be brought to date. Each of these classes contributed a tablet to the school, and cuts of their gifts accompany the names of the graduates. The class of 1921 gave to the school a bronze tablet in honor of Amasa Stetson, the founder of Stetson School, and it is fitting that the cut of their tablet be preserved in the town report for the year 1921.

Our register since September shows a total of 186 pupils, a number much in excess of that for which the building was planned. The assembly Room is limited by the state inspector to 115, so that it has been difficult for us this year to use this room for general assembly purposes. Our recitation rooms, always abnormally small, have been further crowded by using the remnants of floor space for additional desks, and by crowding two rows of desks together. We have been obliged to seat a considerable number of pupils in the laboratory, a practice which is not at all desirable. Some relief, at least, from this crowded condition should be offered by the Trustees of the School. Any addition to the school should include a suitable room for the typewriting department, and, if possible, a good-sized store room should be provided for supplies. This is only a very general reference to the need for relief from the crowded condition of the school.

The class of 1924 have presented to the school a settle of antique design which has proved a very acceptable addition to our school furnishings. Books have been added to the School Library from the Seth Turner Reference Fund, so that our facilities for general reference are really very satisfactory.

The lists of names, programs, and cuts referred to above are appended.

REPORT OF THE DRAWING SUPERVISOR

Mr. Adolph O. Christiansen, Superintendent of Schools:

I hereby submit my report as supervisor of drawing, covering the work for the year in the schools of Randolph:

The chief aim of the work in drawing in the public schools is not, as some people think, to make artists of children, but to help them see things clearly, to use their hands skillfully, to give another language in which to express their ideas and to develop the power to appreciate a piece of fine work and the ability to discriminate between good and bad designs.

To develop this taste for art has been my particular desire and with that in mind I have from time to time taken groups of high school students into the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

The work in the High School is progressing both in freehand and mechanical drawing. In freehand drawing considerable has been done with color and design, which has been applied in stencil form to materials such as table runners, bags, dresses, etc.

The drawing in the grades shows a great improvement over last year, especially in construction work and in the conception of form and color.

Other work has been accomplished in printing, object and perspective drawing and measuring.

Whenever possible I have tried to correlate the work in drawing with other school work.

In closing I wish to thank all the teachers for their keen interest and cooperation and trust that I have given an accurate idea of the work being accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,

ELINOR M. KIELY.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. Adolph Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools:
Dear Sir:—

It is my pleasure to state that the music throughout our schools is at a very encouraging point; I find that the average child has a very good knowledge of music and its fundamentals.

Feeling assured that our past efforts in vocal music has gained recognition, I have focused my attention on the development of what I know must be very practical in the school and future life of the child, namely: "the creating of a school orchestra."

Many of our leading educators have acknowledged that no study included in the school curriculum of either grade or high school, has as much general educational value as the study of music; as the reading of music notation requires a greater degree of combined speed and accuracy than is necessary in any other vocation. As this is true, why deny those children who have few advantages offered them, because of insufficient resources at home, an art of such educational value, Is not the school the center wherein latent talent may be discovered and aroused, and where all may receive equal advantages?

It is my aim therefore to endeavor to add to their humble store of musical knowledge, by opening the way to another branch of the art, namely, "Instrumental Music."

The opportunity is now possible where the children musically inclined may develop their smouldering talent by acquiring a knowledge of the wind and stringed instruments used in orchestral playing, thereby training the mind and fingers to preserve joy and happiness in the home, and which may help financially and socially in after life.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

After a very careful survey and investigation of the grades, my efforts and expectations were richly rewarded with a hearty response on the part of the children and parents.

After submitting my plans and report to Mr. Christian-sen and the School Committee, I am further pleased to state that it met with their unanimous approval. A noteworthy encouragement was made manifest on the part of the teachers, by furthering this project.

My next step was to place the matter in the hands of Mr. Frederick W. J. Lewis, a professional musician of wide experience in teaching and training boys and girls in orchestra and band instruments.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSE G. HAND,

Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

Mr. Adolph O. Christiansen, Superintendent of Schools:

School nursing in Randolph has been rather difficult because of the newness of the department. However, I hope conditions will be improved the last six months of this year.

Each child has been examined as regards teeth, head, throat, skin and general appearance and has been weighed and measured. In comparing these weights and measurements with the State measuring chart, I found fifteen per cent of the pupils five pounds or over, underweight. About three-fourths of these pupils has decayed, unclean teeth.

Notices have been sent to the parents of those found with tonsils which need attention. If some of the parents would realize how these enlarged, diseased tonsils affect the child's physical condition as well as the intelligence, I think that instead of calling it a "foolish idea" they would consult their family physician for advice.

A great deal of time and stress was given to pupils found with head lice and nits. Some were excluded from school because of failure to remove the vermin in the specified length of time.

A recess lunch of milk and crackers is being enjoyed by a large number of pupils in most of the schools. Bubble drinking fountains have been installed in the West Corners and Tower Hill schools.

Because of the extremely large number of pupils who need dental attention, a well organized, systematic dental clinic should be established. I am pleased to say that the plans have already been made for this essential factor in the schools.

I find that about three-fourths of the pupils are not vaccinated. Pupils who are vaccinated, as a rule, have come from schools in other cities and towns.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE M. DORR, R. N.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following regulations, until further notice, shall be considered a part of the contract with every person who uses water:

1. All applications for use of water must be made at the office of the Water Commissioners, and state fully the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Water will not be introduced into any building or premises except on the written application of the owner thereof, or by a duly authorized agent. The property will in all cases be held responsible for the water rates.

2. All persons taking water must keep their water pipes and fixtures in good repair and protect from the frost at their own expense. They will be held liable for all damages resulting from their failure to do so. They shall prevent all unnecessary waste, and water shall not be left running to prevent freezing. The Water Commissioners or their agent may, from time to time, ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of its use, and whether there is any unnecessary waste. They and their agents shall have free access to the premises supplied, to examine the apparatus, and if any fixtures are found not to be in good order, they shall direct them repaired, and if not repaired within two days the water shall be shut off and not let on again until such repairs are made, and the sum of two dollars paid for shutting off and turning on the water.

3. The occupant of any premises, when unnecessary waste of water occurs, shall be liable to a fine of two dollars for the first offence, and four dollars for the second offence during the same year, and shall be notified thereof in writing; and if such waste is not prevented and the fine aforesaid paid within two days from the time when the said

notice is given, the water shall be shut off the premises, and shall not be again let on for the same occupant until the waste be stopped and the fine paid, together with an additional sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water, and in case of a third or subsequent offence the water shall be shut off, and shall not again be let on except by a vote of the Water Commissioners and the payment of such fine, not exceeding ten dollars, as the Water Commissioners may impose.

4. Any person supplied with water shall not allow another to take water from their fixtures without the written permission of the Water Commissioners. If any tenant having no fixtures, has any use of such fixtures full rates will be charged for such use by each tenant.

5. All persons using water for building purposes are required to obtain a permit from the Water Commissioners before taking water from any faucet or fixture connected with the water works, and all water takers are warned not to let any party take water from their premises until they show a permit from the Water Commissioners. Any person furnishing water in violation of this section will be subject to a fine not less than five or more than twenty dollars, and if the same when levied is not paid within three days from the time when the notice thereof is given, the water will be shut off from the premises and will not be let on again until such fine is paid.

7. All fixtures and water closets and urinals must be of a kind and quality approved by the Water Commissioners.

8. No person shall in any case be allowed to open any fire hydrants except by a written permit from the Water Commissioners; but the Engineers of the Fire Department shall in all cases have control of hydrants at fires and for practice.

9. The Commissioners reserve the right to restrict the use of hose or fountain, to shut off the water in all cases when it becomes necessary to make extensions or repairs, or for violations of any of the regulations, or whenever they deem it expedient.

10. The regulate rates for the use of water shall be payable in advance on the first days of January and July of each year, except where water is supplied to manufacturers by special agreement. In all cases of non-payment of the water rates within ten days after same is due, as well as for any violation of these rules and regulations, the supply will be shut off, and the water will not again be let on except upon the payment of the amount due, and the sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water.

11. The Water Commissioners reserve the right to change the water rates at any time, except in cases of dwelling houses and established special rates.

12. For business requiring large quantities of water and all supplies not enumerated in the tariff of rates, special rates will be made.

13. Parties using water for manufacturing or domestic purposes can erect hydrants on their grounds or standpipes in their buildings to be used only as a protection against fire without additional charge for water.

14. All service pipes will be put in by the Water Commissioners. All applicants for the introduction of service pipes into their premises are required to make written application therefor at the office of the Water Commissioners. The Commissioners may then proceed to lay the necessary service pipes to the interior of the building, provided all expense incurred beyond the line of the street shall be paid by the owner of the premises, who shall thereafter maintain and keep the same in good order at his own cost; and the same shall be at all times subject to the control of the Commissioners. All applicants for whom the pipe is laid will

REPORT OF OVERSEERS OF POOR

The Overseers of Poor submit the following report for the year 1922.

The Almshouse remains in charge of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Sullivan as Warden and Matron, and has been inspected by members of this board at regular intervals, has always been found clean and neat, thoroughly painted inside early in the year by the Warden and inmates, the grounds and surroundings kept in good order, the inmates well taken care of, good food, and plenty of it, well served, in fact the inmates seem to be perfectly satisfied as no complaint has reached us by either inmates, taxpayers or State Inspectors. We feel that everything is done for the inmates of the Almshouse that is necessary to make their burden as light as possible.

Could we have taken the receipts coming to the almshouse for board of inmates, sale of produce and the net expenses for 1922 would have been $2,559.25.

During the year twenty-five persons have been supported at the almshouse for a total of 809 3-7 weeks.

There are at present sixteen inmates of whom three are paying their board.

Realizing the feeling that seemed to exist at the annual town meeting we could not do as much for the outside poor as a great many people wished.

The expense under the Mothers' Aid Act, during the year was more than anticipated and caused a large overdraft in 1922, yet we believe that the expenses of this department will be much less in 1923.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Collections for aiding poor of other towns for reimbursements of other departments, etc., have been attended to promptly.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT T. McAULIFFE,

RICHARD F. FORREST,

JAMES E. FOLEY,

Overseers of Poor, Randolph.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

1922

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

To the Voters of Randolph:

In presenting the Selectmen's report for the year 1922, we take pleasure in saying that we strove throughout the year to fulfill the wishes of the voters as expressed in Town Meeting.

The account of expenditures appended herewith will show a net overdraft of $1,534.95, which was caused by paying old bills contracted from three to six years ago, to the State Department of Public Welfare, the City of Boston, and some more recent bills to the City of Brockton, amounting in all to $1,927.54. However, as there was more than this amount collected from various sources and paid into the Treasurer, there will be no need of any appropriation for the overdraft.

Our aim has been to give the best administration possible with the limited amount of money appropriated to the departments.

We thank the citizens for their kindly advice and co-operation throughout the year.

ROBERT T. McAULIFFE,

RICHARD F. FORREST,

JAMES E. FOLEY,

Selectmen.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

TAX COLLECTOR'S REPORT

Randolph, Mass., January 13th, 1923.
To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph and to all others who may be interested:

Your Tax Collector has proven beyond all reasonable doubt that the voters made no mistake when they re-nominated and elected me as their Tax Collector. I have been faithful to my obligation and I ask you all to weigh the evidence as presented to you above and below. With great pleasure I present to you exact copies of the findings of your Collector's books by our official Auditor for years 1920, 1921, 1922.

Again I repeat, results counts.

Thanking you all most heartily for your ever-ready response to my earnest appeals, I am

Yours sincerely,

WALTER H. LYONS,

Tax Collector.

To the Voters of The Town of Randolph :

To start with the first part of April I had some very bad holes on South, Cottage, Vine and Maple streets, when the frost was leaving the ground. Then the scraper was got out but very little scraping was done, on account of the small appropriation.

Gravel was put on the following streets: Mill, Short, Canton, Chestnut, South, Maple, Howard, Center, High, Oak and Lafayette. All the catch basins were cleaned out in the Spring and again in the Fall.

Sidewalks were built in several parts of the town, No. Main, West, South, Cottage, Warren, School and Short streets. Tar Patches were put on North, Cottage, West, Warren and Union streets and on account of the bad holes I had to go over them the second time with a finer grade of stone. Then tarvia was applied on Union north as far as the bridge and on Cottage and Warren streets to the railroad bridge.

Fences were repaired on North, Lafayette and West streets. The stone bridge was fixed on Highland avenue. The last part of the season several big boulders were taken out on Center street.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. TRUELSON,

Highway Surveyor.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

To the Citizens of Randolph:

Pursuant to the provision of Article 3 of the By-Laws of the Turner Free Library, this the forty-seventh annual report is submitted, showing the condition of the trust, consisting of the building, library and funds, together with the reports of the Librarian and Treasurer and so much of the reports submitted by the various committees to the Trustees as seem of general interest.

The Library Committee, consisting of Winthrop B. Atherton, Mrs. Helen W. Pratt, Herbert F. French, Frank W. Belcher and Charles C. Farnham, with the assistance of the Librarian, has found the books, charts and furnishings in good condition. All books were accounted for by the Librarian.

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1923.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

At the present time there are some quite necessary repairs needed to the building and an appropriation of $150 is requested.

WINTHROP B. ATHERTON
N. IRVING TOLMAN
FRANK W. BELCHER

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1923.

To the Trustees of Turner Free Library:

Your Committee on Finance submits the following report:

The Committee has audited the accounts of the Treasurer for the year 1922, and found them correct. All money received have been duly accounted for, and no money has been paid out except upon vouchers properly approved.

The Committee has examined, also, the securities representing the investment of the funds of the Library and has found them to be intact.

ASA P. FRENCH, Chairman.

It is gratifying to note that the Library is becoming more and more of benefit to the citizens of the town. This is shown in the report of the Librarian where it is stated that 239 new borrowers applied during the past year. Instances occur from time to time showing that many of the citizens of the town, including some of the older ones, do not realize the scope or the benefits to be derived from the use of the Library. The more than 28,000 volumes cover a wide field of reading and the many popular magazines received weekly and monthly offer an opportunity for one to pass interesting and instructive hours in the quiet of the pleasant reading room. We are fortunate in having in Miss Alice M. Belcher a librarian intensely interested in her work and ever alert to grasp new methods and improvements of benefit to the library. Always willing to assist an applicant in the selection of books for reading or reference and with the co-operation of her assistants we have one of the best conducted libraries of its size in the East.

On the last day of the year John V. Beal, Esquire, the only survivor of the original Trustees, passed on to his Reward. The unanimous action of the Board of Trustees regarding his decease accompanies this report.

The report of the Librarian statistically showing in detail the doings, management and results of the various departments of the library and the report of the Treasurer showing the investment of the funds and the receipts and the expenditures of the library are hereby subjoined.

Respectfully submitted,

WINTHROP B. ATHERTON,

President of the Board of Trustees.

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1923.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1923.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

I have the honor to submit my report for the year ending December 31, 1922.

While the year just closed has, I trust, been one of general progress, there is little change to report in the regular routine work, or any new work undertaken in the different departments.

Most of our time and effort is necessarily confined to the work at the desk, reference work, cataloguing, mending and the general work that must be done every day in a library. Therefore, the time for new activities is limited.

During the year 244 volumes have been added to the library making the total of accessioned books, 28,568. Of the additions 212 have been acquired by purchase, 7 by the binding of periodicals and 25 by gift. We have also received numerous pamphlets from various sources.

The library has been opened to the Public 303 days, the total circulation being 30,430. There have been 435 unbound magazines circulated. The total number of borrowers is now 1491.

The sum of $111.60 has been received for fines and collections and turned over to the Treasurer.

It is encouraging to note that we have an increasing number of readers who enjoy books on travel, history, science and biography. Wells' "Outline of History" has had many readers; the "Autobiography of Edward Bok" has had a steady demand and the "Outline of Science" by Thomson, recently added, is being called for.

While books of fiction have their place, and in a

Public Library the greater demand is, as it is expected to be, for current fiction, a library serves the community best, when people look to it for help and information along all lines of knowledge, rather than for mere entertainment.

That our library does serve the community in this way, is shown by the readers of non-fiction, also by those who visit our reference department. This department is well patronized, both by students and those looking for information on different subjects. Every effort is made to assist these patrons and if the information or book desired is not available in our library, we are glad to send to one of the larger libraries for it. We have done this several times in the past year.

The reading room is well patronized but we wish there might be more adult readers. We have twenty-one monthly magazines and six weeklies on our tables; a number of these being circulated after they have been on the reading room table for a week or a month.

Our number of borrowers is increasing, 239 new applications being received this year. It is interesting to note that many of the people moving into the town, find the way to the library after a few weeks' residence. They are always cordially welcomed and every effort made to make them feel the privileges of the library are theirs.

This year the principal work with the schools has been in assisting the pupils who have come to the library for reference work.

In the Fall Miss E. Louise Jones, Field Secretary of the Massachusetts Library Commission, spent two days at the Library, examining the books and discarding those that were out of date, in all departments. This gives more shelf room which was much needed.

In February, Miss Sarah C. Belcher, assistant librarian, was granted a leave of absence for three months, which she spent in traveling, visiting among other places of interest, the Panama Canal and Honolulu. During her absence Miss Dorothy Harris who had been a substitute for some time took her place and did excellent work.

I wish to thank Miss Belcher at this time for her loyal support and the Trustees for their interest in the work of the library.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER, Librarian.

RESOLUTION

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

The Trustees of the Turner Free Library desire to spread upon the records of the Board their profound sense of the loss which they and the community which the Library serves have sustained by the death, at his home in Randolph on December 31, 1922, of JOHN V. BEAL, Esquire, who, until recently, and for many years, has held the office of President of the Trustees.

Mr. Beal was the son of Col. Eleazer and Mary (Thayer) Beal, and was born in Randolph on July 3, 1842. He has lived here all his life. He was educated in the public schools of his native town, and at Phillips Andover Academy from which he graduated in 1863. Because of ill health he was regretfully obliged to forego the college course for which he had fitted himself, and, from the time of his graduation from Andover until 1871, he taught school.

Mr. Beal attended the Harvard Law School for a year and received the degree of Bachelor of Laws in that institution in 1872. He thereupon entered the law-office of Jewell, Gaston & Field in Boston. Mr. Gaston subsequently became Governor of the Commonwealth, and Mr. Field Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court. He remained in this office until he was admitted to the Suffolk Bar on June 10, 1873. Upon his admission, he began the practice of law and remained actively engaged in that profession, with an office in Boston, until a year before his death. His reputation as a lawyer was an enviable one. His honor and integrity were above reproach, and his fidelity to his clients brought him a large and lucrative practice. He was always interested in the welfare of Randolph, and was ever ready to devote his time and energy to matters in which its interests were involved. For many years he was Chairman of the Appropriation and Finance Committee of the Town, and town counsel. In 1911, he served as representative to the General Court from the Ninth Norfolk District.

He was also deeply interested in church affairs, was a member of the First Congregational Church of Randolph, and, from 1890 to 1896 Superintendent of its Sunday School.

From the date of its foundation until his death he was president of the Trustees of the Seth Mann 2nd Home for Aged and Infirm Women, in Randolph.

On May 10, 1910, he married Edith Alden Belcher, who survives him.

It is especially, however, to his services as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Turner Library that our tribute of respect and gratitude is directed. At his death, he was the only survivor of the original Trustees named in the deed of the Turner family under which the Library was founded, in 1875, and his interest in it was unceasing and active until a short time before his death. He was president of the Board from April 15, 1907 until April 17, 1922, when he resigned.

The loss which this institution and his associates on the Board of Trustees have suffered by reason of his death cannot be exaggerated. It is fair to say that his interest in the development of the Library has been deep and constant, and has been reflected in the administration of its affairs to a greater degree, perhaps, than that of any other individual member of the Board. To it he gave a considerable portion of the leisure moments of a busy lawyer, and that the Library has efficiently performed its highly important purpose in the community is in no small degree due to him.

We are confident that our appreciation of his services to the town, not only in connection with the Library, but in other positions of trust and importance to which we have alluded, will be universally shared by his fellow citizens. The place in the community rendered vacant by the death of a man of his character and ability is one which it is difficult, if not impossible, to fill.

Report of the School Committee

Randolph, December 31, 1922.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

We submit herewith our Annual Report as required by law, calling your particular attention to the report of our superintendent wherein is outlined to you, as thoroughly as is possible to give it in a necessarily condensed form the urgent and pressing requirement of a comprehensive addition to our High School sufficient to take care of the overcrowding at that school, as well as relieve the prevailing congestion existing at the Belcher and Prescott Schools.

Had provision for possible growth of the school population been made at the time of the erection of the High School somewhat over 10 years ago, space might now be available to provide for our present day increased attendance, and construction could then have been erected at one-half the approximate cost of present day building costs.

We urge that the present day enlargement be made sufficient to meet reasonable expectation of growth in the school population, thereby profiting by the example of the 1909 High School construction.

In connection with the pressing need of action on this matter, we direct your attention to repeated calls which we have had from the State Department of Public Safety calling our attention to and pointing out the need of immediate provision to remedy the present existing overcrowding in the schools of Randolph, particularly the Belcher, Prescott and High Schools.

In case of failure to provide for this existing contingency, we submit that the responsibility, therefore, will rest with the citizens of the Town, the school board, to the best of its ability, having called your attention to the situation.

Increasing School Costs

We note with increasing concern the growing Annual School Budget. We wish that this were avoidable or remediable, but regret to state, however, that it is not. As children come along their education must be provided for by the community. Like everything else the cost of education has been growing by leaps and bounds since pre war days; with a proportionate increase in the school population commensurate with a similar growth in the town population.

It behooves all who feel the pinch of taxation to manifest more than a passing interest in the schools, to learn the why and wherefores of these expenditures, to show a public spirited co-operation with the school authorities in these matters for economic as well as educational reasons.

Gift

We gratefully acknowledge the gift of a tract of land for playground, near the Belcher School, presented by Mrs. Helen W. Pratt.

Repairs

We have endeavored to put all buildings and sanitary connections pertaining thereto, in the best possible condition, consistent with the amount of money available for this purpose. Two or three things yet remain to be done; namely, the improving and renovating of all the old school desks; the relaying with hard pine of many of the badly worn floors and freshly painting and kalsomining most of the school rooms, to give them a better, lighter and more cheerful appearance.

All of this cannot be done in one year, but if a small amount is voted for this purpose each year considerable progress may be made each year.

Transportation

There is no legal compulsion for transportation within the two mile limit; the matter of granting free conveyance to those within that limit rests within the discretion of the school committee. As the Tower Hill and North Randolph districts are provided for by school which accommodate their six grades, and as West Corner has accommodation for the first three grades and is just about within a mile of the Belcher School for the remaining upper grades, we have no problem to meet in these localities.

As the children from the south end of the Town from the vicinity of the residence of Edwin Knight and beyond have no school in that locality, we give the children in the first four grades transportation both ways. For those above the 4th, to and including the 6th grade, one way transportation only. A similar condition exists at the Braintree Line End of North Street with nearly as many school pupils attending as from the South Main Street section. As the South Braintree electric line has for sometime past been undependable, we have been obliged to contract for their transportation by jitney with Mr. Stephen Hart. For the present we have decided to give those attending the 7th and 8th grades from outlying districts transportation one way.

In individual cases this restriction and cancellation of transportation has occasioned complaints. We felt, however, that the time had arrived for a firm, definite attitude on the matter and this decision, coupled with the opening of the new school rooms at Tower Hill and North Randolph, has enabled us to reduce the annual transportation cost which, on the basis of former existing regulations, would now be costing the town $4,500. per annum, to about $2,000. per annum.

Educational Interest

We feel it is only just to say that we have an efficient, capable teaching personnel.

If any parent feels that his child is not getting all he should out of the schools of Randolph, we do not hesitate to state our belief that the fault lies in the home; not in the school.

The teachers and superintendents are ever at the service of the home and parent. Any consideration, criticism or suggestions regarding school affairs will receive immediate and proper consideration from them.

Co-operation of the parents with the teachers and superintendent, interest in and knowledge of what is being done in the schools on the part of parents, cannot fail to react in corresponding advantage to the pupils attending the school. Conversely, lack of interest by the parents in the school and school work is too often reflected by lack of interest and indifference in children coming from these homes. The schools are doing all they can, but it is only a part—to the home we must look for the rest.

Respectfully submitted

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Randolph:

I hereby submit my second annual report of the public schools of Randolph.

Special attention has been paid to the recommendations of last year. Through your cooperation and support it has been possible for us to make substantial gains in the kind and quality of work done in arithmetic and spelling. The crowded condition in the schools, however, has done much to discourage even greater results. Tests and grading are valueless without facilities to take care of our results when we find them. Nevertheless teachers have obtained results and have shown deep interest and cooperation in the work accomplished this year.

Building Program

Through your untiring efforts and presentation to the people of the town, the new two-room school building in North Randolph was made possible. It has for the time being relieved a most serious congestion in a few of our school rooms. The building and class rooms there represent the very best which the town now possesses. The seating capacity is 90 and the present enrollments 85.

Your committee is now at work on the proposed enlargement of the high school to accommodate both the senior and junior departments. The growth of the school enrollment is now generally known but repeated here to show the gradual increases for the last five years.

ENROLLMENT FOR THE LAST FIVE YEARS.

The building program in this or any community cannot be treated as a separate entirety but must be studied from the point of view of the school system as a whole. It is not enough to consider what is good for one class or one group but what will serve the greater number of our school children throughout the town. Such a plan is here proposed for it would distribute our best educational opportunities over six instead of four grades and likewise spread the initial cost and investment over as many grades.

The Proposed Plan

The following plan is a development and improvement of the recommendation of last year and will include, in part, what was then stated:

A. Present facilities.

1. High School, Brick material. Six crowded class rooms, a small inadequate science room, typewriting room and assembly room. Sufficient ground for building purposes. Athletic field. Centrally located.

2. Grade School. Two wooden buildings housing two eighth grades and two seventh grades. Two of these rooms are large and overcrowded and two are half-rooms, all poorly lighted. Inadequate grounds for building extension. No athletic facilities.

Results. Three separate school unites for only six grades. Little correlation of work and aims. Holding power of these six grades after pupils attain the fourteenth year, 52 per cent.

B. Factors which must be taken into consideration in the proposed school extension.

1. Increasing school attendance.
2. Present State and Federal legislation proposing to raise the compulsory school age. Child labor in Massachusetts now reaches the enormous total of 42,600 individuals under 16 years of age. The passing of such a bill would swell our enrollment even greater than is now anticipated.
3. The tendency, if not a necessity, to lengthen the school day from five to five and one-half or six hours, eliminating thereby home lessons.
4. Compulsory physical training.
5. The movement to raise college entrance requirements.
6. The need of an adequate lunch room for pupils and teachers.
7. The need of a strong school to extend its services and facilities to the community.

C. The proposed plan and recommendations.

1. Build at least ten medium-sized class rooms to the present high school to accommodate the six grades. The plan also includes an enlarged science and typewriting room and a small library; an assembly hall to seat 800 to 1000 people the same to be used as a gymnasium and basketball court; nurse room, lunch room and shower baths.

D. Advantages. Educational.

1. It would provide superior instruction through departmental teaching for all six grades. Promotion would be by subjects and not grades. Classification and grading of abilities would be for the benefit of pupils. The plan would hold and assist the junior high school pupils over that sudden and dreaded step between the grammar and the high school by continued association and the introduction of subjects now confined to the high school. The hours of the two schools would be the same. More time could be given each pupil, more time to the arts, sciences, clubs, and kindred subjects all of which are known to vitalize school work, and do more than the old plan toward making the pupil happy and more contented in school.

2. Economic.

A permanent school building which would not only relieve the congestion now and for the next eight years but could at any time in the future be again turned over to a regular senior high school without alteration. Both schools in the same building would be able to use certain units in common such as for example the auditorium, science laboratories, apparatus, lunch room, athletic field and gymnasium facilities. The cost of duplicating any or all of this equipment is here eliminated.

3. Social.

The school would become a distinct center for community activities. Its assembly hall, gymnasium and separate shower baths would not alone be used by the school but by any and all of the local organizations of the town to whom this school also belongs. Such a school in the last analysis would be a distinct asset to the town and an investment as great and as influential for future growth as are its present churches, banks, business enterprises, stores and streets.

Explanation of the Chart

The above chart is now generally used by school authorities everywhere to show at a glance the distribution of pupils by ages and grades throughout a school system. The State Department of Education called for such a chart last year. The above figures, however, pertain to the total enrollment for the years 1921-22 and not those of April 1, 1922, as called for by the state.

The Object

The object of the chart or graph is to show the progress of the pupils from grade to grade and year to year. It is an aid to self-analysis. It shows in an undisputed way how our pupils are moving through the grades and how effectively our schools are serving the pupils by making this continuous movement possible. It, moreover, serves as a key or answer to the question, "Is the organization, activities and conditions of our schools such as to produce the best educational results possible?" A glance at the chart would indicate that some disturbing factor or factors have crept into the work somewhere because of the varying ages found in each grade. The fact that all pupils do not move through the grades at the same rate of speed indicates the presence of some disturbance which seriously hinders progress.

How to Read the Chart

The task of interpreting the arrangement of figures is not a difficult one.

1. The whole number of pupils in a given grade is distributed horizontally left to right according to age, with the total given in the column at the extreme right. Grade I, for example, has 144 pupils; one pupil between five and six years of age but not six and therefore recorded under five; 87 under 6, 38 under 7, 14 under 8, 3 under 9 and 1 under 10.

2. The heavy serrated or step-like line indicates the normal line of distribution. It begins at Grade I at a point between the ages of five and six, that is, the five and one-half year point which is the entering age, and continues downward to the seventeen and one-half point which is the age at the end of the high school course, twelve years later.

3 The figures to the left of this heavy line indicate the number of pupils of normal age for their grade who entered at the age of five and one-half years.

4. The figures to the right of this line and within the semi-dotted squares indicate pupils who

(a) Entered the first grade a little older than the $5\frac{1}{2}$ year period and are therefore of normal age for their grade.

(b) Entered at $5\frac{1}{2}$ years of age but who, although now rated as of normal age, are beginning to show signs of slowing up in their work and the possibility of falling behind in their grade. Many of these pupils progress with their grades but they constitute the first group of children who call for extra help in the class room.

5. The figures to the right and outside the dotted line indicate pupils who are over-age at least one year. These may be recorded as the second group of children who not only overtax and burden the teacher but who find the work a little too difficult to accomplish within the allotted time. Many of these individuals succeed satisfactorily under special supervision and instruction while others again have begun to show a very slow if not a limited ability to progress.

6. The second and third figures to the right of the dotted line indicate pupils for whom the regular grade teacher can do little or nothing. They are over-age and retarded two or more years. They belong in a special class where work is graded according to their need and ability. Those who succeed or "make up" the work are readmitted to their proper grades.

Use of the Chart

Like all forms of tabulation and arrangements of figures this chart is not infallible but it has weight and significance and should cause the parent or guardian some concert as to

1. Where is my child located on the chart?
2. If found to the right of the heavy line, why is he there? What are the causes and what can be done to help that situation?

Such questions and investigations by parents would be most welcome for they would be indicative of the best interest and co-operation not alone for the particular child but for the whole school system.

Causes Which Hinder Promotion
(In order of disturbing frequency)

Where the home may help

1. Irregular attendance.
2. Irregular and late hours of sleep. Children cannot do good work with less than nine to ten hours of sleep and rest daily.
3. Physical defects, such as adenoids, tonsils, poor eye sight, etc., which are easily remedied but sometimes neglected.
4. Lack of proper concentration to work at school and at home perhaps due to the causes found in the second statement.
5. Laziness. It is not unreasonable to say that a healthy child is invariably the active and happy child both in play and in his work. That he is not so may be due or traced to causes found in statements 2, 3 or 6.
6. Malnutrition. With this must be added a small percentage of children who are found to be coffee and tea drinkers.
7. Physically and mentally unfit.

Where the School May Help

1. Overcrowded classes. Teachers should be relieved of classes numbering 50 to 60 pupils. In such classes the pace set by the majority often works disastrously for the minority who may be slow but very faithful pupils.
2. Ungraded classes, that is, where three or four grades are assembled in one room and taught by one teacher within the time allotment of a single grade. Here individual attention to pupils is reduced to a minimum.
3. Lack of holding power of our schools particularly in the high school, where a 48 per cent loss of pupils is noticeable between the 9th and 10th grades. This is undoubtedly due to many of the pupils leaving school at the age of fourteen. Better facilities and accommodations which are now being planned by the School Committee will do much to remedy this evil, and make our high school a stronger factor in our town.

Intermediate or Junior High School Department

This new department of our school work was introduced last Spring. The manner and enthusiasm with which the pupils and teachers entered upon this change deserve special commendation. No better example of co-operation and endeavor to render the best educational services to our pupils can be found anywhere than that found in our schools. Parents have been most sympathetic and have given every indication that they believe this division of our work will prove beneficial and an educational asset.

Work in the Lower Grades

It is earnestly hoped that with the readjustment of the school enrollment the teachers of the lower grades will be relieved of the over-sized classes which have been their allotment from year to year. Their work, however, has been most faithfully carried on under most trying conditions.

New Teachers

We are particularly fortunate in adding to our school faculty teachers of known experience and character.

Mr. Herman Richter, Science Department, High School.

Mrs. Florence Caples, North Randolph School.

Mrs. McGerrigle, North Randolph School.

Miss Anna Sheehan, Drawing Supervisor.

Miss Anna Lindsey, Tower Hill School.

Further details of the year's work may be found in the reports of the principal of the high school, supervisors of music and drawing and the school nurse.

I desire to thank the various organizations of the town for their interest and cooperation in our school work. Those having come under my immediate attention are the Randolph Grange, the Visiting Nurse Association, the Red Cross organization, the Teachers' Association, the Anti-Tuberculosis League, Library Association and the newly formed Parent-Teachers' Association.

May I likewise extend to you my appreciation of your cooperation and helpful assistance. What has been accomplished the past year that may be deserving of credit comes from you and our faithful teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

A. O. CHRISTIANSEN,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF STETSON HIGH SCHOOL.

Trustees of Stetson High School:—

The graduation of the class of 1923 is not far away and we have begun to consider the nature of the graduation exercises. The teachers of the school are in favor of exercises which meet the approval of the parents and others most interested. There are thirty-one members in the class—the largest number ever graduated from a four-year course in the history of the school. We would like to ascertain the wishes of parents in regard to having a limited number of the class take part in the graduation—or a large number, or all who so desire; or shall we try the plan of inviting a speaker to occupy an hour at the graduation?

It seems desirable to free the pupil from all extra nervous strain at graduation. Let him approach the event as a time of reward when he may not be obliged to "earn his diploma" by some contribution to the program. That view is sound, and meets with favor in many places. With us, it is true that the majority of our pupils are anxious to have a part in the program. We do not object at all to having our pupils wish to take part in the graduation; on the contrary we think that it shows a right spirit. Now suppose that thirty-one pupils have a part in the exercises. Could the program be arranged so as not to be too long? Would it be a dignified program for a high school graduation? Suppose ten pupils are selected; even that number is large, and care must be taken, or the length of the exercises will make the graduation fail to interest the audience as it ought.

How are we to select our pupils who are to take part?

Shall they in some cases be elected by the class or shall the teachers name the participants? How can we avoid disappointment and jealousy? The Massachusetts State Board of Education strongly advises against giving graduation parts to pupils on the basis of ranks.

Now this presentation of the problem will show that the matter is not so simple as it may seem. Of course we will try to agree on some plan for our coming graduation, and then carry out the plan as best we may. It is worthy of note that the matter of hiring a speaker has not met with much favor here on the occasions when we have tried it. This plan has, however, much in its favor.

Now consider the problem of giving out tickets for graduation. Stetson Hall has 678 seats. We have to cross out over 200 to seat the school pupils and those who have complimentary tickets. There are left some four hundred tickets, many of them, the majority in fact, far in the rear, or at the sides of the hall. Suppose ten tickets are allotted to each one in the senior class. That would nearly exhaust the supply. It would be easily possible at our graduations to get together an audience of 1000 persons if the hall were large enough. Would it not be well to have some outside person, who is entirely neutral, have charge of the distribution of tickets?

The class of 1916 have presented to the school a photo, costing about $50.00, as a memorial to two of their members who have passed away, Ruth A. E. Peterson and John Thomas O'Brien. The photo is beautifully framed in circassian walnut. The statue "The End of the Trail" from which the photo is taken was chiselled by Marshall, and now stands in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. This gift is hung in the lower corridor, opposite the main entrance.

The class of 1922 gave to the school at their class gift at graduation a large oak settle nearly 70 inches in length. The construction of the settle is first quality, and there is a large seat cushion, with two small cushions each 24 inches by 24 inches. This settle is valued at $125. Gifts which are useful, like this settle, are doubly welcome. It would seem that the gift of 1922 will afford the pupils of Stetson High School a great deal of comfort, as well as be an artistic addition to our furnishings.

Why not fit up our assembly-room as a school-room and thus give us the additional space we so much need? Our assembly-room would seat about fifty pupils and with a black-board along the eastern wall would be the finest school-room in Randolph. With this at our disposal we could take pupils from the laboratory and give them a suitable home-room. All the overcrowding of our rooms would be done away with, unless our enrollment should rise to over two hundred. Why not do this? We cannot use the assembly-room at present as a place where the school may be brought together because of its small size.

We have tried to comply with the new school law with regard to physical exercise. There ought to be, as is the case in many other schools of the state, a special instructor who would conduct regular classes in physical drills and games. During the pleasant weather of the Fall, the boys and girls went through calisthenic exercises out of doors. We were visited by Miss French, who has charge of the state department of physical drill for girls, also by Mr. Fish of the Brockton Y. M. C. A. and Miss Craig of the Brockton Y. W. C. A. Several of our older boys and girls learned how to lead the various drills; on the whole we found the work pleasant and profitable. It is remarkable how much a small school with no teacher especially ready in physical training can accomplish in so short a time. In November the girls to the number of forty gave a calisthenic exhibition in Stetson Hall. The drill was carried out with great precision, and was a revelation to many of the audience. There were games, wand drills, folk-dances, marches and several dances of an esthetic nature.

Few of us have much confidence in school ranks. They are at best a necessary evil. The boys and girls do not study for the purpose of having ranks assigned to them; at the same time there must be some bookkeeping—some account of the progress of pupils as expressed by ranks. I knew a boy who made a failure as indicated by his ranks, for an entire year, yet passed his college entrance examinations at the close of the year. What was the explanation? In that case it appeared to be that the boy kept about three days behind his class all the year so that he was never able to recite to advantage in his daily work. Now any boy who can pass successfully a college entrance examination, ought to have at least a rank of B in his preparatory school. We give tests, so called, four times each year. It is often impossible to reach a point in a given subject where the pupils are ready for an examination, or test. In such cases the test is perfunctory and ought to be so regarded by the teacher. When the same paper in one of our leading cities can be ranked by experts in the subject all the way from 25 per cent to 90 per cent it is evident that ranks are open to criticism.

More time must be given to school work by teachers and pupils. Six hours of actual session is advised by the Massachusetts Board of Education. This will mean that we must consider the two-session plan, unless a very adequate lunch can be supplied, which is doubtful. We play too much at going to school. Nearly all school officials declare this. We do not make it the serious business of the five school days each week. A school principal may rely on home-study, or he may wish to have nearly all of the work done in school hours. The latter plan implies fully six hours each day, or more.

A problem which confronts our teachers is the matter of raising money for athletics. We find that each baseball game costs us about ten dollars—that is, divide the total expenses for the season by the number of games and the quotient will be nearly ten. How shall we get this money? We pass around a subscription paper among the townspeople for part of the sum. We have a moving picture benefit, we take up a subscription in school, and we draw on our penny-collection fund. After doing all this and adding the amount taken at games we were about thirty dollars in arrears last June. We drew on the 1922 Senior Class fund for twenty dollars and paid the other fifteen dollars late in the fall; that was the first time any bills have been unpaid at the close of school in June. Among the sources of revenue must be included our lunch-fund which has given us about one hundred fifty dollars this year for football and other enterprises. The girls who handle the lunch this year deserve unusual credit. At the graduation ball last June the principal of the school appealed to the guests for money to buy sweaters for the boys of 1922 who had been in the baseball team. The amount was in his hands within five minutes. For this generous response he wishes to thank the givers.

Once a year our Senior Class presents a play in Stetson Hall. The object is to raise money to be used in connection with graduation. We have found that the plays which "go best" are of the farce-comedy kind. We cannot make a success of Shakespeare, or any of the old standard English plays. It is a task to get this play ready for presentation. The stage of Stetson Hall is not well equipped for the purpose. In the past few years our audience has grown to fill the seating capacity of the hall. This is, of course, encouraging in many ways and gives us a revenue for the expenses of graduation. You may ask what those expenses are—First the class gift. We need about $100 for that. The orchestra and hall at our graduation ball cost $60.00. Printing costs some $20.00. This is not a complete list; $200 is not too large a sum to place at the disposal of the class, and only by means of a play can we raise this sum.

Boys and girls are always open to criticism on the score of conduct. They will always be in need of restraint-oversight. After we have said this, however, we ought to add that nearly all the pranks and excesses of young people would better be ignored by their elders, at least so far as feeling alarm at the situation. The youthful pirates who sack and slay out in the woods all the morning will go home to dinner, rather soiled by their cruise about the pond to find a good place to bury their treasure, but yet, better for the free play of their imagination and their young muscles. Do not credit all the stories you may hear about the youth of your town. Such stories have been told all through the ages. Teachers try to exercise a kindly restraint, they try to take the place of the parent to a degree, and yet they sometimes fail to curb all the peccadillos of their pupils. If this be true do not despair of the future. Especially do not bring your school and town into unpleasant notoriety by spreading the story broadcast in the public press.

Our teachers are unanimous in recommending new desks throughout the building; many of the desks now in use here have been over fifty years in service; there is a general falling to pieces and collapse of desks which can be met only through purchase of new furniture to replace this broken-down outfit. The life of a school desk with adjustable top and chair is not very much over ten or twelve years. After this period of use the desk begins to give trouble. •Most of our school furniture is made of wood which is turned out by machine—no hand work. Most of it is constructed of wood which has been treated to an artificial drying process which renders it brittle. Manufacturers are trying to find a substitute for wood in desk construction. The teachers of the school have had a plan to ask parents to meet them some evening and look at the desk equipment of the school with a view to asking the trustees to remedy the situation. It may be that this reference to the need will bring relief.

Four girls of the class of 1922 went to Bridgewater Normal School on the certification plan. That is, they were not required to take the entrance examinations. All these girls are "making good" as reported in a recent letter from Mr. Boyden, principal of the Bridgewater Normal School. Two girls were given certificates to Boston University. One of these girls found it advisable to defer her entrance, but not because of any lack of preparation. The other girl is now in Boston University Law School, having used her certificate from this school to enable her to enter.

Spelling books to the number of 100 could be used to advantage in the school. At least 500 typically hard common words ought to be dictated for spelling during the year. A suitable book would help solve the problem. 100 books would not allow a book to each pupil but the number would make it possible for us to give more attention to this lost art of spelling.

FREDERIC E. CHAPIN.

Randolph, Mass., January, 1923.

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,

Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

Work in music is progressing in a very satisfactory manner.

With the opening of the School Year came an increase of work for the Supervisor, as three new ungraded classes have been added to our schedule.

I found the selecting of a music reader that would meet the requirements of each grade, and yet be valuable to them as a whole, rather a difficult problem to solve; however, after a careful survey of pupils and material I am pleased to state that the books selected present subject matter for the classes both individually and collectively; the classes referred to are the fourth, fifth and sixth grades taught by Miss Lindsey in the Tower Hill School and the first, second and third grades taught by Mrs. Caples in the Pond Street School. The new school just opened and taught by Mrs. McGerrigle has yet to be supplied with a Music Reader.

It was a very great pleasure for me to state in my last report that I had taken steps toward the creating of a School Orchestra; I had hopes that in the near future the Randolph Schools could take their place with some of the larger surrounding towns in the development of orchestral music.

Parents and children responded very enthusiastically and Mr. Lewis who had charge of the classes worked faithfully and well; each child paying the extravagant sum of twenty-five cents per lesson.

A concert was given by the pupils of the Belcher School, the proceeds of which were to be used for the development of the Orchestra.

This concert reflected much credit on the teachers of the Belcher School who worked very unselfishly toward the desired end.

The sum of $112.00 was realized as a result of this entertainment, and as the opening of the fall term did not present any stimulent to revive the work of the past year, the sum mentioned remains on deposit awaiting further developments.

I suggest, however, that this money be kept as an orchestra fund, hoping that at some future time, not far distant, the project will meet with more hearty co-operation.

Music appeals to all normal children, and the majority of children are normal; they have a right therefore to instruction in music and should be offered an opportunity to learn to play musical instruments.

If the schools are to educate (and it it agreed that that is their prime function) they should educate for an avocation as well as a vocation.

Why are American Symphony Orchestras filled with foreign players? Because the American boy has not had an equal opportunity of acquiring a musical education.

Music is as real in its service to humanity as the multiplication table. Which of the two subjects mentioned spurred our soldiers on when they needed heart on the battle-field?

In the High School, one period a week consisting of forty minutes is devoted to singing, which is altogether too short a space of time to permit of any continued progress. This ,together with lack of space for the entire class in music makes the situation rather complex.

To modify the difficulty somewhat, I have been obliged to eliminate many pupils from the singing class. This arrangement may be unsatisfactory to some of the pupils, but I could see no other alternative.

It seems to me that in order to meet the requirements of the boy or girl about to enter College or Normal School, a course in Music Theory should receive a place in the School Program.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSE G. HAND, Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The course of study in drawing for both the primary and grammar grades includes the subjects of representation, lettering, design and project work. Mechanical and freehand drawing are given special attention in the High School.

The subject of representation introduced in the grades last September was new to the pupils but the results, have been very good and the interest shown by the pupils and teachers has been most gratifying.

The freehand drawing classes in this as in many high schools have manifested the usual interest in color study, design and poster work. Our objectives are not commercially alone but the appreciation of color harmony, proportion, and the beautiful.

I thank you and the teachers for the helpful cooperation you have given.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNA G. SHEEHAN, Drawing Supervisor.

STETSON SCHOOL FUND

To the Citizens of Randolph :

The investment of the Stetson High School Fund is as follows:

During the past year it was found necessary for the Trustees to re-decorate Stetson Hall and also to install a new lighting system. This was done at an expense of fifteen hundred and three dollars, which was taken from the general fund in part.

The interior work was done under the direction of Mr. John Boyle of Randolph and at the present time we have a hall second to none in regard to beauty.

During the year the People's National Bank has liquidated by the First National and the sum of eleven hundred twenty-five dollars was returned to the Fund.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

The past year has been an uneventful one in regard to any special disease breaking out among our school children.

During the year the weight, measurement and age of every child in our Schools was carefully taken and recorded by our School Nurse. Only a small per cent were under normal and these children have, under the efficient direction of our nurse, been started on the way to improved health.

The overcrowded condition in some rooms has been eliminated but some plan must be worked out for relieving our High School of the congested condition now existing.

We have had a small number of contagious cases as usual in the schools but no serious outbreak has occurred.

GEORGE V. HIGGINS, M. D.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Town Treasurer

1922

To the Citizens of Randolph:

Perhaps the most striking feature of the Treasurer's report for the year 1922, is the payment of $25,000.00 Town of Randolph Water Bonds, leaving only $13,000.00 more to be paid. This amount is already in the Sinking Fund. There has been no appropriation for the last two years for the Sinking Fund, and no more will be necessary.

Another feature is the large amount of money borrowed on anticipation of revenue. This was caused by the high rate of interest last March, April and May. Money was borrowed then on short time. When the interest rates were less later on in the year, money was borrowed for a longer period, saving a large amount on this one item. For the coming year we will not need such a large appropriation for interest and discount, as money is at the present time much cheaper and not liable to be near so high as it was a year ago.

Another item worth while is the fact that there will be no appropriation in 1923 for overdraft. This should be very gratifying to the tax-payers.

It has been a great pleasure to me to have the goodwill of all departments during the past year, all working together to the best of our ability for the good of the Town.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN B. McNEILL,

Treasurer.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Water Commissioners
OF THE Town of Randolph
1922

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The thirty-seventh annual report of the Water Commissioners is herewith submitted for the year ending December 31, 1922.

During the past year, the new pumping unit has been installed at the Station, consisting of an Allis-Chalmers centrifugal pump, driven by a Moore steam turbine engine, with a daily capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, which will be used as an auxiliary.

The pump has been accepted and paid for by the Joint Board of Randolph and Holbrook, in accordance with the advice of our consulting engineer, Mr. Fred O. Stevens.

As soon as the new pump was satisfactorily installed the large Epping-Carpenter pump was thoroughly overhauled and repaired, the boilers overhauled, considerable piping relocated, and the Warren Steam Condenser overhauled and repaired, which puts the entire Station in good condition.

With the purpose of keeping the water supply of Randolph and Holbrook at its present high standard, the Joint Board of Randolph and Holbrook, on the advice of the State Department of Public Health, deemed it advisable to install Chlorinating equipment at the Pumping Station. This equipment was placed in commission a few months ago, and is working satisfactorily. During the past year the State Department of Health has continued its regular tests, every two months, of the water at Great Pond and various points in the Town.

As a new truck was needed, it was decided by the Joint Board to trade the "Reo" and purchase a new “Ford” truck, which has filled all the requirements of the Department.

In 1917 Geo. F. Elcock et al. brought suit against the Towns of Braintree, Randolph, and Holbrook, claiming damages to land owned by the Plaintiff and situated on the north and east sides of Great Pond. Upon legal advice, it was agreed by the Water Commissioners of Braintree, Randolph, and Holbrook, to take jointly the land in dispute, containing about 14.6 acres. Part of this land is now rented and thus produces a small revenue of which one-third is received by this Department, as you will note in the statement of receipts.

As it is the intention of this Department to present all informaion as clearly as possible, the water bills will be rendered in the future in cubic feet instead of gallons.

Your attention is called to the changed schedule on meter rates, especially the reduction on the charge known as “meter rental” which has been authorized by your Commissioners.

During the past year thirty-six new services have been installed, and the water main extended along Grove Street, a distance of 280 feet, through a ledge, which greatly increased the cost of the work.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following regulations, until further notice, shall be considered a part of the contract with every person who uses water:

1. All applications for use of water must be made at the office of the Water Commissioners, and state fully the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Water will not be introduced into any building or premises except on the written application of the owner thereof, or by a duly authorized agent. The property will in all cases be held responsible for the water rates.

2. All persons taking water must keep their water pipes and fixtures in good repair and protected from the frost at their own expense. They will be held liable for all damages resulting from their failure to do so. They shall prevent all unnecessary waste, and water shall not be left running to prevent freezing. The Water Commissioners or their agent may, from time to time, ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of its use, and whether there is any unnecessary waste. They and their agents shall have free access to the premises supplied, to examine the apparatus, and if any fixtures are found not to be in good order, they shall direct them repaired, and if not repaired within two days the water shall be shut off and not let on again until such repairs are made, and the sum of two dollars paid for shutting off and turning on the water.

3. The occupant of any premises, when unnecessary waste of water occurs, shall be liable to a fine of two dollars for the first offence, and four dollars for the second offence during the same year, and shall be notified thereof in writing; and if such waste is not prevented and the fine aforesaid paid within two days from the time when the said notice is given, the water shall be shut off the premises, and shall not be again let on for the same occupant until the waste be stopped and the fine paid, together with an additional sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water; and in case of a third or subsequent offence the water shall be shut off, and shall not again be let on except by a vote of the Water Commissioners and the payment of such fine, not exceeding ten dollars, as the Water Commissioners may impose.

4. Any person supplied with water shall not allow another to take water from their fixtures without the written permission of the Water Commissioners. If any tenant, having no fixtures, has any use of such fixtures, full rates will be charged for such use by each tenant.

5. All parties using water in stables, for horses or other animals, will be charged schedule rates for the same, whether it be carried by hand or through hose.

6. All persons using water for building purposes are required to obtain a permit from the Water Commissioners before taking water from any faucet or fixture connected with the water works, and all water takers are warned not to let any party take water from their premises until they show a permit from the Water Commissioners. Any person furnishing water in violation of this section will be subject to a fine not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, and if the same when levied is not paid within three days from the time when the notice thereof is given, the water will be shut off from the premises and will not be let on again until such fine is paid.

7. All fixtures and water closets and urinals must be of a kind and quality approved by the Water Commissioners.

8. No person shall in any case be allowed to open any fire hydrants except by a written permit from the Water Commissioners; but the Engineers of the Fire Department shall in all cases have control of hydrants at fires and for practice.

9. The Commissioners reserve the right to restrict the use of hose or fountain, to shut off the water in all cases when it becomes necessary to make extensions or repairs, or for violations of any of the regulations, or whenever they deem it expedient.

10. The regular rates for the use of water shall be payable in advance on the first days of January and July of each year, except where water is supplied to manufacturers by special agreement. In all cases of non-payment of the water rates within ten days after same is due, as well as for any violations of these rules and regulations, the supply will be shut off, and the water will not again be let on except upon the payment of the amount due, and the sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water.

11. The Water Commissioners reserve the right to change the water rates at any time, except in cases of dwelling houses and established special rates.

12. For business requiring large quantities of water, and all supplies not enumerated in the tariff of rates, special rates will be made.

13. Parties using water for manufacturing or domestic purposes can erect hydrants on their grounds or standpipes in their building to be used only as a protection against fire without additional charge for water.

14. All service pipes will be put in by the Water Commissioners. All applications for the introduction of service pipes into their premises are required to make written application therefor at the office of the Water Commissioners. The Commissioners may then proceed to lay the necessary service pipes to the interior of the building, provided all expenses incurred beyond the line of the street shall be paid by the owner of the premises, who shall thereafter maintain and keep the same in good order at his own cost; and the same shall be at all times subject to the control of the Commissioners. All applicants for whom the pipe is laid will be charged for the use of one faucet whether the water is used or not, unless they pay all expense that has been incurred in laying such service pipe, and in no case will the main be tapped more than once for the same premises, unless the additional expense is borne by the owner.

Your Committee met with Mr. A. V. Coleman, manager of the Randolph and Holbrook Power and Electric Company and discussed the matter of decrease in lighting rates. Mr. Coleman stated that his company would be unable to grant any decrease other than what was intended after a conference with the Selectmen of Randolph of 1921. The committee after further investigation were of the opinion that the rates paid for electricity by the people of Randolph and Holbrook were excessive and a further decrease, other than the one above mentioned, was imperative.

After further deliberations Mr. Coleman agreed with the committee that he would recommend to the Randolph and Holbrook Power and Electric Company that the following rates be granted:—

After May 1st, 1922, a gross charge of $1.10 for the first K. W. H. or fraction thereof per month, with a twenty cent discount for prompt payment, thus making the first K. W. H. $0.90 net.

All in excess of the first K. W. H. 13 cents gross, with one cent discount for prompt payment. This will make a net rate of 12 cents per K. W. H. for all electricity consumed after the first K. W. H.

These reductions will mean, for the people of Randolph and Holbrook, a saving of approximately $3,000 per annum, and it is further agreed and understood between this committee and said company that as fast as conditions warrant further reductions may be expected.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN

Randolph, Mass., January 31, 1923.

The town in the past has been noted for its beautiful shade trees, but they are fast being destroyed by various causes. Action should be taken this spring in regard to the replacing of trees.

Each year trees are removed and no provisions are made to replace them.

A small appropriation each year for a few years would do much towards planting ornamental and shade trees and would be an asset to your town.

The telephone wires in a number of places hang in the trees and arrangements have been made to have them removed as soon as weather permits.

A lot of work still remains to be done on your outlying streets and a number of large trees are yet to be taken down.

Respectfully submitted by,

TREE WARDEN.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:
Gentlemen:

The Gypsy Moth situation in the town last fall was better than it has been for a number of years.

Owing to the weather conditions this winter the work of Creosoting has not been carried on but will be continued as soon as the weather permits.

The Brown Tail Moth is prevelant again and much work must be done to keep them in check.

The Tent caterpillar is another of the many of the unsightly pests we have with us again and while the State makes no provision for destroying them I have destroyed many nests when found.

Property owners should destroy these nests as early as possible when they appear.

Repairs will have to be made in the spray wagon this spring. I would recommend that the town procure a truck for the use of the sprayer as the outlying districts could be covered quickly and with better satisfaction. Some new hose will have to be purchased this year.

Notice to Property Owners

You are hereby notified to destroy all nests of the Gypsy and Brown Tail Moths on your premises by order of the State Forester.

Sec. 6 (As amended by Art. 4 Chapter 591, Acts of 1908 and by Chapter 124, Acts of 1915).

Respectfully submitted,

LOCAL MOTH SUPERINTENDENT.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF SELECTMEN AND OVERSEERS OF POOR

To the Voters of Randolph:

We submit herewith our report for the year 1923 and have kept within the appropriation as closely as possible. The total expenditures show a net overdraft of $938.25. Nearly one-half of which is caused by the expenses of children attending Continuation and Vocational schools, a matter over which we have no control and for which there has been no appropriation. As this is to be an annual expense we recommend that in the future an appropriation be made to cover this item.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

To the Voters of Randolph:

Work on the Highways, was begun according to the usual custom, by cleaning the gutters. They were cleaned with the Road Machine. As it had been a long time since some of them had been cleaned, it was very slow work, making it more expensive removing so much obstruction. We cleaned the following: Cottage St., 1 1-4 miles on North St., part of Mill St., Howard St., Plain St., Liberty St., Allen St., Roel St., Mt. Pleasant Square, Belcher St., Wales Ave., Cross St., Silver St., Fowler St., West St., South St., Maple St., part of Centre St., Woodlawn Ave., Fairview Ave., Fairmount St., and Pond St., at a cost of $1355.00.

APPARATUS

The apparatus of the department consist of the following:

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

- One American La France Combination.
- One Maxim 400 gallon Pumping Engine.
- One Ford forest fire combination.

The Amoskeag steam fire engine as well as the Hook and Ladder have been quartered at the No. 2 station.

The Department has in service 2500 ft. of $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. hose. 300 ft. of $1\frac{1}{4}$ in. hose and 350 ft. of $\frac{3}{4}$ in. hose all of which is in good condition. 500 ft. of $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. hose should be purchased this year and that would allow us to keep each of the large trucks loaded with dry hose all the time. The condition of the Central Station is very good at present, the outside having been painted, the cupola repaired and shingled, the small shed connected with the station also shingled, puts it in first class shape. The No. 2 station is in need of repair but it does not seem advisable to spend much money on it just now.

The American La France truck should be painted this year sure. The addition of two new trucks to the Department in the last year has greatly increased the work of Driver Bailey but everything has been taken care of in first class shape.

Every alarm is now answered by a call driver who stands ready to take out the second piece of apparatus if needed, which greatly increases our fire protection. The fire alarm system is in fair shape just now, but there are still some parts of the town that need new wire bad.

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 3 of the By-Laws of the Turner Free Library, this the forty-eighth annual report is submitted, showing the condition of the trust, consisting of the building, library and funds, together with the reports of the Librarian and Treasurer and so much of the reports submitted by the various committees to the Trustees as seem of general interest.

EIGHTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

The Library Committee consisting of Winthrop B. Atherton, Mrs. Helen W. Pratt, Herbert F. French and Frank W. Belcher with the assistance of the Librarian has found the books, charts and furnishings in good condition. All books were accounted for by the Librarian.

Randolph, Mass., January 16, 1924.

To the Trustees of Turner Free Library:

Your Committee on Finance submits the following report:

The Committee has audited the accounts of the Treasurer for the year 1923 and found them correct. All moneys received have been duly accounted for, and no moneys have been paid out except upon vouchers properly approved.

The Committee has examined, also, the securities representing the investment of the funds of the Library, and has found them to be intact and as represented.

Randolph, Jan. 1st, 1924.

ASA P. FRENCH, Chairman.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

The Building Committee consisting of W. B. Atherton, N. Irving Tolman and Frank W. Belcher report that the roof of the Library is in such condition that attention is necessary and some minor repairs are needed. An appropriation of $150.00 is requested.

It is gratifying to note from the report of the Librarian the increase in the number of patrons of the Library the past year. A gain of 219 in a town the size of Randolph is certainly encouraging and indicates a growing interest in the institution and an enlarged sphere of usefulness. That the young people of the town are using the facilities of the Library more and more proves its value in many ways.

The desire to improve its usefulness and the same high standard of efficiency in the conduct of the Library still obtains.

The report of the Librarian statistically showing in detail the doings, management and results of the various departments of the Library and the report of the Treasurer showing the investment of the funds and the receipts and expenditures of the Library are hereunto subjoined.

Respectfully submitted

WINTHROP B. ATHERTON,

President of the Board of Trustees.

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1924.

EIGHTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1924.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

I have the honor to submit the annual report of the Turner Free Library for the year ending December 31, 1923.

The number of books added to the library this year by purchase is 218, received as gifts 47, and 6 bound magazines, making a total of 28,239 accessioned volumes.

The library has been opened to the Public 303 days; 28,436 volumes have been borrowed, and 406 unbound periodicals. The number of borrowers registered is now 1710, a gain of 219 over last year.

The reading room continues to be well patronized, and, on the whole, the order maintained has been good.

The usual work has been done in the grade schools, loaning books for use in the schools, and helping the pupils in the reference department. .

We have done more work with the High School pupils this year, co-operating with Miss Shaw in a course of reading she has prepared for her English classes. We have kept the books used on special shelves, and have done what we could to encourage and assist the pupils. We feel that this work is worth while, as it gives them an opportunity to become acquainted with the classics, as well as the books of living writers which are of high standard. We hope this may create a taste for the best in literature which will last when school days are over. We wish to thank Miss Shaw for her help and appreciation of the resources of the library. The High School and Normal students have also done considerable work in the reference department.

For some time we have felt the need of a special place for the children, and some months ago a corner of the library was given over to their use. We have a table and chairs where they can read, with some attractive books and magazines. The book cases are filled with juvenile books which may be borrowed, and there are pictures of interest to children. At Thanksgiving time we had a good-sized picture in colors, of the first American Thanksgiving by Brownscombe. This seemed to interest them, especially some of our little Italian boys, who told the Librarian the story of the first Thanksgiving very enthusiastically. The children have thoroughly enjoyed having a place all their own; we have several children who come frequently after school and stay until closing time, absorbed in fairy stories, or, living in imagination, the life of their little book friends.

While it is not possible for the Public to have access to all our shelves, it has been the custom, for a long time, to keep a good number of popular fiction on open shelves. To encourage the reading of non-fiction, we have recently arranged to have open shelves containing books on travel, biography and other subjects.

The sum of $123.41 has been received for fines and collections, and has been turned over to the Treasurer.

The Librarian expresses her thanks to her Assistant, and to the Board of Trustees for their support in carrying forward the library work.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER, Librarian.

OF THE

Town Clerk

1923

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Annual Report of the Town Clerk

1923

To the Voters of Randolph,

I will call your attention to Section 21, of Chapter 54 General Laws;—

“The Selectmen shall at least five days before a State or Town Election, appoint Voters as tellers to assist at the ballot box and in checking the names on the voting list, and in canvassing and counting the votes.”

At the State Election in 1922 and at the Annual Town Meeting in 1923 the Selectmen gave the Town Clerk the privilege of selecting the Tellers, this practice under the law must cease, you will notice the law reads that the Selectmen “Shall” appoint, and this year the Selectmen will appoint the Tellers as directed, any other course would surely in the future lead to grave misunderstanding.

Respectfully Submitted

John B. McNeill, Town Clerk

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

WATER COMMISSIONERS

1923

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

To The Citizens of Randolph:

The thirty-eighth annual report of the Water Commissioners is herewith submitted for the year ending December 31, 1923.

On December 27, 1922 the department truck while standing on North Street, opposite the residence of Geo. A. Payne, was struck by a truck owned by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. of Boston; considerable damage being done to the engine, side, and top. The accident was caused by the larger truck skidding on the ice which covered the street.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. agreed to settle for the damage caused, and we received from their insurance company, the London Guarantee & Accident Co., Ltd. a check for $132.93 as settlement in full for the damage.

As the Ford Truck had reached the stage where considerable repairs were necessary it was decided that it would be more economical to trade it in and the contract was given to the Randolph Garage, who made delivery of the new truck on September 19, 1923.

This year it was necessary to have the Standpipes painted on the inside. When bids for this work were asked, four proposals were received. Mr. William Long of Holbrook being the lowest bidder was awarded the contract.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

On Saturday July 21st about six P. M. the fourteen inch main sprung a leak about one-half mile from the Pumping Station in what is known as Newcombs Field. Upon investigation it was found that a section about six feet long had cracked, and work was started immediately to repair the damage. The department worked all that night until midnight and the next day until five o'clock, when the repairs were completed.

As the Randolph standpipe was being painted at this time, it was empty, and for this reason there was no reserve supply. This together with the fact that it was a hot day, the water was being used almost as fast as it was pumped, because it is necessary to run the pumps much slower when only one reservoir is being filled. This left the Holbrook standpipe only partly filled at the time of the break. Had it been filled there would have been ample water to care for all needs until the leak was repaired and pumping resumed.

We would call your attention to a matter which is now being considered by the Legislature and while of great importance to the entire State is of special interest to the Town of Randolph. This is the subject of the enlargement of the Metropolitan Water System, and we urge all Citizens to interest themselves to see that the interests of the Town are considered in all legislation which is enacted affecting this system.

The condition of the water remains good, as shown by the reports from the State Board of Health.

At the last session of the Legislature an act known as "An Act Relative to the Collection of Water Rates," which amends Chapter forty of the General Laws by inserting six sections, after section 42, was enacted, and this Board wishes to call this Act to your attention. The members of this Board suggest and recommend that this amendment be adopted by the Town.

As soon as it is practicable, work on the new extension of the water main will be started, as authorized at the special Town Meeting June 29, 1923. It is the intention of the Commissioners to lay as large a main as possible along North Main Street, so that this branch which will connect the present main at Pond Street with the fourteen inch main at West Corners can be used to feed the standpipes in case of another serious leak in the present fourteen inch pipe through the swamp.

During the past year forty eight new services have been added to the system.

Unpaid water charges remain about the same as last year, and we ask the co-operation of all takers in reducing this item. Amount due as follows:

TREE WARDEN'S REPORT

Randolph, Mass.

January 15, 1924.

To the Voters of the Town of Randolph:

The trees of your town are in a very fair condition. Fewer trees were removed last year, and nineteen new trees were planted. Six of these new trees were donated by the Ladie's Library Association and set out on the different streets.

Much roadside trimming was done on High, Canton, Chestnut, South and Union Streets.

It would be well for the town to follow out the policy of last year and set out more trees, for which I am asking an appropriation in your town warrant.

The Elm Beetle appeared in large numbers last year and it will require extra spraying this year, if the same are to be controlled.

The electric wires have done a great deal of damage to the trees last year, and steps have been taken to remedy this evil.

I am always willing to be at your service at any time when called upon.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Tree Warden.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

GYPSY MOTH REPORT

Randolph, Mass.

January 15, 1924

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

In making my report for the year ending 1923, the infestation of the Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth is better than it ever was before. The town has been well scouted and only a few egg clusters remain to be creosoted.

From indication, the invasion of the Tent Caterpillar will be worse this spring than ever. I have already gathered a large quantity of the larve and eggs, but property owners should look over their fruit trees, especially wild cherry trees, and destroy eggs where found. Piles of brush laying about should be burned. Your Superintendent is at your service at any time to assist you in any way to destroy this pest. No appropriation has been raised for its suppression, but by everyone looking over their property it can be eliminated to a great extent.

The power sprayer will need to be overhauled and put in condition for this year, also repairs will be needed on the wagon. The cost will be approximately $250.00.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Local Moth Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE REFORESTATION COMMITTEE

Last year, at the regular town meeting, a report of the Reforestation committee was read you. At that time the committee was but newly organized and to an extent not familiar with the subject.

Since then the committee has held several meetings and the matter of available land for a town forest gone into quite thoroughly.

Briefly the matter stands as follows, the State, through the Mass. Forestry Association has asked every town to set aside some land for a town forest. The Mass. Forestry Association has agreed to plant 5,000 trees, (about five acres) for any city or town that would create a town forest of 100 or more acres. This offer has been extended to cover 1924. The land need not be in one tract, but may be in several plots. It is usually land of the cut over or scrub growth type, primarily suited to tree growth. In passing it may be said that six towns qualified in time to have the planting done last year in the spring. Bernardston, Groton, Goshen, North Attleboro, Russell and Falmouth and they planted in the aggregate 45,000 trees on their own forests in addition to the 30,000 planted by the Association.

Your committee, through investigation and consultation has in mind enough land, of a suitable nature, to make the acceptance of the Mass. Forestry Assn. possible; but before going into details it may be well to say a few words in regard to the movement; just what it means to Mass. and to Randolph in particular.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

America is cutting over four (4) times as much wood annually as is grown. Fire, disease and insects are destroying about one tenth as much wood as we consume. About one person in twenty, of our total population, depends upon the forest and its product for a living. A shift for these persons to other employment is inevitable, and that in the very near future.

Mass. has 350 wood-using industries which represents an investment of over $50,000,000. employing over 50,000 people and paying over $1,000,000. in taxes annually. Can we afford to lose these industries, or to see them crippled, through shortage or lack of available raw material.

We need not dwell upon the high cost of home building. Approximately 25 per cent of the cost of construction is represented by lumber.

Mass. has 1,000,000 acres of land lying idle or given over to scrub growth, much of this land is contiguous to towns. A part of that 1,000,000 acres is right here in Randolph.

This brings us back to available land in the town of Randolph which may be suitable for reforestation. The following parcels are called to your attention:

6 acres—41 acres—10 acres—23 acres—120 acres—
16 3-4 acres—16 acres—15 acres—43 acres—605 acres
A total of 895 acres.

The owners can turn over this land to the State for town forest requirements. The land may be redeemed within ten years upon payment of cost of maintenance. This we are assured is a good investment as the State assumes control for that period and gives the land and trees thereon the same excellent attention as is bestowed upon the state reservations.

Please bear in mind that a continued evasion of this question spells indifference, or, to be harsher, selfishness on the part of our present citizens toward our next generation.

The State Forestry Assn. informs us that between 50 and 80 Mass. towns would be in line this year with their one hundred acres. This means that, at best, we may tail the procession.

May we mention Belcher Park, at the foot of Park Street, as a nucleus to which might be added other available land to make up our quota of 100 acres.

Regular meeting of the School Committee second and last Friday of every month at 7:30 P. M.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The school year of 1923-1924 opened in a very satisfactory manner to your Committee. With an efficient staff of teachers in all our schools, facilities to accomodate every child seeking an education and a splendid harmony concerning all school matters, we submit our report for the past year.

Although hampered in our financial resources for reasons which are explained later, we have tried to provide everything possible for the teachers, especially in regard to books and supplies, to enable them to continue the same results that they have secured in the past.

This year, we will try to systematize the replacement of textbooks and the buying of all supplies, so that every classroom will have a certain percentage of new books and supplies for the entire year.

EXPENDITURES

This year, bills amounting to approximately $3,500, which were contracted in 1922, were paid out of the appropriation for 1923. If this custom continued indefinitely, we might find ourselves in the same position as the School Committee of a neighboring town which had been allowing bills to accumulate for some time, with the result that the town officers had to call a special town meeting in order to relieve the town and its school committee of a very serious predicament.

We have endeavored to eliminate this, what might become a custom, and place before you an actual account of our expenditures during 1923. In order to start the year 1924 without a burden of unpaid bills, we are asking for a special appropriation of $2,500 in order to clean up these accounts. As this appropriation is $1,000 less than the amount paid out by the Committee for bills of 1922, we have succeeded in reducing this debt, and if the appropriation is allowed, we will start the year 1924 with a clean slate.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Randolph must prepare to have a school superintendent of its own. The ever increasing enrollment in our schools and the number of schoolhouses we maintain necessitates this action.

If this were a private business, and our schools were factories, it would be ridiculous to have them spread over such a large area, and without a superintendent who could devote his entire time and attention to school and educational work within the confines of our town. Our schools are factories, factories of the most important type, to develop and educate the future citizens of town and country, in fact, they are the backbone of civilization.

The amount added to our school expense would be a very small item when compared with the profitable results which would follow both to the town and to the school children.

PROTECTION OF CHILDREN

It is our endeavor to secure all protection possible for the school children on the streets. Every year it is becoming a more complicated matter, and careful study shows we must soon call on the police department of the town for more officers, especially before and after school hours.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

Stetson High School commands our consideration. With an enrollment of over two hundred pupils, it has been necessary to sacrifice the Assembly Hall and make it a classroom.

We could write many pages in regard to the wants and needs of our High School, but will simply state that the addition of new classrooms is absolutely necessary to provide for the development of the school along classical, commercial and scientific lines.

BUILDING PLANS

The absolute necessity of immediate and serious attention to our school buildings system by every citizen is sincerely urged by your Committee.

In forming plans for our present day needs, we must provide for the future also, and no step can be taken without due consideration and study of every element that enters into school and educational problems.

Today, the education of a child is divided into three units: Elementary, Junior High and Senior High School. Our first subject should be our Grammar or Elementary Schools.

The Prescott Grammar School contains six good class rooms and is in very fair condition. With a few improvements, such as new floors, etc., and replacing the old desks and chairs with new, modern equipment, it would be in excellent condition and good for another long term of service.

The Prescott Primary School, or No. 8 Building, has five classrooms, with a possible division of the lower north room into two classrooms, making it the same as the upper part of the building. This is also a good schoolhouse which has not outgrown its usefulness.

The Belcher School must now be considered. It is our honest opinion that it should be replaced immediately, or in the very near future, by a modern school building, with a suitable playground for the children. This antiquated structure has fulfilled its duties and should be retired from our active list of schoolhouses with an honorable discharge.

In planning for a new building in this locality, we must keep in mind the fact that it must provide for the educational wants of the various sections of the town. First, its own immediate vicinity. Second, the West Corner and Canton Street district. Third, the North Randolph section. Fourth, the lower North Street district and the part of Randolph popularly known as "Haydenville."

The question arises, where would be the best possible site? We think the logical answer is: The erection of a new school building on any one of the two or more excellent sites between Liberty and Orchard Streets. ,

The State Board of Education favors the centralization of all elementary schools into one big unit in a town of this size. They have found that the best results are procured by this system.

As the town is in no financial position to consider such a plan at present, or in the near future, and it would also mean the discarding of the two Prescott Schools, which would be wasteful and unnecessary, we suggest a division of the town into a North and a South Section for elementary schools.

The two Prescott Schools can take care of the town center, the Warren Street district, the lower Tower Hill district, South Main Street to the Avon line, the Union Street district and the Holbrook Gardens. Every section of the town would be provided for in these two big centralized units and our school system placed on a progressive, economical basis.

We are suggesting this as merely one of several feasible plans, in order to interest every taxpayer, with the hope that Randolph will make a real effort to solve our school problems.

To accomplish this, we are asking the Town to appoint a special committee of seven men to act in conjunction with the School Committee in making a thorough investigation of our schools, and report back as soon as possible with their recommendations.

Citizens of Randolph, let us place our town in its true position as regards our schools.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES R. KILEY, Chairman.

FLORENCE S. RODDAN, Secretary.

JAMES F. KENNEDY.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Randolph.

Gentlemen :

I herewith submit my third annual report of the public schools of Randolph :

Realizing that our public schools constitute the most expensive department and activity of the community, I hesitate to begin this report with a matter which foretells a further outlay of public money. No thoughtful person, I believe, would in any way withhold public funds when it is understood that the standing and efficiency of our schools are at stake and particularly when the best of economy in school practices has been observed. No fad or education novel is here sought, simply a question of providing accommodations for our growing school population.

The enrollment this year was 1141, 90 more than last year. This increase was provided for by changing the small assembly room in the high school into a class room and by opening up two new class rooms in the Prescott Primary building. A further subdivision of the lower room in that building will undoubtedly take care of some 32 extra pupils another year. When that space is filled, all available room in our schools will then have been used up. On the basis of this year's increase, there will still be some 50 or 75 pupils for whom provision must be made another year.

Increase this year	90

It is the sincere hope of your superintendent that through you some definite action will be taken at the next town meeting whereby and through which a building program may be started which will receive the support and interest of the thinking people of our town. It must be clear to all that such a program is inevitable and that to postpone it from year to year will tend only to complicate the situation and rob the Committee and citizens of sufficient time for careful, constructive thinking and planning.

INSTRUCTION

Every effort is put forth to the end that our instruction shall be most thorough and efficient. Teachers are whole heartedly in the work. Extra teachers, class rooms, new books and supplies this year have added materially to this end. Reading has received special attention. Not word reading alone is sought, but content, thought getting an expression. The same objectives are likewise sought in music and drawing. Not mere note or line reading but expression, harmony and beauty.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Our school exhibits for the last two years have been of a very high order; we are proud of them. Every parent is urged to study these exhibits. Our teachers have, with a great deal of care and hard work, placed on file a complete accumulative record of each child's work for the year. These records afford the parents a first-handed opportunity to study the progress of their children in any or all subjects offered in school.

EDUCATION WEEK

In accordance with the nation-wide observance of Education Week, our schools were thrown open Nov. 18-24 for public visitation and inspection. The large attendance of parents and friends particularly at the evening session of the senior and junior high schools was very gratifying. It was a clear manifestation of the interest and faith which the citizens have in their schools and their great mission for public good.

NEW TEACHERS

The loss of teachers last year was greater than usual. Ten new members have joined our teaching force, two of them filling the new positions created by the organization of two new class rooms. Although feeling the loss of our former teachers, I am pleased to report that these new teachers are faithfully at work and are getting results.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Appointment of a committee to study and submit a building program for school needs and accommodations.

2. Installation of new desks and chairs to replace the old ones now in use and in poor condition at the Prescott and Belcher schools. One or two rooms may be taken each year until completed.

3. Equip and maintain an office for the superintendent of schools in the Randolph Town Hall, and to provide clerical help for two days each week.

Reasons for such a recommendation are these:

- a. Of the 74 union superintendencies of the State, this is the second largest.
- b. A public office with regular hours is an essential factor for public service.
- c. Increasing demand for educational reports and surveys.
- d. Pending House Bill No. 152 which would add to the duties and responsibilities of the superintendent.
- e. The necessity of keeping school files and records in public property and not at the home of the superintendent.

Estimated cost.

Equipment: desk, chairs, cabinets, etc. . . . 175.

Clerical help two days a week at 5.00 for 45 weeks 450.

In closing my report I wish again to express my appreciation of the cooperation and help which I have received from you, from the teachers, parents and the various civic organizations of the town. I wish to extend my thanks to the Randolph Ladies' Library Asso-

EIGHTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

Trustees of Stetson High School, and Superintendent of Schools.

Gentlemen :

The school register for the year 1923-24 shows a total enrollment of 213. The number of girls is 118 while the boys number 95. The senior class had 36 members in September, the junior class 44; in the second year were 50 pupils, while the number of the first year pupils was 83. The class of 1924 has the distinction of beginning its senior year with the largest enrollment in the history of the school. Two members of the class have removed from Randolph since September, one to Boston and the other to California, but even with this loss the class is the largest senior class we have ever enrolled.

In recent years we have registered at the beginning of the fall term a very considerable number of pupils who have changed their residence to some other town or city before the Christmas vacation. Only at rare intervals do pupils come to us from other places after the opening of the fall term. It is somewhat of a problem to classify those pupils who have had nine years of school before entering high school; in some cases they are fully able to do the work of our second year, while in other instances they are no farther advanced than our first year pupils.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The Massachusetts State Board of Education prescribes for high schools one teacher to each twenty-five pupils in addition to the principal; many small high schools exceed this minimum, which would mean a total for our school of ten teachers; we at present have only eight teachers including the principal, so that, if we are to satisfy the State Board we ought to employ two additional teachers. The State Board puts a penalty on the towns which fail to provide the required number of teachers by ranking them in class B in their certification privilege to normal schools; any high school in class B may certify only pupils in the upper half of the class and these pupils may be certified only in subjects in which they have received a rank of B or A. If the town wishes its school to be placed in class A by the State Board it must therefore employ two additional teachers.

Of the class of 1923 three members are now in the State Normal School at Bridgewater. Four others who are graduates of this school, and who entered on our certificate are also at Bridgewater. The College Entrance Certificate Board at present recognizes our certificate. The teachers of Stetson High School are confident that pupils may be well prepared for college the work incident to a college preparation; it is plain in the school if only such pupils will do their share of the work incident to a college preparation; it is plain that teachers cannot do the work for their pupils; a girl or boy who intends to enter college ought to maintain a class room average of B or A. Reports of work in each subject are sent to parents regularly so that they may be informed of the standing of pupils; when a rank of C or D is sent home for any pupil who intends to enter a higher institution there ought to be a thorough investigation of the failure. In some cases it is desirable that pupils spend an extra year before entering college even though their ranks may justify certification on graduation. Private Schools insist, as a rule, on the added mental power which usually comes at an age one or two years greater than that of our pupils at the time they finish their high school course.

The age of a pupil does not altogether determine his mental maturity and balance—and while the tendency today in our public schools is to keep the members of the class together, if possible, and to graduate them all at the end of the four years, yet we find that some individuals of a class develop rapidly while others fall behind. This retardation very often occurs in the case of pupils who desire to enter college, and it must not be ascribed to any fault of the teachers, any more than a retardation in physical development may be rated as a fault of the individuals or of his parents or teachers. Many boys at sixteen have attained the strength and stature of men while their classmates are still in the little boy stage.

Fifty new desks have been placed in the assembly and the room has been provided with blackboards; the school has long since become too large to allow us to use the assembly room as a place where we may all come together; as a classroom it is the most commodious room in the building and probably the best lighted and in every way the pleasantest school-room in town. The new desks are of the movable type and may easily be taken out of the room so that the room may be used for meetings of various organizations as in the past. We are able to give all our pupils suitable desk accomodation without using the laboratory for a home room. This is due to the fact that we have the additional space afforded by the assembly room. We have desk room at present for 225 pupils. It would, of course, be a great advantage to have a suitable assembly room; such a room ought to seat 300 with ample space for aisles and with room in front for a grand piano. The assembly room has a very important place in a modern high school. On several occasions we have used Stetson Hall for assembly purposes, but it is somewhat difficult to go there, and it is a matter of expense.

The class of 1923 gave to the school at graduation in June a steel filing cabinet for use in the school office. With the cabinet was included a steel card-index draw with two compartments. The class of 1923 before their graduation also planted a rock maple on the schoollawn. The tree is growing and gives promise of perpetuating the memory of the class for many years.

The Turner Reference room at present we use for a typewriting room; it would be most suitable to restore the room to its original purpose as a room to which pupils may go for reading and for reference work if only some other room could be provided for our typewriting machines; during the past two years we have added many volumes of reference in history and this year the additions were mainly books of reference for teachers; these books were selected from a list furnished by the State Board of Education and include many volumes of history and psychology of education, and others of school management; they make a valuable asset to our school library, being the best and the latest works on education.

The number of typewriting machines at present in use is 15; all our machines are of the latest type and kept in good condition. It would be well to purchase an adding machine so that the pupils may become familiar with this very common office appliance; we also recommend a modern collapsible typewriting desk which would familiarize our pupils with this almost universal adjunct to office work.

Our school sports at present include baseball and basket-ball for our boys and field hockey and basket-ball for the girls. Even with this very limited program we find it hard to get money necessary to pay the bills which are incident to such activities. Take baseball for instance; we require several dozen balls, suits, bats shoes and many other things for the game while a single trip to another town costs at least ten dollars; now adding all the items of expense for the season and dividing by the number of games we find that each game costs an average of about fifteen dollars. If we take in three dollars at a home game we are doing very well. Over $100 was spent for field-hockey for the girls this fall.

Our fire drill has been maintained regularly with an average of two drills per month. The weather conditions to date have been favorable for the drill. The best time made was 54 seconds from the sounding of the alarm to the completion of the exit. A fire-gong ought to be installed so that it would not be necessary to use the program bells for ringing the fire signal.

On Feb. 1, the class of 1924 presented their class play "Getting Acquainted with Madge." The advance sale of tickets completely exhausted the supply and with this raises the question of having such plays run two nights. The expenses of the production were about $150. The class will use the proceeds to defray the expenses of graduation.

The "Stetson Oracle", first issued by the class of 1916, is intended to be a vehicle for English expression. It is worthy of note that one of the editors of the first volume now holds an important position as a newspaper correspondent in Washington. There ought to be at least 500 regular subscribers to the school paper. With this circulation we could dispense with some of the advertising and give much more space to contributions from pupils of the school.

The curved driveway in front of the school building should be concreted or hardened in some way so that in bad weather we could reach the building without wading through the mud. This would not be a very great expense since the amount of surface to be covered is comparatively small and the improvement would add a great deal to the appearance of the premises which really are a show place in our town. It is a very disagreeable experience to be obliged day after day to enter the building with shoes covered with mud when a little attention such as has been suggested would remedy the matter.

FREDERICK E. CHAPIN.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir :

Music in our schools is progressing very favorably.

In some of the classes where there is no material, and in other rooms where books are lacking in number and condition, the situation is certainly very trying and results are more or less discouraging. Surely no amount of labor can bring about the desired results if the children are denied the necessary means of obtaining it.

Children who have attended the Randolph Schools for the greater part of their school life, have manifested a knowledge of music far superior to those children who have entered our schools from other cities and towns, which proves that good, faithful conscientious work has been done by Supervisor and teachers.

This year the Assembly Hall of the High School has been converted into a class room with accommodations for fifty pupils. This room being the only place available for singing, I have had the very unpleasant task of selecting fifty girls and the same number of boys to make up the singing quota. This plan is contrary to my wishes, as the vast majority of the pupils are eligible for the singing class; nor does this plan meet with the approval of either parent or pupil. Consequently a great deal of dissatisfaction has resulted from this change. However we look forward to more satisfactory conditions, with better results in the near future.

I take the opportunity to thank the members of the School-board, the teachers and you, Mr. Christiansen, for the hearty cooperation extended me.

Respectfully submitted,
ROSE G. HAND,
Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools,

Dear Sir:

I hereby submit the following report:

Children weighed and measured	464
Homes visited for non-vaccination	60
Head examinations	225
Children excluded for Physician's diagnosis....	5
Homes visited for defective vision	3
Homes visited for defective hearing	2
Homes visited for pediculosis	10

Health talks have been given from time to time in all grades and a large number of prophylactic tooth brushes distributed to children. Arrangements are now being made for a health clinic to be held in the town hall.

I am very grateful to the parents, teachers and pupils for their cooperation and help in making my services most effective.

Respectfully submitted,
(Sgn.) Julia M. Leary, R. N.

REPORT OF THE DRAWING SUPERVISOR

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools,

Dear Sir:

I respectfully submit my report to you as Supervisor of drawing in the schools of Randolph for the four months ending December 31st 1923.

The high school work in mechanical drawing is progressing very well and the pupils seem much interested.

The freehand class is doing good work, considering the amount of time they have to devote to drawing.

The work accomplished in the grades, which so far has consisted of nature work, construction, printing, color theory, perspective and simple posters is very satisfactory. Whenever possible the work has been correlated with other class room projects.

I take this opportunity to thank Mr. Christiansen, the teachers and pupils for their kind cooperation and consideration which has made my work a pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

(Sgd.) Emma C. Moore.

Supervisor of Drawing.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

STETSON SCHOOL FUND

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The investment of Stetson School Fund was changed somewhat, from the previous year. The Bank Stock of the Boylston National Bank was liquidated by the First National Bank and the sum of two thousand dollars was returned to the fund. As a good 6 per cent. real estate mortgage seemed to be the best investment at this time a five thousand dollar loan was made.

For the past few years there has been a yearly loss in the operating expense of Stetson Hall. Due to the increased cost of fuel, electric lights and repair work, the income derived from rental has not balanced the outlay. During the year 1923 there was a loss of one hundred ninety dollars, and for the year 1922 a loss of one hundred eighty-nine dollars.

The investment at present is as follows:

2 Boston & Maine Railroad Bonds	$2,000.00
9 American Tel. & Tel. Bonds	9,000.00
2 Liberty Bonds, $1,000 each	2,000.00

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ASSESSORS

1924

OF THE ASSESSORS

TO THE CITIZENS OF RANDOLPH:

The Board of Assessors for the year 1924 met early in March soon after the Annual Election at which two new members were added to the Board, Messrs. James H. Hurley and Henry V. Morgan, and organized with James H. Hurley, chairman, and Henry V. Morgan, secretary, with James E. Foley as the third member of the Board.

Prior to making a review of the taxable property of the Town our Board made a study of the General Laws relating to Local Taxation and held a conference with Charles W. Dow of the staff of the State Tax Commissioner, for the purpose of becoming familiar with the requirements of the State Tax Commissioner's Office.

Our Board then made a general review of the existing valuations and arrived at the conclusion that in a great many instances property was undervalued, more particularly land many parcels of which, were being carried at values placed thereon a score of years ago, notwithstanding the fact that during the intervening years major improvements such as permanent roadways, water, gas, electricity, etc., had been installed, and also the fact that the actual value had increased. Many of these parcels contained large frontage areas on some of our principal streets and yet were taxed on about the same basis as waste or pasture land while the very nature of the land and the demand for it for building purposes placed it in the class of improved land.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

While the same conditions did not exist with regard to buildings it was found that a great many cases existed of unequal values. In view of the fact that such conditions existed the Assessors came to the conclusion that the best results could be obtained by the full Board reviewing the taxable property of the entire Town instead of each Assessor reviewing one-third of the property. This decision of course meant that three times the amount of work would ensue but the Assessors considered that the extra effort would be amply rewarded by way of the results obtained and accompanying benefits which would accrue to the majority of taxpayers.

REDUCTION IN TAX RATE OF $4.20

The field work of the Assessors, that is the actual review of the property, produced many surprises. While the customary interpretation of the public is that a reduction in the tax rate usually results from an increase in the valuation of existing property or from the addition of new property, such explanations do not account as a whole for the reduction in this instance. Any benefit usually derived through the assessing of new buildings or dwelling houses was lost in 1924 by way of being offset by an increase in expenditures—through the form of appropriations which were approximately $4,000 more in 1924 than in 1923. This increase in expenditures would offset more than $135,000 of assessments on new property, the actual value of which would be close to $200,000 which exceeded the value of newly constructed buildings and dwellings.

Part of the reduction in tax rate does come under the explanation of an increase in the valuation of existing property, but it was absolutely not a general re-valuation of property, from the viewpoint of a general increase on all taxable property which is evidenced by the fact that the majority of taxpayers enjoyed a reduction in the amount of their bills. The increase in the value of buildings as shown by our report was $235,300, approximately one-half of which was for new construction, the balance derived principally through the equalization of existing values.

The increase in the valuation of land is very noticeable to the extent of $277,000. One of the surprises found in our field work previously referred to was in the existing assessments of land values. We found large tracts of land of an improved nature bordering and fronting on some of our principal streets carrying valuations usually applied to pasture and waste land. In some instances the land was in the process of development. This condition was remedied by assessing the land on a building lot basis.

Existing land assessments in practically all sections of the Town were found to be unequal. For instance on certain streets we found that while the area of each lot and the conditions of the land were about the same, there were hardly any two valuations of the same amount. This condition was remedied by excluding all the previous valuations, the determination of a fair value and the application of the same to all lots of similar area and condition.

A great deal of land was found that was not assessed taxes for years. A glowing example of the seriousness of the matter is in the case of a certain developer who has had a certain section of our Town under development for a number of years. In the previous year 1923, his holdings were assessed as 7 lots on which he paid a tax of $11.42, while in 1924 our Board secured plans of his development and assessed to him all lots that had not been conveyed to purchasers and the result was that his tax bill for the year 1924 was $142 on 339 lots.

The net increase in personal property was $142,800. The total increase was of course much larger, but was reduced by the usual annual reduction due to the depreciation in the value of motor cars, and there were also reductions in certain valuations of merchants and manufacturers due to the carrying of smaller stocks, etc. However, the increase was in a large part due to taxing of a great deal of property which was untaxed heretofore. Evidence of this fact may be found in our report of the assessment of automobiles. In 1924 our Board taxed 750 automobiles while only 481 were assessed in the previous year. While there would be a slight normal increase in the number of motor car owners the increase in the number actually taxed or 269 would be 56% which indicates that a large amount of such personal taxable property was untaxed heretofore.

The taxing of other classes of personal property such as certain classes of machinery and stock all of which involved thousands of dollars which have not been taxed in the past also added to the increase in the personal property valuation.

ABATEMENTS

There is probably no part of the duties of an As-

essor that require more thought and consideration than the matter of abatements. The granting of abatements is governed by the General Laws of the Commonwealth but a great deal of the responsibility rests with Assessors who are to investigate the circumstances in each case before arriving at a decision. While the individual applying for an abatement must receive just consideration the interests of the taxpayers as a whole must also be considered. It should be realized that the granting of an abatement is the same as an expenditure of money. Abatements should also be reconsidered each year in each individual case as conditions change currently which alter the individual's claim for abatement. If this practice were followed abatements would not be made automatically year in and year out. We believe our Board effected a great deal of economy in this direction which resulted in benefits to the taxpayers as a whole without any injustice to any individual taxpayer. As an illustration our Board refused to grant an abatement to a certain organization which had been enjoying an exemption of $2,500 each year for a period of thirteen years on the grounds that it was illegal. Both the taxpayer in this instance and our Board consulted the tax authorities of the Commonwealth who ruled in our favor that the abatement could not be legally made. The saving in this instance was $71 for the year 1924. At the current rate of taxes this meant a loss to the Town during the period that abatements were granted of close to $1,000.

RECOMMENDATIONS—MAPS

The work of the Assessors is greatly retarded and handicapped by lack of plans of the Town's property showing locations and areas as well as ownership. This matter is of importance to all the taxpayers as a great deal of revenue is lost through property that is not taxed as evidenced by our report. The loss through this channel is of course borne by the taxpayers as a whole and of course is all the more serious when it is realized that such conditions exist over a period of years. To make the point more forceable we submit a case taken at random of an ordinary building lot which was last assessed and taxed in 1903. This lot was taxed in 1924 by us for $8.52 so that the total loss to the Town for the many years that it was untaxed at the current rate would be $178.92. And this is only a normal case of a small parcel while in the course of our work many larger parcels were found that were previously untaxed for years. Many of the surrounding towns have taken steps in this direction. The work and cost of such plans does not have to be accomplished in any one year in fact it is the recommendation of our Board that a nominal sum of say $400 or $500 be appropriated annually until the entire task is completed. This system is followed in many communities in fact the Town of Whitman recently completed similar work in the same manner by having a section of the Town mapped out each year and the total cost was in the amount of about $4,500.

PRESERVATION OF RECORDS

There is an apparent lack of system in the preservation of the Public Records in our Town Hall. The vault space used jointly by several of the Town's Departments is wholly inadequate. At present there is insufficient space to properly protect and preserve such records as Assessors Valuation Books, Probate Court Records, Copies of Conveyances as received from the County Registry, etc. Such records should be preserved in fireproof storage facilities. It is our recommendation that the Trustees of the Stetson Fund, the interest on which now exceeds the principal, expend such sum as is necessary to provide such facilities for the several Town Departments together with the remodeling of the lower Stetson Hall in such a manner that the space may be properly utilized and suitable office space provided for the transaction of the public's business which was one of the objects of the Stetson Fund.

CREDITS

Credits is a classification used for revenue received by the Town from various sources and used by the Assessors in reducing the total expense to be provided for through the tax levy. Through our efforts in the form of investigations and conferences with various Town Departments more particularly the Board of Selectmen, certain moneys due the Town were collected and placed in the Town Treasury. All the taxpayers benefited by the action taken as such revenues contributed in part to the reduction in tax rate. This subject is further discussed in the succeeding paragraph relating to "Free Cash in the Treasury."

FREE CASH IN THE TREASURY

There is in the treasury of our Town at the present time a considerable sum of money which is classified as free cash. This sum is legally classified as free cash because it is in the nature of a surplus. Such free cash has never at least in recent years been appropriated for use by the Assessors which is the customary use to which such sums are applied.

Such surplus cash can not be used by the Assessors in reducing the annual expense to be provided for through the tax levy unless it is appropriated for such a purpose at a Town Meeting. The Assessors do annually estimate current revenue which is used to reduce the total expense to be provided for, but this surplus represents revenue received in the course of years from various sources which the Assessors were unaware of, from receipts in excess of Assessors' estimates, etc. Such surplus cash should be appropriated each year in the future and not permitted to accumulate to such a large sum as now exists for in effect it means that a certain amount of unnecessary taxes are levied each year with a surplus existing in the Town Treasury.

The amount of such surplus cash is now estimated to be in the vicinity of $30,000. We realize and we believe the taxpayers will recognize the necessity of the Town maintaining a normal amount of surplus cash in its Treasury the same as any other financial institution, but at the same time the amount as exists at the present time is unquestionably more than is required and more than should be permitted to exist.

This matter will be discussed at the Annual Town Meeting and it is hoped that the Town Report for the past year will be in the hands of the Taxpayers sufficiently in advance of the Meeting to permit their perusal of this matter in order that it may be efficiently and intelligently considered.

ENDORSEMENT AND APPROVAL OF STATE TAX AUTHORITIES OF ASSESSORS METHODS AND RESULTS OBTAINED

It is certainly a pleasure for us to announce that the State Tax Commissioner has accepted the valuation placed upon Randolph's property without adjustment. This is an unusual occurrence for in recent years large sums have been added to the Assessed Valuation by the Commissioner for the purpose of allocating the State Tax. In fact in 1923 the sum of $900,000 was added to the Assessed Valuation. This should correct an apparent misunderstanding held by certain taxpayers that if property is properly valued or increased the State Tax will be greater. On the contrary if the Commissioner finds the property of a community undervalued, in fairness to other cities and towns that are properly assessed he causes such adjustment to be made as will equalize the apportionment of the State Tax.

We will conclude our report by assuring the citizens of Randolph that the same attention and effort devoted to the Town's Tax problems in 1924 will be continued in 1925 and in this direction we want to announce that we are co-operating with the State Tax Commissioner in an endeavor to institute and organize a Norfolk County Association of Assessors. It is hoped to accomplish beneficial results through such an Association in the direction of having uniform methods used throughout the County.

We believe that our efforts summarized through a reduction in Tax Rate of $4.20 were of great benefit to the taxpayers as a whole and it is our sincere hope that the taxpayers will co-operate with the Board of Assessors in their endeavor to maintain a reasonable and attractive tax rate for Randolph to aid in the development and growth of the Town, by practicing economy in the form of appropriations.

Yours truly,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS, 1924.

The above schedule may be interpreted also as indicating the number of cents in each dollar raised through taxation or appropriated for the various departments, for example, forty-three cents out of every dollar appropriated or raised through taxation is for the purpose of Education, six cents of every dollar for Poor and Welfare, etc.

P. S.—Since giving our original report to the printer we have compiled data indicating that our abatements for 1924 amounted to $3,251.35 against $5,325.18 for the previous year 1923. Our Board provided through the 1924 tax levy $4,586.40, so that the actual cash savings was $1,335.35, which adds to the Town's surplus which the taxpayers will receive the benefit of in 1925. We expect to further reduce abatements in 1925 as two-thirds of our 1924 abatements were for previous years taxes.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
SELECTMEN,
Overseers of the Poor
AND
BOARD of HEALTH
1924

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE
SELECTMEN AND OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

To the Voters of Randolph:

In presenting this report for the year 1924 your Selectmen desire to call attention particularly to the efficiency of the Police Department, to the separate report of which we herewith refer. By providing a competent officer with motorcycle equipment, similar to that of the State Constabulary, proper police protection to all parts of the Town and satisfactory control of motor vehicle traffic were assured. While the Special Police appropriation has been exceeded by $300.39 this excess is several times offset by the $1,122.95 returned to the Town Treasury from fines collected by the courts.

The reconstruction of West Street to its junction with Warren Street was completed, and of Warren Street to the railroad, after considerable effort on our part to secure the funds. The State and County Commissions have been asked to join with the Town in completing the reconstruction of Warren Street from the railroad to Main Street, in 1925. Also the State Commission has been asked to take over Union Street from Crawford Square to the Holbrook line as a State highway. Meantime the Rosetti Contracting Company has been sued for $30,000 damages for the poor work done by them on North Main Street, while their suit against the Town of Randolph has been abandoned.

The appropriation for the Poor out of Almshouse has been handled as carefully as possible, resulting in an unexpended balance of $1,018.22. There is also an unexpended balance of $1,282.93 on the Chapter 118, Mothers' Aid work.

Finally there is a net unexpended balance of $2,901.77 above all payments on all appropriations, which sum remains in the Town Treasury.

RICHARD F. FORREST,

ERSKINE H. COX,

JAMES E. FOLEY,

Board of Selectmen and Overseers of Poor.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The following cases of contagious disease occurring in the town were reported to this Board during the year:

Chicken Pox	1
Diphtheria	3
Measles	42
Mumps	3
Scarlet Fever	29
Tuberculosis (with 4 deaths)	10
Typhoid Fever	1
Venereal Disease (lapsed case)	1

Cases of contagious disease have doubtless occurred that have not been officially reported. It may be that a physician is called only once, which generally is not enough to determine fully the cause of illness. Again, sometimes parents refuse to call a doctor preferring home treatment as in a recent occurrence on Oak Street, where this Board sent a physician on its own account, who found a typical case of scarlet fever in one child with the probability that the rest had already been attacked. Such neglect threatens serious consequences not only to the children concerned but to the entire neighborhood if not the whole town.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

All persons therefore, are strongly urged to report to the Board of Health all suspicious cases of illness, unless a doctor is known to be in attendance.

RICHARD F. FORREST,
ERSKINE H. COX,
JAMES E. FOLEY,

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Water Commissioners
1924

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The thirty-ninth annual report of the Water Commissioners is herewith submitted for the year ending December 31, 1924.

The extension of the water mains along North Main Street connecting with the mains at West Corners and Pond Street was completed in May by Mr. A. C. Trojano of Brockton. This work was done by contract and exceeded the appropriation to the extent of 56.04; this was caused by more ledge work than was anticipated. The connection is very important as it gives two complete lines of mains between the pumping station and the West Corners.

Another important extension was from the Belcher School on Belcher Street to Liberty Street. By extending the main to Liberty Street we have cut out a dead end at the Belcher School. This will cause a better circulation of the water and give an opportunity for several more services. It is the intention of your Commissioners to tie up all such dead ends as soon as possible.

An extension of the main was made on Highland Avenue; here the six-inch main was extended two hundred feet; this extension was made on an agreement that the petitioner should pay for water an amount equivalent to 6% of the expense of the extension.

Another extension was made on Centre Street, the same guarantee being given as on Highland Avenue.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Your Commissioners, in conjunction with the Holbrook and Braintree Water Commissioners, and with the advice and consent of the State Department of Health, purchased from A. B. Mann, a tract of land bordering on Great Pond, containing about ten and a quarter acres, and from Frank C. Walsh and George H. Eddy, a lot of land with a cottage.. The Towns of Randolph, Holbrook and Braintree now own all the land adjoining the shore of the pond from Pond Street south and east to the Braintree line with the exception of one building lot.

The condition of the water remains good as shown by the reports from the State Department of Health; the mains are also in good condition and show very little corrosion. Much labor is caused, however, by the loosening of the lead joints in the service pipe connections. Early in the year, the department found in checking the amount of water going through the pumps, that there was a loss of water amounting to about five hundred thousand gallons daily. The superintendent walked over all the mains in Randolph and Holbrook endeavoring to trace any signs of a leak and could not find any, a leak detector was purchased, by the use of this instrument it was found that a lead joint had blown out of the eight-inch main on Warren Street right over a culvert, the water emptying in the stream. This was the largest loss of water since the installation of the water works. Leaks appear at the joints which necessitate digging down to the parts in order to make repairs. This condition is bound to increase with the age of the mains. There were twelve leaks in the fourteen-inch main the past year due to the loosened lead joints.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

During the past year fifty-seven new services have been added to the system.

Unpaid water bills have increased to some extent this year, and we ask your co-operation that this amount may be reduced.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following regulations, until further notice, shall be considered a part of the contract with every person who uses water:

1. All applications for use of water must be made at the office of the Water Commissioners, and state fully the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Water will not be introduced into any building or premises except on the written application of the owner thereof, or by a duly authorized agent. The property will in all cases be held responsible for the water rates.

2. All persons taking water must keep their water pipes and fixtures in good repair and protected from the frost at their own expense. They will be held liable for all damages resulting from their failure to do so. They shall prevent all unnecessary waste, and water shall not be left running to prevent freezing. The Water Commissioners or their agent may, from time to time, ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of its use, and whether there is any unnecessary waste. They and their agents shall have free access to the premises supplied, to examine the apparatus, and if any fixtures are found not to be in good order, they shall direct them repaired, and if not repaired within two days the water shall be shut off and not let on again until such repairs are made, and the sum of two dollars paid for shutting off and turning on the water.

3. The occupant of any premises, when unnecessary waste of water occurs, shall be liable to a fine of two dollars for the first offence, and four dollars for the second offence during the same year, and shall be notified thereof in writing; and if such waste is not prevented and the aforesaid paid within two days from the time when the said notice is given, the water shall be shut off the premises, and shall not be again let on for the same occupant until the waste be stopped and the fine paid, together with an additional sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water and in case of a third or subsequent offence the water shall be shut off, and shall not be again be let on except by a vote of the Water Commissioners and the payment of such fine, not exceeding ten dollars, as the Water Commissioners may impose.

4. Any person supplied with water shall not allow another to take water from their fixtures without the written permission of the Water Commissioners. If any tenant having no fixtures, has any use of such fixtures, full rates will be charged for such use by each tenant.

5. All parties using water in stables, for horses or other animals, will be charged schedule rates for the same, whether it be carried by hand or through hose.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

6. All persons using water for building purposes are required to obtain a permit from the Water Commissioners before taking water from any faucet or fixture connected with the water works, and all water takers are warned not to let any party take water from their premises until they show a permit from the Water Commissioners. Any person furnishing water in violation of this section will be subject to a fine not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, and if the same when levied is not paid within three days from the time when the notice thereof is given, the water will be shut off from the premises and will not be let on again until such fine is paid.

7. All fixtures and water closets and urinals must be of a kind and quality approved by the Water Commissioners, also a Vacuum Valve must be installed on all Pressure Range Boilers connected with the system.

8. No person shall in any case be allowed to open any fire hydrants except by a written permit from the Water Commissioners; but the Engineers of the Fire Department shall in all cases have control of hydrants at fires and for practice.

9. The Commissioners reserve the right to restrict the use of hose or fountain, to shut off the water in all cases when it becomes necessary to make extensions or repairs, or for violations of any of the regulations, or whenever they deem it expedient.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

10. The regular rates for the use of water shall be payable in advance on the first days of January and July of each year, except where water is supplied to manufacturers by special agreement. In all cases of non-payment of the water rates within ten days after same is due, as well as for any violations of these rules and regulations, the supply will be shut off, and the water will not again be let on except upon the payment of the amount due, and the sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water.

11. The Water Commissioners reserve the right to change the water rates at any time, except in cases of dwelling houses and established special rates.

12. For business requiring large quantities of water, and all supplies not enumerated in the tariff of rates, special rates will be made.

13. Parties using water for manufacturing or domestic purposes can erect hydrants on their grounds or standpipes in their building to be used only as a protection against fire without additional charge for water.

14. All service pipes will be put in by the Water Commissioners. All applications for the introduction of service pipes into their premises are required to make written application therefor at the office of the Water Commissioners. The Commissioners may then proceed to lay the necessary service pipes to the interior of the building, provided all expense incurred beyond the line of the street shall be paid by the owner of the premises, who shall thereafter maintain and keep the same in good order at his own cost; and

OF THE
FIRE DEPARTMENT
1924

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Randolph, January 1, 1925.

To the Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

The following is a report of the Board of Engineers for the year of 1924.

The Department organized as follows:

Board of Engineers:

John J. Condon, Chief

Martin E. Young

Harold W. Macauley, Clerk

Company of Fifteen Men:

Henry Kiley, Captain

William Connell, Clerk

Harold L. Bailey, Driver

Roy Pepper, Assistant Driver

Ralph Cartwright, Assistant Driver

During the year there were sixty-six alarms—forty-eight box alarms and eighteen still alarms.

The Engineers had a great desire to keep within their appropriation but through no fault of theirs an overdraft will be noticed.

One of the reasons for this overdraft is that upon assuming office we found quite a large sum of the appropriation had then been spent, with bills coming in contracted by other engineers, such as for mud guards, electric lanterns, etc., which no doubt were needed, but without any provisions made for payment of same.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Due to the number of fires and the time spent at same, such as the High School and Camellio block, the hour service has far over-reached the appropriation.

During the year a number of boxes were burned out by the electric light wires dropping on the fire alarm. In one instance it cost the Town $50 to repair the box.

A great deal of work has been put in on the fire alarm system without any accomplishment, owing to the poor condition of some of the wires. Therefore, the Engineers recommend the sum of $500 be appropriated for the rebuilding of the line on Main street.

The Town has a north and south loop, and in the event of a break in any part of either loop the whole section is out of order. It is the desire of the engineers to overcome this by the addition of two more loops, so that if a break should occur, it would mean only a small part of the Town would be without service and locating the trouble would be an easy matter.

We have at present 3,000 feet of hose, a much smaller amount than demanded by the Board of Underwriters for a town of this size, and in view of the fact that some of this is not any too good, the Engineers are recommending that the Town buy 500 feet of 2½-inch double jacket hose.

The condition of the apparatus is good, and special mention should be given to Mr. Henry Campbell for the great care he took in making the LaFrance one of the most attractive pieces of fire apparatus in the vicinity.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The Maxim pumper is in good condition and is a great asset to the Town as was shown in the High School fire.

Much credit is due Driver Harold L. Bailey, who with the assistance of Fireman "Bob" Torrence, did an excellent job in painting the Forest Fire truck known to the firemen as "the Kitten."

To this truck has been added another tank which gives it double service at a fire, and makes it an indispensable piece of apparatus.

On two occasions we deemed it advisable to call for assistance from out of town, and in this report we wish to thank Chief Melvin Coulter and men from Holbrook for the assistance given at the High School fire. We also wish to thank Chief William Daley of the Brockton Fire Department, who responded on an appeal for aid at the Camellio fire, with two pieces of apparatus and men.

It is only proper after being cited by the Mayor and Fire Chief of his own city for bravery that we should mention the name of John C. Handricken of the Brockton Fire Department, who without doubt saved lives in the Camellio fire on July 21. We are happy to say that through our efforts he has been awarded a medal and a cash gift in the form of a check for his heroism by the Massachusetts Humane Society.

The Engineers, other than general expenses, gave permission to the driver to build a sleeping room for himself, instead of using the hall as has previously been the custom. The Town paid for the material while Mr. Bailey furnished the labor. The cost was insignificant considering the looks and comfort of the room.

Seven fire helmets were purchased at a cost of $49, as a necessity in the department and a precaution against liability.

ALARMS FOR 1924

Jan. 4. Alarm from Box 23—For chimney fire in building owned by Cartwright & Hurley and occupied by Randolph Portable House Co. No damage.

REPORT OF GYPSY MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

Randolph, Mass., January 13, 1925.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

The Gypsy Moth conditions in your town are better than ever. The Brown Tail Moth has also been held in check. The Tent Caterpillar is an unsightly pest that will be with us again in the Spring. Property holders can be of great assistance by cutting down and burning wild cherry trees on their property, as no money is raised to fight this pest. Burn all brush and dead limbs that are hanging around.

I would recommend that the Town procure a truck for the spraying machine, as the outskirts could be covered better and cheaper.

All parts of the Town were sprayed during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Local Moth Supt.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN

Randolph, Mass., January 13, 1925.

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

Greetings:

During the past year twenty-five Rock Maples were purchased and set out on the various streets, and eight trees were removed.

The severe gale in August totally destroyed a number of trees and injured many others, which caused an additional expense that had to be met.

I am asking for another small appropriation this year, to help replace trees removed.

I would recommend that more money be raised for the care of the trees throughout the Town, as the cost each year is increasing.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,

Tree Warden.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The annual report of any department in a city or town is apt to become an uninteresting and dull matter, providing it does not deal with something of great and vital interest to the majority of its citizens.

The school question in Randolph today is in the latter class, and for that reason, your School Committee takes this opportunity to request every citizen in the Town of Randolph to show a keen interest in matters pertaining to the schools. The progress of a school system in our estimation, offers the greatest problem which this Town has to contend with, and it is our hope that the people of Randolph will display more concern in the school question at the coming Town Meeting.

The first half of the school year ended in June after the Grammar and High School graduations, and it was our pleasure to present diplomas to the largest number of graduates that Randolph has ever boasted of.

Looking forward to a summer that would give us a chance to introduce many improvements in the school system, and time to paint and repair a few of the classrooms which need it quite badly, we were shocked to hear on the morning of June 19, 1924, that the Stetson High School was a mass of flames,—a school once the best building of our system—now a gutted and water soaked shell of its former self.

The School Committee found itself confronted with the biggest problem that any local board has ever had.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

to face. Divided into three distinct parts: First, to secure a complete inventory of the High School equipment, furniture, books and other class room material, and the many beautiful gifts of the various classes that have graduated from the school, and to estimate the loss so that the Town would be reimbursed by the insurance companies. Second, to secure a real estate appraiser in order to determine the loss on the building. Third, to start immediate action in regard to establishing a temporary high school in some other building so that no time would be lost in opening the High School at its regular date in September.

Frederic E. Chapin, Principal of the Stetson High School(proved to be a wonderful help and valuable aid to the Town. It is only fair on this occasion for the Committee to express its gratitude and thanks to this gentleman for his splendid work and the unselfish manner in which he gave his time and labor to the Town. Through his knowledge of the school and its contents, it was possible to secure a most complete inventory together with an estimate of the losses and the Town received the sum of $6,319.65, which we consider a very good adjustment for the Town.

The Selectmen and the School Committee chose Mr. Howard of Brockton, a contractor and man experienced in this type of work, to represent its interests on the building adjustments. The sum of $32,623 was paid to the Town for its loss on the building, and we consider this to be a very fair adjustment.

Our next task was to choose a building for the establishment of a temporary High School. After considering the few places which would be available, we chose Stetson Hall as the most practicable building,—realizing at the time that it would be necessary to use both the upper hall together with the banquet hall and the room that was used for a kitchen. Men were put to work immediately painting and cleaning the lower rooms and carpenters were instructed to erect blackboards and other necessities in a schoolroom. Other men were kept busy with the furniture, repairing the desks and chairs damaged in the fire and refinishing all the equipment. Under the direction of Mr. Chapin, this work progressed very well, and it was possible to open Stetson High School in its new quarters at the regular date. Although the conditions under which we have to conduct the school are far from ideal, nevertheless we were very fortunate in having a building like Stetson Hall to use in this emergency. It is a matter of extreme pleasure to the Committee to have the school function so well under such adverse conditions.

After planning for the temporary High School, our next work was to make plans for the replacement of Stetson High School with the additional room so badly needed for the past few years. A Special Town Meeting was called and a committee of six men was appointed to work with the School Committee to consider plans and present them to the Town for their approval at some future meeting. Randolph is very fortunate to have such a representative and efficient body of experienced business men who are willing to sacrifice their time and energy for the benefit of the Town and its children. It has been a pleasure for the School Committee to work with the Building Committee and we feel that the Town will realize and appreciate this after it has seen the results of their labor.

The problem confronting the Committee was not an easy one to contend with, and the work had to be divided into two parts: First, to replace the present building in order to save it from the storms of the present winter, and second, to secure plans for an addition which would take care of the High School, not only for the present needs, but also to build a school which will accommodate the demands for many years to come.

The last feature should be of vast importance to the Town of Randolph, as we have known for quite a few years past that our schools, and especially the High School, have not been large enough to accommodate the number of pupils who enter yearly and give them the opportunities to which they are entitled.

Mark B. Claff was elected Chairman of the Committee, and realizing the necessity of immediate action, six different architects were invited to submit plans. Each architect was invited to appear before the Committee and explain the various features of his proposal, and after much consideration, the plans of Funk and Wilcox, well known architects of Boston, were accepted and approved as being the most practicable and economical. These plans allowed us to renovate the old school and build a permanent roof on it as a protection against the winter and dispensed with the necessity of any temporary construction which would have to be torn down or dismantled later, at a big loss to the Town. They also call for a big addition in the rear of the present building, extending out on the north and south sides, and giving the town a building containing every improvement that a modern High School would desire. They provided ten large class rooms, a combination laboratory for chemistry and physics, a large room which can be used for domestic science or manual training, a lunch room, locker rooms and a fan room, used in the ventilating system. The main hall will seat between three hundred and fifty and four hundred people, and will be a combination assembly hall and gymnasium, with a balcony in the rear seating about eighty people, a nice stage, and the upper corridors opening into the hall, which will allow spectators to witness all exhibitions of physical culture, calisthenics, basketball and other indoor games.

These plans were approved by the Town at a Special Town Meeting, and the Committee was instructed to request bids for the rebuilding of the High School, with authority to expend $32,623,—the sum paid to the Town by the insurance companies for the loss by fire. Authority was given the Committee to petition the State Legislature to allow the Town to borrow $50,000 over the town debt limit, to carry out the approved plans. The cost of the new addition will be in the neighborhood of $80,000, and as there is about $50,000 available within the debt limit, we feel that this sum will take care of the situation very nicely, without leaving the Town incapable of borrowing money for other purposes.

With the completion of the present plans, the Town of Randolph will have a modern High School of which it may be proud, and a building that will take care of several classes from the Prescott and Belcher Grammar Schools, which may be moved up there for the present time owing to the congestion in the lower grade schoolhouses, and thus make it possible to utilize every inch of space available in the new building. This would be only temporary, as we are fast approaching the time when it will be necessary for the town to face the prospect of erecting a new schoolhouse to take the place of the Belcher School, a building that will furnish accommodations for the fast growing North End district of Randolph.

Every year the demands for school accommodations are becoming greater and with the extensive building that is now going on, it is only fair to assume that we must strive to keep apace with it or suffer from overcrowded class rooms and other relative inconveniences through lack of foresight.

It is the hope and desire of the School Committee that every citizen of Randolph will co-operate with the Building Committee in carrying out this splendid plan for a new High School, thereby laying the foundation for a progressive and efficient school system.

The general conditions in the Grammar Schools are good, with the exception of a few rooms that are overcrowded. During the summer vacation, the lower class room on the side of the Prescott Primary School was divided in halves, and Miss Margaret Donovan was appointed to teach the new class. The object of this was to create a new class and take care of the overflow from other classes, and consequently allow the teachers to do more effective work which was impossible in overcrowded rooms. This has proven a decided benefit to the teachers and children.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

When the schools opened in September, two new teachers were appointed to the High School. Realizing the conditions under which the temporary High School would have to be conducted and with the increased enrollment, we felt that it was necessary to increase the teaching staff. This will enable the Principal to have a better command of his school and do more supervising work, and also give the pupils a greater choice of studies in their endeavor for higher education.

The Committee has replaced the old wooden fence around the Prescott Grammar School with a metal fence. This is a distinct improvement, as the old fence was an eyesore to the townspeople and gives the school a far more presentable appearance.

Many similar improvements are contemplated, both inside and out at the different schoolhouses, and we hope to carry out this policy during the ensuing year.

We are not sorry to bid adieu to the year 1924, with its many trials and discouraging features, but we are sure that the coming year promises great possibilities in the development and solution of our school problem and may be written down as a banner year in the history of Randolph schools.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES R. KILEY, Chairman.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee, Randolph.

Gentlemen:

I herewith submit my fourth annual report of the public schools of Randolph.

During the past year it has been evident that the town's people have had a greater interest in their schools. Although several factors may be ascribed to this change of attitude, it is nevertheless true that what the citizens want for their children's educational welfare, that they usually obtain. No small amount of credit for this progressive tendency is due to the excellent work of the Building Committee, officials of the town, Parent-Teachers' Association and co-operating citizens. It has been a pleasure for me to serve the schools under your supervision.

The appeal made in my former reports for better school accommodation, more teachers and better books have been met most satisfactorily to date. It is sincerely hoped that these improvements will be cared for and adjusted each year so that the burden of expense will not come every three to five years but rather be distributed on the school budget each year. As important as the expense item is, it is safe to say that the welfare of our school children is even more important.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

ENROLMENT

By converting the large room in the Prescott primary building into two class rooms with a seating capacity of 68, a better distribution of pupils in the Prescott, Belcher and North Randolph schools was made possible. Although there are at least two teachers who still have large classes this year, the average number of pupils per teacher in the grades at this writing is 39 as compared with 45 two years ago.

REBUILDING OF STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

With the destruction of the high school last June came new and complicated problems. Not until the Building Committee so ably chosen and supported by the citizens of the town did our high school situation clarify. The excellent work of this committee is known to all. The most encouraging feature of this new building is its provision for future growth both with respect to increased enrolments and for additional courses of study which must be added to our high school curriculum in time.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

I strongly urge that the extra rooms in this new school be used for our junior high school department. As outlined in my report of 1922, I believe this to be wise, economical and for the best interest of our school children.

The organization and adjustment of the high school, as housed in its temporary quarters, have progressed with a marked degree of satisfaction. It has been a trying task. Upon the recommendation of the State Department of Education late in August, two new teachers were added to the faculty making a total of ten teachers including the principal. No uncertain praise is due Mr. Chapin and his faithful teachers for the manner in which the school has been conducted. A more detailed account of the work is given in the principal's report.

UNIFICATION OF THE GRADE SCHOOL WORK

There is no standardized course of study for grammar schools. A few subjects are mentioned by State law but aside from that each town and city organizes and pursues its own course of study based upon certain educational principles, well defined practices, methods, subject matter, books, etc., and to no small degree upon the financial strength of that community.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Whatever stability a small school system can boast of relative to its course of study, it is sooner or later disrupted by the constant changing of teachers, principals and even superintendents. Filed reports, briefs and outlines of work accomplished each year are at their best but inarticulated abstracts where a definite and well organized curriculum is lacking. Such reports and practices have had their usefulness and their day. They lack constructive details, methods and objectives and, as a rule, are found in more or less abundance in the smaller school systems.

To minimize these defects or breaks and to unify our work, the Baltimore County Course of Study has been adopted and placed in the hands of all grade teachers. This course is not new nor untried. Most of our teachers are familiar with it and know of its educational value. Our object and aim will be make this course our course by adapting it to our particular needs. It will greatly assist in bringing about a better continuity of work, a greater equality of work, serve as a key for progress and attainment, show where to stop as well as where to begin, what to emphasize and leave out and at the same time preserve the personal factor and initiative of the teacher.

THE TEACHING STAFF

Schools opened last September with a total of 36 teachers; ten in the high school, 24 in the grades besides the music and drawing supervisors who are on part time service. This is the largest list in the school's history. I am pleased to state that our teachers are working hard and have the best interests of their pupils at heart.

We have lost in the retirement of Miss Katherine Sheridan a very faithful teacher. She has taught in our schools a little under fifty years of continuous service in a field of work she dearly loved. Her long, successful, public career takes its place among those in our town's history which have been honored for service, sacrifice and true citizenship.

Owing to the necessary inconveniences at the high school, teachers have been greatly handicapped in their work. The spirit of co-operation and the willingness to overcome many of these obstacles have brought about excellent results.

The junior high school department enters upon its third year of work. Were it not for the educational training, insight and experience of these teachers, this department would not have endured. It has passed the test period and bids well to be a foremost factor in our public school system. In the event of a transfer to the new high school building, this department would function and articulate with no noticeable break or loss of time. This change moreover would not disrupt the remaining six grades but would give them a greater teaching space so essential for the work of these faithful teachers.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Teachers in their respective classes and playgrounds are endeavoring to carry out the spirit of the law pertaining to physical training. Organized games, gymnastics and athletics are fostered and supervised in the different schools. Included in this training is the broader aspect of health namely, correct posture, care of eyes and teeth and correct living. Inasmuch as our teachers are now struggling with an overloaded curriculum within the usual five-hour day limit, I strongly recommend that the three towns employ a woman supervisor of physical training for this district.

SCHOOL NURSE

The value and importance of the nurse in our schools has been confirmed on all sides. Miss Leary has rendered excellent service. The town, however, is too large for Miss Leary to cover effectually. Her position with the District Nurse Association is in itself a full-sized position and should be substantially supported by public and private funds so that that service shall not be impaired. As our school population is now nearing the 1200 mark, and as we have become more and more dependent upon the nurse for daily visits and follow-up work, I respectfully recommend that a nurse be employed in our public schools on a full time basis.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

Text Books.

The purchase of new text books has been governed wholly by class room needs. They have been selected for their subject matter from well-recognized text books used by progressive school systems. Over twenty-one hundred books have been added to the grades this year.

Lunch Counter, Prescott School.

This little lunch room is now an important part of our school service. Mrs. Connors deserves a great deal of credit for her interest in this new project. Home cooking and wholesome food have won over the children to the extent that little or no candy is now sold. An average of 55 cups of soup is sold daily during the cold weather. I wish to extend my thanks to the Catholic Association and to the Ladies' Library Association for their interest in this work.

Class Room Library.

Over 90 books have been purchased as a nucleus for class room libraries. It is our aim that these books shall stimulate an interest for good and wholesome reading.

I am very grateful to you, to teachers and parents for the mutual co-operation and support of our schools. Everything that may be pronounced as having been well done is always traceable to that source.

Respectfully submitted,

A. O. CHRISTIANSEN,

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

Trustees of Stetson High School and Superintendent of Schools:

Gentlemen:

The fire of June 19, 1924, made it necessary to find temporary quarters for the school. The selection of Stetson Hall as an emergency home was probably the best possible solution of the problem; no other building offered so many conveniences and so few disadvantages. We have tried to keep in mind this year that we are passing through a phase of our school life which will be comparatively brief, and to make the very best of the situation. Our teachers and pupils alike unite in the verdict that Stetson Hall has proved to be a very satisfactory building for our use. It has been a matter of agreeable surprise to us to find that our school activities can go on without serious interruption, even though our surroundings have been so unusual. The town officials have given us a cordial welcome, and our thanks are due to them for their forbearance and courtesy. The use of the G. A. R. room has been particularly acceptable to our teachers who wish to assure the veterans that the consideration shown by Horace Niles Post No. 110 has been a source of constant satisfaction. Stetson Hall was not, of course, built for a schoolhouse, and after the good things we have said about our present quarters, it may seem paradoxical to acknowledge that some inconveniences have been experienced. Little, however, would be gained by mentioning here the instances where we have been somewhat at a disadvantage by the lack of many things which are to be expected in a modern high school building. It is enough to say that everyone is looking on the bright side of the picture, and that we are anticipating better school accommodations in the coming year.

Our senior class numbers 39, the largest in the history of the school. The registration this year to date has been 217, as compared with 215 last year. The State Board of Education, during the summer vacation, refused to approve the school unless the minimum number of teachers for a school of our size was provided. This minimum is one teacher for each 25 pupils, or fraction thereof, exclusive of the principal. Two additional teachers have therefore been employed this year, making our total number of regular teachers ten, the least number which would meet the requirement of the State Board. Many schools of our size employ more than ten regular teachers. All the teachers who were with us last year returned in September, and to this fact may be ascribed much of the smoothness which has characterized our school sessions in Stetson Hall. We have had a remarkably efficient corps of teachers during the past two years.

It may be a matter of interest to cite some of the losses of class gifts due to the fire. The total insurance on the furnishings of the building was over $6,000. Much of this was for pictures, busts, friezes, tablets, clocks, special chairs and tables, etc., the gifts of classes. The insurance is ample to cover the loss; for the most part the various class gifts were saved with comparatively little damage.

The large photo, "Hudson River," given by the Class of 1903, was destroyed; it has been replaced by a photo of the Capitol at Washington, a remarkably beautiful and appropriate picture, 80 inches long, of the same general size and value as the original gift. The "Diana" given by the Class of 1905 was lost. No action has been taken as yet to replace it; the statue and pedestal would cost today about $75.

The bust of Longfellow and bracket, given by the Class of 1906, was ruined, as was the "Hermes," Class of 1904, in Room M. Each of these busts will cost $40. The gift of the Class of 1883, a steel engraving, "Washington's Inaugural," was destroyed. Cost to replace about $25. The framed Massachusetts flag in Room D was a total loss. The reference table in Room D, given from the Penny Collection Fund, was destroyed; this table cost $55.

The frieze, "Alexander's Entry Into Babylon," given by the Classes of 1907 and 1908 can be restored; this frieze was in the Reference Room and was badly smoked.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Athenian Youth," Class of 1900, was destroyed; this picture was in Room D. One of the classes whose gift to the school was destroyed has signified a willingness to make the loss good. It may be that other classes would like to come to the rescue in a similar way.

The damage to books in the Reference Room was very great; the estimated loss on 900 books, $950, was covered by insurance, the amount of which will be enough to replace losses. Several of the small photos of athletic groups were lost and cannot be replaced; five secondary clocks were destroyed. These clocks cost $20 each today. All the chairs given by classes were saved and have been refinished by the New England Reed Company.

The Class of 1924 gave to the school at its graduation in June a large settle of antique design; the settle is furnished with a cushion and has a plate bearing the name of the class.

Our afternoon session affords a very satisfactory and dignified means of enforcing discipline and of assigning extra study hours in school for those who fail in their recitations. The afternoon session is almost universally found in Massachusetts high schools. It is generally agreed that the school day does not end until about four o'clock in the afternoon; that is, the school committee could, if it so desired, compel the attendance of pupils until late in the afternoon. The fact that most of our pupils are excused at 1:15 does not in any way lessen the authority of the school committee to keep pupils until a later hour, if it is so desired. We do not excuse any pupils from the afternoon session if teachers find them delinquent. We are, however, willing to transfer the detention to the following day if arrangements to that effect are made with the teacher who brings the pupil back. It is a good plan for pupils who live at a distance to bring a lunch in case they know they are to report in the afternoon. If it were possible for the pupil who lives at a distance to buy his lunch at some store or restaurant he could then report for the afternoon session without being transferred to another day. Only by getting special permission from the school committee or the Superintendent of Schools may a pupil be exempt from being brought back in the afternoon. For instance, if an employer would discharge a pupil who works afternoons because he attended the afternoon session and for that reason failed to report for work, it might be advisable to give such a pupil exemption from the session. We do not think that any employer would so discharge a boy or a girl.

Teachers frown upon tardiness; it is pretty nearly true, although not quite so, that we would prefer to have a pupil absent rather than tardy. There are instances where tardiness is advisable, and which do not reflect upon the home; in the great majority of cases, however, the reasons which pupils give for tardiness would appear to force the conclusion that the fault is to be attributed to the home and not to the pupil. The home must see that the pupil gets up in time, that he has his breakfast, and that he is on his way early enough to allow him to reach his desk in time for the roll call. Promptness is essential in nearly all activities today; no business office, or store, or factory would permit its employees to be late day after day. If a pupil is tardy many times during the year, the school must bear some of the blame; and the pupil loses to some extent the confidence of his teachers, but the home especially suffers a loss of reputation. High school pupils ought to regard their school work much in the same light as any other workers must view their part in the duties of the office or store. It is claimed that a boy who has completed a high school course earns enough more in later life because of that fact to warrant the assertion that for every day spent in school, he receives the equivalent of at least $10. The Superintendent of Schools in Attleboro, Mass., recently made the assertion that this increased earning power was $25 for every day spent in the high school. At Yale University averages compiled from some 3,000 cases showed an increased earning capacity for graduates of secondary schools verifying these statements. If this be even approximately true, then each pupil ought to regard his school work most seriously and to resolve never to be absent or tardy unless because of some really unavoidable circumstance.

Stetson High School is sending each year a very creditable quota to the Normal School at Bridgewater; we also try to induce pupils to take the college preparatory course, but our efforts in this direction do not meet with the success we desire. A very considerable number of those who get ready for college are kept back one or two years after graduation here for the reason that their parents consider them too immature; this is most distinctly not our fault. The school has the certification privilege to colleges affiliated with the New England College Entrance Certificate Board. The private preparatory schools of New England are filled with graduates of high schools, so that the same immaturity noted here is conspicuous in other places. We feel that in case a pupil finishes his preparation at another school but uses his record here for the greater part of his credits, this school ought to be allowed to say that the pupil entered college mainly on the work he did here. The number of college students who at present claim Randolph as their home is not by any means large. The high cost of a college course is a factor in keeping our pupils from preparing for a higher education. The many opportunities to enter the business world immediately on graduation from high school is another consideration.

Our most generally pursued subject is, of course, English. French is studied by 115 pupils, History by 100 pupils, Bookkeeping by 70 pupils, Stenography and Typewriting by 54 pupils and Typewriting alone by 56 pupils. We have made the study of Stenography the essential in our Commercial Course; there are several other subjects in that course almost equally important, but if the pupil has taken Stenography and Typewriting, we incline to classify him in the Commercial Course. This may appear to result in a considerable majority of our graduates receiving diplomas in the Commercial Course although many of them have given much more time to other subjects than to Stenography and Typewriting. Stenography is open only to the members of our Junior and Senior Classes.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir,—Music in our schools is progressing very favorably. The average child possesses a very good knowledge of music generally. Better results would be accomplished however, if our children could be more definitely classified. Owing to the lack of space, the quick, talented child is being held back by the one of a slower and more diffident nature. I trust however, that time will bring about the desired results along these lines.

At no time have our schools been so well equipped with good working material as at the present. I feel that I can justly state that all who are interested in school problems feel confident that the earnest efforts of those in charge of our schools, will in the near future, bring about results of a very high standard.

Respectfully submitted,
ROSE G. HAND,
Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir,—The following is a summary of the work of the school nursing for the year 1924:

Number of pupils weighed and measured	945
Number of pupils found to be 10 % underweight . . .	127
Pupils examined at two health clinics held in Jonathan Belcher Hall	73

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Pupils X-rayed	10
Pupils given Von Pirquet test	10
Pupils sent to school physician for skin disease and other troubles	20
Homes visited because of illness of school children,	15
Pupils sent to Preventoria	7

One child was advised sanatorium care.

The expense of sending the seven children to the rest camp was paid in part from the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

First aid supplies were put in all the schools by the Randolph Chapter of the American Red Cross.

I take this opportunity to thank Mr. Christiansen, Dr. Higgins, the teachers, parents and pupils for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

JULIA M. LEARY, R. N.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR DRAWING

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

I submit for your consideration, my report as Supervisor of Drawing in the schools of Randolph for the term ending December 31, 1924.

The three headings under which the work may be classified are: first, representation, including nature study, object drawing and illustration; second, designs, including color and composition; and third, construction problems.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The object of representation is to teach the child to observe and to apply the knowledge gained. Design in theory and application teaches neatness and a sense of color. Construction problems give greater facility in the use of the hands, and tends toward quick thinking.

Four periods a week are devoted to the high school. The work is progressing very well, both in freehand and mechanical drawing.

The grades are supervised once in two weeks and the work has been well done, due to the kind co-operation of the teachers.

I wish, at this time, to express my appreciation to you and to the teachers for the way in which they have worked with me.

Respectfully submitted,

HAZEL S. ALLENSON,
Supervisor of Drawing.

ASA P. FRENCH,

Randolph, January 1, 1925.

There are a number of interesting points brought out in the report of the Librarian, particularly in regard to the possible effect of the radio, cross-word puzzle and moving pictures, on the reading public. It will also be noticed that the young people, especially the High School pupils are using the Library to quite an extent. The Librarian has proved herself a capable official and ready at all times to assist the patrons of the Library in the selection of books for reading or reference.

The report of the Librarian statistically showing in detail the doings, management and results of the various departments of the Library and the report of the Treasurer showing the investments of the funds and the receipts and expenditures of the Library are hereunto subjoined.

Respectfully submitted,

WINTHROP B. ATHERTON,
President of the Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1925.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

The annual report of the Turner Free Library covering the year December 31, 1924, is herewith submitted.

There is very little to report this year, aside from the regular statistics and work that is done every year.

Much of the library service cannot be recorded. It is the little things done every day, which, small in themselves, taken together, form a large part of the usefulness of a Public Library. The assistance given in reference work, recommending interesting books, choosing books for people who cannot come to the library, helping the High School pupils in their required reading, obtaining books on special subjects for students through the inter-library loans; helping the stranger to know the library; these are a part of the unrecorded, but important work of a library. Neither is it possible, to any extent, to keep a record of the use made of the reading room or the reference department by students and those interested in different subjects. At present the cross-word puzzle contests are adding to the patronage of the latter department. Both rooms are used by a considerable number of people.

The library has been opened to the public 304 days, and 27,518 books have been loaned. This is smaller than last year, as that year was smaller than the year before. The library has to compete with the radio and cross-word puzzles, as it has competed with the motion pictures for a number of years. The motion pictures, however, often bring new readers who wish to read the books presented on the screen, and crossword puzzles send people to the reference room to solve their problem.

Concerning the radio, Mr. Ferguson of the California State Library, in a recent number of the Library Journal says "The radio will probably, for a time at least, draw readers away from books; but, on the other hand, the radio will mean a greater use of books. In rapidly increasing, thousands of men and women are going to use the radio for study. Without books they cannot go far. New tides at first may seem to ebb away from the library, but when the flow sets in the flood of readers reaches new high levels."

We hope the future may prove this to be true. However, while we would like to have every family enjoying the benefits of the library, a large number of books circulated does not always show the real work of a library in a community.

There have been 241 new names added to the number of borrowers, but, as some of these have taken the numbers of former card holders, the net gain is 110, making 1821 names in our files.

There have been 274 books added to the library, 233 by purchase; 6 bound magazines, and 35 received as gifts from various sources, a total of 29,113 accessioned volumes.

The most important purchase is a set of the new International Encyclopdia for the reference room.

The High School pupils are using the library for the required reading course began last year. The grade schools and teachers also have made use of the library.

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

The children enjoy having their reading table and special book shelves instituted last year. We hope to enlarge this department the coming year.

The sum of $158.21 for fines and collections has been received and turned over to the Treasurer.

In closing I wish to express my appreciation to my Assistant for her helpfulness and loyalty, and to the Trustees for their interest and encouragement.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER,

Librarian.

REPORT OF HIGHWAY SURVEYOR

To the Voters of the Town of Randolph:

I started in March to clean gutters on North Main, North, Warren, Union, South, Howard and West Streets, which were in a very bad condition. All catch basins were cleaned out and the drains on Warren Street were fixed. The scraper and horse broom were painted. Fences were repaired on Liberty and Maple Streets and a new fence was built on Union Street near the residence of Frank Condon.

Scraping was done on practically all the streets in town. Tar patching on North Union, West and Cottage Streets. Tar kettle was bought to heat the tar for North Main Street. Resurfacing with tar and sand on Union, North, West and Cottage Streets.

Holes were filled with gravel on Depot, Grove, Cross, Wales Avenue and Vine Streets.

Gravel was put on part of Pond Street, and shoulders were built up on North Main Street.

Orchard Street was graveled, Liberty Street was relaid from North Main Street to opposite the formerly Clark estate, and oil and tar applied.

Roel Street was relaid and oil and tar applied. Centre Street was relaid, the work being done by men of that vicinity, and tarvia applied. Steam roller for all three jobs was hired from the city of Brockton. The stone bridge opposite the depot was repaired.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. TRUELSON,

Highway Surveyor.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE SELECTMEN
Overseers of the Poor
AND
1925

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In presenting their annual report for the year 1925 your Selectmen call attention again to the continued efficiency of the Police Department. While there is an overdraft of $20.66 in the Appropriation, the fines returned from the courts to the Town Treasury aggregate $1,041.74.

In co-operation with the Town Treasurer your Selectmen arranged, through the First National Bank of Boston, for the preparation and marketing of $71,000. of School Bonds at a cost of $200, this being more than offset by the premium of $333.70 received at their sale.

The reconstruction of Warren Street from the railroad to North Main Street has been completed, so that there is now, in conjunction with similar work done by Stoughton, a first class road all the way from our Post Office to the center of that town.

To safeguard traffic at the junction of Warren and North Main Streets a flashing beacon was temporarily installed on free trial, pending its possible acceptance by the Town. If accepted it is planned to paint distance directions on the base.

The cistern in Crawford Square, after a careful investigation by an engineer from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been repaired in accordance with his design and should now stand the heaviest loads permissible on the highways. The question of filling in the cistern was considered by this engineer and he reported that repair would be preferable, allowing the retention of the cistern as a Protection in case of fire when the water works might be out of commission.

The constantly expanding use of automobiles cut into the revenue of the New Haven Railroad so much that the company felt obliged to curtail train service but at our insistence sufficient motor coach service was instituted to give the town improved transportation. Additional service through Randolph between Brockton and Boston is promised.

Modernizing the appearance of the town, 38 serviceable aluminum street signs have been placed along the chief through roads.

During the year 16 persons have been supported at the Almshouse a total of 648 6-7 weeks.

The appropriation for Poor out of Almshouse has been carefully handled and the unexpended balance is $666.57. On the Chapter 118, Mothers' Aid, there is an unexpended balance of $982.93 and, on the Brockton Hospital appropriation, one of $832.25. The State Census and the preparation and marketing of the School Bonds, for which no appropriations were made, combined caused an overdraft of $500. Finally, there is a net unexpended balance of $1,992.31 above all payments, which sum remains in the Town Treasury.

The experience of extraordinary and unforeseen expenditures, as noted above, shows the importance of having a Reserve Fund from which in times of necessity transfers can be made to appropriations in danger of being overdrawn. It is impossible to foresee everything and such a fund, especially in connection with a new officer, a Town Accountant, would prevent overdrafts. The Reserve, provided for in Section 6, Chapter 40, General Laws, could not legally exceed 5% of the tax levy of the preceding year, or approximately in this case $6,000; but one quarter of that, or $1,500, would probably be enough.

The State Division of Accounts urges the Town to install the State Accounting System and employ a Town Accountant, which would facilitate auditing and almost surely prevent overdrafts.

RICHARD F. FORREST,

ERSKINE H. COX,

JAMES H. HURLEY,

Board of Selectmen and Overseers of Poor.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The following cases of contagious disease occurring in the town were reported to this Board during the year:

Chicken Pox	1
Diphtheria (with 1 death)	2
German Measles	5
Lobar Pneumonia (with 1 death)	1

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

Measles	56
Scarlet Fever	18
Tuberculosis, pulmonary (with 4 deaths) ...	7
Tuberculosis, all other forms (with 1 death) .	3
Whooping Cough	3
Venereal Disease	3

The Board has information on good authority that there have been many more cases of contagious diseases than those reported. Scarlet fever, particularly, ought always to be reported. It is a dangerous disorder. Though most of the cases in town have been light attacks, still a light infection in one person may at any time cause a serious case in another. There is a child in town now who has acute kidney and heart affections as a result of scarlet fever. These disorders not infrequently occur years later as a direct result of infection with scarlet fever in childhood. People who want to keep their children well should aid in keeping the children of others well.

RICHARD F. FORREST,

ERSKINE H. COX

JAMES H. HURLEY,

Board of Health.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
1925

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The annual report of the School Committee of the Town of Randolph for the year 1925 is herewith submitted and it is our hope and desire that every citizen of the town will take an even greater interest in all matters pertaining to the education of our children. The success of any elementary and high school system depends mostly upon two things, (1) an efficient corps of conscientious and sincere teachers with definite objectives to attain, working under the supervision of the superintendent of schools, (2) the co-operation of parents with the school authorities. It is our belief that in the first we have in Randolph a very capable and efficient staff of teachers, hard working and ambitious, who are always willing to co-operate with any and all parents for the benefit of each individual child. Before every parent we place this request laying stress on the fact that it is not only your privilege but your duty to manifest an interest in the education of your child and assure you of the hearty co-operation of the school authorities in order to insure success in the intellectual development of your child.

During the past few years we have been confronted with a constant demand for more school facilities due largely to a consistent increase in the school enrollment. Owing to this fact it was necessary for the first time to increase our staff of elementary school teachers with two extra and divide the first and sixth grades into a two platoon system with separate classes in the morning and afternoon. This condition will be relieved when the addition to Stetson High School is completed as it will then be possible to move the Junior High School classes to the new building.

A most important feature of our school system during the past year was the addition to Stetson High School. When Stetson High School is moved from its present quarters in the Town Hall to the new building Randolph will have a school that may well compare with the High Schools of any town of its size in Massachusetts. Provisions have been made for the latest and best equipment possible and the school will not be handicapped by lack of modern facilities and room as before. The building will accommodate both the Senior and Junior High School classes and will relieve the congestion in the elementary grades. Despite this we must be mindful of the fact that Randolph cannot disregard its duty to replace the Belcher School with a modern building in the near future. Every town in the State is awakening to a realization that no longer can they ignore the demand for more and better school facilities and we must take our place in the endeavor to climb the ladder of success with our fast growing town.

During the summer vacation the two class rooms of the North Randolph School were plastered and painted which not only made the rooms much more presentable, but also solved the problem of heating this school. Before these rooms were finished all the heat went up to the roof of the building and as there was a very large air pocket underneath the roof it was practically impossible to heat the rooms in a satisfactory manner. The building in general is now in the best condition it has been since first occupied.

The exterior of the west corner was painted and a few necessary repairs made. This building is now in good condition and when the class room is painted it will not need any expenditure of money for some years to come.

The School Committee has given much consideration to the question of providing a permanent school nurse. With the enrollment constantly increasing there is a natural increase in the demands for the services of a school nurse. Our present nurse, Miss Julia O'Leary, who is also the Visiting Nurse in Randolph has performed her duties splendidly but we felt that it was an injustice to expect her to assume the responsibility for duties required of a school nurse in a town that had almost twelve hundred children going to school. Miss Annie Desmond, R.N. of Randolph has been chosen for the position and we feel that with her experience as School Nurse in the town of Hopedale she will discharge her duties in a very competent and efficient manner.

We are looking forward to the year 1926 to end the many discouraging conditions under which we have been laboring for nearly two years. Stetson High n n t. teach-will receive the benefits of a much needed improvement to our school system.

The School Committee takes this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Building Committee for its faithful and sincere work in the rebuilding of Stetson High School and for the splendid co-operation it has been our pleasure to enjoy.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES R. KILEY, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

Our school sessions have been held in Stetson Hall since September, 1924. We have tried to make the best of the situation, and have succeeded in maintaining the standard of the school in a far higher degree than seemed possible when Stetson Hall became our temporary home. A saving sense of humor has not been out of place under the many disadvantages which have fallen to our lot. We have looked upon the matter somewhat in the light of an adventure in our school life, such as few encounter. One may enjoy camping out, but he is glad to get back to the conveniences of civilized life.

The class of 1924 in addition to its gift at the time of graduation has presented a charging desk to the school reference room; the cost of the desk was $75.00.

The class of 1925, forty members, the largest in the history of the school, has given to the school a table for the reference room at a cost of $54.00. Another gift which is credited to the class of 1925 is a round oak table for the center of the reference room. The table was made to order and was purchased by the balance of the class of 1925 lunch fund, about $90.00. This table is five feet in diameter and is a very appropriate gift. A chair for the reference room has been given by the class of 1929 and another chair by 1928.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Our enrollment this year has been 231. We number at present 221. Inasmuch as the school will occupy the new building before this report is issued, it may be well to look forward to our occupancy of our new quarters rather than to review the past. The four rooms in the old building which have been refinished have a standard seating capacity of 30 pupils each. The two class rooms on the first floor of the addition, south side, will each take care of 35 pupils. By using a part of the bookkeeping room of the second floor all our pupils may have desk room. We regret that the building does not contain a room for study pupils.

It seems best to assign to the junior high pupils the six rooms on the north side of the building in the new part, using the two basement rooms as class rooms. The six rooms used as home class rooms by the senior high school pupils will include the four rooms in the old part in the front, and the two rooms on the first floor of the addition. The two basement rooms, south side, are for science and cannot well be used for home-rooms. The two rooms on the second floor, south side of the addition are for stenography, typewriting and bookkeeping but, as has been said, the desks of the bookkeeping room may be used for home room purposes, though this is not desirable.

The junior high school plan is one of the many educational innovations which have come to us from the western part of our country. The first city in Massachusetts to adopt the plan was Somerville, which has at present four junior high schools. It is said that the "Western" junior high school of Somerville is the most thoroughly equipped and in every way, the finest example of the junior high to be found in New England. The writer has made three visits to this school for purposes of observation. Here is a school of 1,000 pupils, who are taken from the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. The school offers courses in all the usual subjects offered to pupils who range in age from eleven to sixteen. There are classes in wood-working, in metal working, in cooking, sewing, and typewriting, each in charge of a teacher who makes a specialty of her subject. Latin and French are added to the usual grammar school subjects. The physical needs of the pupils are in charge of specialists, who organize school athletics and direct the baseball, football and basketball, in addition to regular physical exercises for all pupils. The principal of the "Western" junior high claims that the best feature of the school is not the prominence given to departmental teaching, which is about as marked as in our high schools, but in the development of a live school spirit and sustained interest, which manifest themselves on every side of the school life. The writer has nowhere else noted among pupils such enthusiasm for school activities, both scholastic and extra curricula as was shown in this Somerville school. The school is more free to work out its problems in its own way, than would be the case if in the same building with the senior high. The problem of keeping pupils interested in school during the years immediately preceding their entrance to high school is in a large measure solved by the junior high plan; such a school should be so located as to be within easy walking distance of the homes of pupils.

In Stoneham and Milton are examples of the combination junior and senior high. In both these schools the junior pupils are assigned to parts of the building separated as much as possible from the older pupils. The superintendent of schools in Milton, Mr. Ewart, asserts that only to a certain point can the two schools be maintained to advantage in one building; he places the limit at about 500 for each school. That is, for over 1,000 pupils, not even the requirement of economy is of much weight in continuing the combination. From observation of these two latter schools it seems evident that senior high school reacts upon the junior high in repressing the enthusiasm of the junior high pupils. This does not by any means prove that the junior high combination is not a distinct advance upon the usual grade system in Randolph.

We are to begin our combination school without special teachers in physical culture, and without special teachers of sewing and cooking. Of course wood-working and metal-working are out of the question. In the school report of 1924, the report just prior to this, our superintendent urged the need of special attention to the physical needs of the pupils. It is difficult, for instance, to see how our shower baths are to be used to much advantage unless a teacher can give full time to classes, or divisions, of pupils in gymnasium work or its equivalent. In Stoneham, for example, the school has a gymnasium for boys and another for girls; these two rooms can be thrown together into one large room for such games as basketball or for winter athletic meets. Stoneham employs a man to take care of the boys and a woman to supervise the girls in physical activities. The writer watched one of the gymnasium groups of boys go through their exercises in Stoneham. There were three divisions of the squad of pupils; one at the horizontal bar, one at the parallel bar, and one at the vaulting horse. Each of the boys took his turn at each piece of apparatus, and at the end of the period the boys went to the showers, emerging to don their regular clothing ready for class-room work. How we can accomplish much of this in Randolph without a special teacher who can give his full time, is not apparent. Stoneham and Milton each has an assembly room distinct from the gymnasium. This obviates the necessity of moving furniture in and out of the assembly room.

The school lunch is an important adjunct to a modern high school. In Milton, for instance, two women begin their preparation of the lunch at the opening of the morning session. The first group of pupils come down to the lunch room about 11:30 o'clock; these are all junior pupils. The length of the lunch hour is 23 minutes. There is then a cleaning of the room for the senior high pupils. Many of the pupils bring their own lunch, which they eat at tables, opening the lunch baskets, in small groups. Some do not purchase anything at the lunch counter; others supplement what they have brought from home by a cup of cocoa or bottle of milk, while many buy their entire lunch at the counter. The uniform price is five cents for each serving of food.

Somewhat contrary to the writer's expectation the sum of fifteen cents bought a lunch, which was appetizing and sufficient. All the money taken in is turned into the maintenance of the lunch room. There is no profit. The method which seems best suited in purchasing food is by the purchase of 5-cent tickets or checks to be presented at the lunch counter for food. These checks are sold in another part of the room. It is the opinion of the writer that an adequate lunch can be brought from home in case the pupil does not care to buy lunch.

This serving of a school lunch we are going to inaugurate in our new building. Pupils must then be prepared to remain after school in case they are kept either for failure in scholarship or deportment. Hitherto our High School pupils have been under the necessity of going home for dinner and then returning for the afternoon session..

Several of our citizens have told the writer that it is a mistake for him to put into this report the account of what he has observed in other schools. Is it not a good plan to find out what other schools do? Even if we cannot do all of the things which are done in larger communities, ought we not to know what is being done?

The problem of a double or a single principalship of these combination junior and senior high schools is very generally solved at present in favor of the single principal. Theoretically one principal for the junior high and another for the senior high would seem a good solution. These schools, however, which have tried the double principalship have found that the plan does not work out satisfactorily and have for the most part adopted the plan of having one principal.

All the junior high schools visited, stress club activities; the dramatic club appeals to some, the debating club to others, the school orchestra claims its share, and the various choruses offer to others a place in the list. There are many other extra curricula activities which pupils are interested in. The assembly periods give an opportunity for these clubs or groups of pupils to give expression to their various activities. Two times at least each week the junior high pupils ought to have an assembly period in which the program is in charge of the boys and girls.

Six hours is the standard length advocated for the high school session in Massachusetts. It is probable that in our re-organized high school at least five and one-half hours will be found necessary to carry out the program. This means that if our daily session begins at 8:15 it would close at 1:45 except for pupils who must remain to square accounts in scholarship or deportment. Seven periods of about 40 minutes each will be found necessary. Allowing for about 10 minutes in opening, for the recess periods, and for the assembly period five and one-half hours would be none too long.

Teachers frown upon tardiness; it is pretty nearly true, although not quite so, that we would prefer to have a pupil absent rather than tardy. There are instances where tardiness is advisable, and which do not reflect upon the home; in the great majority of cases, however, the reasons which pupils give for tardiness would appear to force the conclusion that the fault is to be attributed to the home and not to the pupil. The home must see that the pupil gets up in time, that he has his breakfast, and that he is on his way early enough to allow him to reach his desk in time for the roll-call. Promptness is essential in nearly all activities today; no business office, or store, or factory, would permit its employees to be late day after day. If a pupil is tardy many times during the year, the school must bear some of the blame; and the pupil loses to some extent the confidence of his teachers, but the home especially suffers a loss of reputation. High school pupils ought to regard their school work much in the same light as any other workers must view their part in the duties of the office or store. It is claimed that a boy who has completed a high school course earns enough more in later life, because of that fact, to warrant the assertion that for every day spent in school, he receives the equivalent of at least $10. The Superintendent of Schools in Attleboro, Mass., recently made the assertion that the increased power was $25 for every day spent in high school. At Yale University averages compiled from some 3,000 cases showed an increased earning capacity for graduates of secondary schools verifying these statements. If this be even approximately true, then each pupil ought to regard his school work most seriously and to resolve never to be absent or tardy unless because of some really unavoidable circumstance.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee, Randolph.

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith my fifth annual report of the public schools of Randolph.

The manner in which this town is adjusting itself to the ever-increasing school enrolment is most gratifying. Towns located near large cities are facing this problem generally. To meet these changes year after year is no small task when viewed from the point of financial limitations. After two years of persistent endeavor, your schools can now accommodate all children and give to each child his full-time school day.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

THE NEW STETSON HIGH SCHOOL

This building when thrown open for public inspection will speak for itself. It is an excellent example of what can be done when the citizens set out to do it. Fortunate, too, was the town in its selection of a Building Committee, men of broad, clear vision and unafraid to act in the interest of education.

Briefly stated, this building is a senior high school, so planned and furnished. Its extra six rooms for the present are used for the accommodation of the junior high school pupils. Its total accommodation is close to 500 pupils. Its general equipment is as follows:

- 10 classrooms.
- 1 Science room.
- 1 Science lecture room.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

- 1 Bookkeeping room.
- 1 Typewriting room.
- 1 Study room for 55 pupils.
- 1 Drawing or sewing room.

Library, nurse's room, teachers' room, lunch, locker and two supply rooms besides an assembly hall with a seating capacity of 350.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of the reorganization brought about by the new high school, I desire to submit for your consideration the following:

(a) Re-floor at least two classrooms in the Prescott Grammar Building, and re-locate two windows in these rooms for proper lighting. Furnish these rooms with the present high school desks and chairs now used in Stetson Hall.

(b) Furnish wardrobe facilities within the classrooms for grades one and two, Prescott Primary Building.

(c) Close the portable building at the Belcher School and open a room left vacant by the junior department.

INSTRUCTION

Our efforts to unify the school work throughout the town, as proposed in my last year's report, have produced results. Plan books, reports and conferences have been contributing factors in this direction but the thing I count most highly and which has been of the greatest value in this endeavor has been the loyalty of teachers and their faithful work.

SCHOOL NURSE

With the appointment of a full-time school nurse our health work should progress unhampered. The part-time service given by Miss Leary was excellent so far as it went but this with her bedside nursing was too heavy a task for one person to perform. We are, however, greatly indebted to her and to the Association for their assistance and initial step in this important health work.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

INTERFERENCE IN OUR SCHOOL WORK

Requests to use the class rooms and the help of school children for some special meritorious objective have increased so rapidly since the war that some stand must now be taken to keep our schools free. This interference comes entirely from without and is not a problem provoked by local interests. No better expression of this menace to education can be found anywhere than in the words of Hon. Ernest W. Butterfield, State Commissioner of Education of New Hampshire, who says: "I speak with feeling upon this point, for I believe that the attack upon the public schools has never been so insidious as it is today. Sinister demagogues and zealots, organized societies, great commercial houses, would use the schools to advance their propaganda, to emphasize their policies and plans, to make for them financial gain. For this end, they would cloud the facts accepted by history and by science. They would modify teaching to fit their beliefs. They would give children wants which only their wares could satisfy. The raisin growers, the silk worm breeders, the Florida realtors, the organizations for national relief, the narcotic trusts and the temperance leagues, the army, the navy and the societies for universal peace, all through some of their representatives see the opportunity to aggrandize themselves under the guise of teaching health or patriotism or economy or some other individual or social merit."

RETIREMENT

After forty-nine years of faithful service as a public school teacher, Miss Mary E. Wren was retired by the Massachusetts Teachers' Retirement Board, July 1, 1925. Miss Wrenn closed her work last June in the same vigor and enthusiasm as in former years.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

The annual report of school nursing ending December 31, 1925, is as follows:

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

All pupils in the grade schools weighed.

Number of pupils 10 % and over underweight	130
Home visits to underweight pupils	86
Pupils examined at health clinic	36
Pupils X-rayed	20
Pupils given Von Piquet test	20
Pupils dismissed from school until seen by doctor,	14
Pupils sent to a preventorium	4
Pupils sent to "Wonderland," Salvation Army
Fresh Air Camp	2

Milk is supplied to needy children who are 10 % underweight by a committee from the Ladies Library, and the Womens Catholic Clubs. First aid supplies were replenished in all the schools at the expense of Randolph Chapter Red Cross. The expense of sending the children to the preventoria was paid by the Christmas seals, the Parent-Teachers Association and the Red Cross.

I wish to call particular attention to the epidemic of scarlet fever in the months of November and December. In nearly all cases, it was found that the children had had a slight rash which afterward proved to be a symptom of scarlet fever. Many of these children had had no medical supervision and it must be supposed that other children were infected.

It is my pleasure to report the hearty co-operation of teachers, parents and pupils.

Respectfully submitted,

JULIA M. LEARY, R.N.

REPORT OF THE DRAWING SUPERVISOR

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

As Supervisor of Drawing I am submitting herewith my report of four months' work in the schools of Randolph.

Despite the handicap due to the temporary arrangements at the high school, satisfactory work is being done in freehand and mechanical drawing. Four periods a week are given to drawing and the problems have included free-brush work, color harmony, composition, lettering, costume design, craft designs and orthographic projection.

The grades are visited every two weeks where problems in design and hand work are carried out. Self-expression and the initiative are emphasized.

The interest and co-operation of teachers have been a great help in the accomplishment of satisfactory results.

Respectfully submitted,

EMILY SANFORD,
Drawing Supervisor.

REPORT OF THE MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. A. O. Christiansen,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sirr:

I submit for your consideration my report as Supervisor of Music in the Randolph Schools.

The progress in music in the lower grades has been very gratifying—the children read and sing well and seem to have a very good knowledge of music in general.

I recommend that more time be given to the teaching of music in the upper grades, in order to bring about desired results. Pupils in these grades require more stimulation; consequently a greater amount of time and energy must be displayed by the teacher to this end. This desired result cannot be accomplished in a music period of fifteen or twenty minutes, therefore I ask that the time be extended to a thirty-minute period in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, thereby giving the pupils sufficient time to absorb and thoroughly learn the lessons outlined by the Supervisor.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSE G. HAND,
Supervisor of Music.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Randolph, Mass. January 1, 1926.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 3 of the By-Laws of the Turner Free Library, this, the fiftieth annual report is submitted, showing the condition of the trust, consisting of the building, library and funds, together with the reports of the Librarian and Treasurer and so much of the reports submitted by the various committees to the Trustees as seems of general interest.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

The Library Committee consisting of Winthrop B. Atherton, Mrs. Helen W. Pratt, Herbert F. French and Frank W. Belcher with the assistance of the Librarian has found the books, charts and furnishings in good condition. All books were accounted for by the Librarian.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

The Building Committee consisting of W. B. Atherton, F. W. Belcher and C. Wilson Lyons, reports the building as being in fair condition but some minor repairs are needed, and an appropriation of $150 is requested.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

Your Committee on Finance submits the following report:

The Committee has audited the accounts of the Treasurer for the year 1925 and found them correct. All moneys received have been duly accounted for, and no moneys have been paid out except upon vouchers properly approved.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The Committee has examined, also, the securities representing the investments of the funds of the library and has found them to be intact and as represented.

ASA P. FRENCH,
Chairman.

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1926.

In the report of the Librarian it will be noticed that several changes have been made, particularly in the charging system, which have proved to be very beneficial, due to the interest and faithful work of the Librarian.

During the latter part of the year the Library met with a great loss in the passing of its Treasurer, Mr. N. Irving Tolman. Faithful in the performance of his duties and with high ideals he had endeared himself to his associates on the Board of Trustees and his passing is a great loss to the Library and to the community.

The report of the Librarian statistically showing in detail the doings, management and results of the various departments of the Library and the report of the Treasurer showing the investments of the funds and the receipts and expenditures of the Library are herewith subjoined.

Respectfully submitted,

WINTHROP B. ATHERTON,

President of the Board of Trustees.

Randolph, Mass., January 1, 1926.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

I have the honor to submit the annual report of the Turner Free Library for the year ending December 31, 1925.

The library has been open to the public 303 days; 25,726 books have been borrowed; also 325 unbound magazines. There have been 345 books added this year making 29,458 accessioned volumes; 288 books were added by purchase; 8 magazines bound and 49 received as gifts.

Through the kindness of Mr. Erskine H. Cox, we have received two publications for the reading room: The News Bulletin published weekly by the Foreign Policy Association and Nature Magazine, a monthly periodical. Mrs. Edith A. Beal has given a complete set of town reports and some books from John Van Beal's library. We also have received a revolving book-case from the library of the late Dr. Asher Anderson, D.D., presented by his widow, Mrs. Asher Anderson.

We have issued 195 borrowers' cards this year, but as stated last year, the numbers of former card holders being re-issued, the total number on our book is 1887, a net gain of 67 over last year.

There has been more reference work done this year than for some years.

The new International Encyclopedia is proving its value and usefulness every day.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The reading room is well patronized, but with the variety of periodicals on our table, containing so much instructive and useful material, it would seem that we should have a larger number of adult readers.

There has been no special change in our Children's Department. The need in that department is more books.

The work with the schools is done mostly in reference work at the Library, with the exception of the High School. The pupils of the High School borrow books for their required reading.

In July we began to prepare for a change in our charging system. Ever since the library was started the ledger system has been used. With the changes in library work that have come in the past few years and the growth of the town, especially in the outlying districts, the system had become inadequate to our needs. It was finally decided to adopt the system used in most public libraries at the present time.

We did not attempt to prepare all the books in the library for this change, but a selection was made of the books in constant circulation, and those which would be frequently used.

Even with this selection about 3,000 charging cards had to be numbered with the book number, and more than 2,000 books had to have book slips pasted in. That this was done and the system in use by the middle of September was due to the help given by some good friends of the library who so generously gave their time and work.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The appreciation and thanks of the Librarian, and I am sure, of the Trustees, is given to Miss S. Louise Campagna, who helped with the book cards, and Miss Eleanor Tolman, Miss Pauline Knebel and Miss Helen Knebel who put in the date slips.

The new system has been in use now about four months and is working very satisfactorily.

We have also made a change in our charging desk. The top of the old desk has been removed. It is much more convenient for the Librarian and patrons and adds to the general appearance of the library. Although fiction is in as much demand as ever, there has been a larger circulation of non-fiction this year than usual.

The sum of $141.00 received for fines and collections has been turned over to the Treasurer.

The Librarian wishes to take this opportunity to thank her assistant, Miss Belcher, for her loyal and efficient service, as well as the Trustees for their encouragement and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. BELCHER,
Librarian.

REPORT OF THE MOTH SUPERINTENDENT

Randolph, Mass., January 19, 1926.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

The Gypsy Moth situations in the town are in good condition. While the larvae and egg clusters were fewer last year, what were found were larger, showing the need of still waging war to exterminate the pest.

The Brown Tail Moths were found in smaller numbers the past year, showing a decided gain in the control of the same.

The unsightly Tent Caterpillar will again be active this year and property holders should watch all fruit trees for the first sign of the pest, which can be controlled much easier at the start when they appear. No provision is made to fight this pest, which in the past three years has been very bad. I have destroyed the egg clusters of a great number in my scouting in the town, also have destroyed a lot by spraying. All parts of the Town have been sprayed the past year.

I would again recommend the purchase of a truck for the use of this department, as the wagon now in use is in very poor condition.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,
Local Moth Superintendent.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

THE TREE WARDEN

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph.

Greetings:

During the past year, sixteen new trees were planted, making a total of fifty-three trees set out in the last three years. Only five trees were removed last year, two on account of the re-building of Warren Street and one other blew down on account of undermining while construction work was being done on the said street. Two were removed from in front of the residence of Dr. Chase.

Trimming was done on many of the outlying streets and a number of bad corners trimmed out that were dangerous to travel.

I would recommend that the town purchase a truck for this department to be used for tree and Moth work.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MOORE,
Tree Warden.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Water Commissioners
1925

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The fortieth annual report of the Water Commissioners is herewith submitted for the year ending December 31, 1925. The most important work of the Water Department during the year 1925 was the new extensions.

EXTENSION FROM UNION STREET TO MILL STREET, VIA. CENTRE STREET.

The work on this extension was begun in 1924 in order to supply water to a new house built on Centre Street. By vote of the Town it was continued in the year 1925 and completed in the early part of the Summer.

NORTH MAIN STREET EXTENSION

The Town voted to extend the mains 350 feet in a northerly direction. However, before work was begun on this extension a petition was received from many residents in that section of the Town to extend it 150 feet further making in all 500 feet of pipe laid on this extension which was completed June 1925.

GROVE STREET EXTENSION.

The same thing applied to the Grove Street extension which was the last of the three extensions to be laid in 1925. While working on this Street we found there was a number of new houses in course of construction, and in order that they might be supplied with water, and the money being available, we laid 950 feet of six inch mains on this Street. All the work for 1925 was done by the Department at considerably less cost than the contractor's figures.

In the year 1925 the Town voted that these extensions be paid for from money in the hands of the Treasurer received from water rates. This amount reduced the showing of our Treasury at the end of the financial year. There has been no extraordinary expense for up-keep on our plant at the pumping station, nor do we anticipate any great outlay for the present year. However, the two stand pipes will be painted this year, inside and out, at an estimated expenditure of $3,200.00

The condition of the water remains good, as shown by reports from an analysis made by the State Department of Health. The mains are also in good condition and show very little corrosion. The chlorinating machine at the pumping station continues to do excellent work in killing any bacteria which may be in the water. However, it has become necessary to insure the machine being in condition at all times. The Joint Board is considering adding a duplicate machine so that we may be assured of having chlorine continuously injected into the water. This will be an estimated expense of $800.00.

The service pipes in the services installed when the water works were first established are causing much trouble for the Department by the loosening of joints in the connection with the main, and also getting corroded and filling up, so that very little water goes through the pipe on the older services. The number of those having to be replaced each year is ever increasing. There were five leaks in the fourteen inch main, mostly in the location between Pond Street and West Corners.

During the past year 86 new services have been added to the system.

Unpaid water bills at this writing amount to:

Fixed rates	$1,073.62
Meter rates	1,491.65
Labor and fixtures	610.43

$3,175.70

Orders were drawn on the Treasurer for the following amounts:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following regulations, until further notice, shall be considered a part of the contract with every person who uses water:

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

1. All applications for use of water must be made at the office of the Water Commissioners, and state fully the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Water will not be introduced into any building or premises except on the written application of the owner thereof, or by a duly authorized agent. The property will in all cases be held responsible for the water rates.

2. All persons taking water must keep their water pipes and fixtures in good repair and protected from the frost at their own expense. They will be held liable for all damages resulting from their failure to do so. They shall prevent all unnecessary waste, and water shall not be left running to prevent freezing. The Water Commissioners or their agent may, from time to time, ascertain the quantity of water used, the manner of its use, and whether there is any unnecessary waste. They and their agents shall have free access to the premises supplied, to examine the apparatus, and if any fixtures are found not to be in good order, they shall direct them repaired, and if not repaired within two days the water shall be shut off and not let on again until such repairs are made, and the sum of two dollars paid for shutting off and turning on the water.

3. The occupant of any premises, when unnecessary waste of water occurs, shall be liable to a fine of two dollars for the first offence, and four dollars for the second offence during the same year, and shall be notified thereof in writing; and if such waste is not prevented and the aforesaid paid within two days from the time when the said notice is given, the water shall be shut off the premises, and shall not be again let on for the same occupant until the waste be stopped and the fine paid, together with an additional sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water and in case of a third or subsequent offence the water shall be shut off, and shall not again be let on except by a vote of the Water Commissioners and the payment of such fine, not exceeding ten dollars, as the Water Commissioners may impose.

4. Any person supplied with water shall not allow another to take water from their fixtures without the written permission of the Water Commissioners. If any tenant having no fixtures, has any use of such fixtures, full rates will be charged for such use by each tenant.

5. All parties using water in stables, for horses or other animals, will be charged schedule rates for the same, whether it be carried by hand or through hose.

6. All persons using water for building purposes are required to obtain a permit from the Water Commissioners before taking water from any faucet or fixture connected with the water works, and all water takers are warned not to let any party take water from their premises until they show a permit from the Water Commissioners. Any person furnishing water in violation of this section will be subject to a fine not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, and if the same when levied is not paid within three days from the time when the notice thereof is given, the water will be shut off from the premises and will not be let on again until such fine is paid.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

7. All fixtures and water closets and urinals must be of a kind and quality approved by the Water Commissioners, also a Vacuum Valve must be installed on all Pressure Range Boilers connected with the system.

8. No person shall in any case be allowed to open any fire hydrants except by a written permit from the Water Commissioners; but the Engineers of the Fire Department shall in all cases have control of hydrants at fires and for practice.

9. The Commissioners reserve the right to restrict the use of hose or fountain, to shut off the water in all cases when it becomes necessary to make extensions or repairs, or for violations of any of the regulations, or whenever they deem it expedient.

10. The regular rates for the use of water shall be payable in advance on the first days of January and July of each year, except where water is supplied to manufacturers by special agreement. In all cases of non-payment of the water rates within ten days after same is due, as well as for any violations of these rules and regulations, the supply will be shut off, and payment of the amount due, and the sum of two dollars for shutting off and letting on the water.

11. The Water Commissioners reserve the right to change the water rates at any time, except in cases of dwelling houses and established special rates.

12. For business requiring large quantities of water, and all supplies not enumerated in the tariff of rates, special rates will be made.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

13. Parties using water for manufacturing or domestic purposes can erect hydrants on their grounds or standpipes in their building to be used only as a protection against fire without additional charge for water.

14. All service pipes will be put in by the Water Commissioners. All applications for the introduction of service pipes into their premises are required to make written application therefor at the office of the Water Commissioners. The Commissioners may then proceed to lay the necessary service pipes to the interior of the building, provided all expense incurred beyond the line of the street shall be paid by the owner of the premises, who shall thereafter maintain and keep the same in good order at his own cost; and the same shall be at all times subject to the control of the Commissioners. All applicants for whom the pipe is laid will be charged for the use of one faucet whether the water is used or not, unless they pay all expense that has been incurred in laying such service pipe, and in no case will the main be tapped more than once for the same premises, unless the additional expense is borne by the owner.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

1925

TO THE CITIZENS OF RANDOLPH:

The Board of Assessors for the year 1925 organized with Henry V. Morgan, Chairman, James H. Hurley, Secretary and James E. Foley.

Our Board brought about a further reduction in the tax rate of $1.60 notwithstanding the fact that appropriations increased materially. The appropriations of 1925 amounted to $171,393.84 which was an increase of $34,365.29. The increase in appropriations provided for through the tax levy was equal to an increase in tax rate of $8.18 per thousand, which added to the reduction of $1.60 makes a net reduction of the tax rate for 1925 of $9.78. The tax rate under ordinary conditions would have been $36.58 per thousand. However thru calling the attention of the voters at the last Annual Town Meeting to surplus cash which was in the Town treasury, part of which was represented by receipts of the previous year which the Assessors did not credit in the tax levy, the amount of $16,800.00 was transferred for use by the Assessors in reducing the tax rate.

EXPLANATION OF SAVINGS IN TAX RATE OF

$9.78 per thousand

Surplus cash which Assessors had transferred from Treasury to reduce tax rate, $16,800.00	$4.00
Savings as the result of addition of the valuation of new dwelling houses, $150,000.	1.00

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

Savings at a result of including additional credits representing receipts from various sources as a result of investigation by the Assessors.	2.00
Savings as a result of investigations of the taxes assessed to Public Service Corporations which resulted in increased assessments.75
Savings as a result of revaluing property sold for recent high market prices.75
Savings as a result of revaluing land that during the year had been cut up into house lots, the placing of additional land valuations on the tax records as a result of investigation by the Assessors of the records of ownership at the County Registry of Deeds, and savings thru reduction in the amount of abatements allowed.	1.28

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Plans

We consulted several engineers and surveyors during the year with regard to a survey of the town for the purpose of having plans made, and for which $500.00 was raised last year, and we recommend that the sum of $1,500.00 be raised and appropriated at the Annual Town Meeting of 1926. These plans when completed will serve several of the town departments and will be of great advantage to the citizens as a whole by reason of the fact that all land will be taxed each year whereas in the past, hundreds of acres have been untaxed.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

Surplus.

At the date of writing this report an analysis of the town's finance has not been made for the year ending December 31st, 1925 so that we are not in a position to recommend the appropriation of any specific amount of surplus cash in the treasury for use in reducing the tax rate in the same manner as we did in 1925. However, prior to the town meeting such an analysis will be made and if sufficient surplus cash exists we will recommend the appropriation of a portion of same.

Appropriations.

The cost of conducting the town's business, and appropriations for improvements are increasing annually, as you will note from our report, that the appropriations of 1925 exceeded those of the previous year by the amount of $34,365.29. The cost of operating our School Department in 1926 will increase at least $20,000.00 according to estimates, mostly as a result of the construction of our new high school. This increase is equal to an increase of about $5.00 per thousand. It is obvious therefore that care and judgement should be used in appropriating money for any purpose that is not extremely urgent and necessary, in order that an attractive tax rate can be maintained to add the developement and growth of the town.

We will conclude our report by asking the taxpayers to attend the coming Town Meeting and take an active (part, in order that economy may be practiced in the form of appropriations, and the taxpayers are hereby assured of the co-operation of the Assessors in the matter.

NINETIETH ANNUAL REPORT

Respectfully yours,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS

HENRY V. MORGAN, Chairman

JAMES H. HURLEY

JAMES E. FOLEY

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

REPORT OF THE HIGHWAY SURVEYOR

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In rendering my report I wish to thank the townspeople for the co-operation and assistance given my department during the past year.

I wish to report that some of the streets of the town are in a poor condition and need attention at once. Regarding the sidewalks of the town I find that attention should be paid to them this year. During the past year we have made a good start in treating the highways with tarvia and recommend to the town that more of this work be continued this coming year.

I extend to the residents of Grove, Plain and Woodlawn streets my appreciation of their assistance in a financial way, which placed these streets in a proper and passable condition.

The residents of Plain street contributed $50, Grove street $50, and Woodlawn street $68.

The cost of tarvia as used in this town this past year was fourteen cents a gallon and in applying tarvia to a new street it takes three quarters of a gallon to a square yard. On roads that are laid down one quarter of a gallon is needed.

I would recommend to the town that in order to build proper highways this town needs a modern steam roller and would ask for an appropriation for this purpose. In conclusion I extend to all who have assisted in any way this past year my thanks and look forward to the coming year as more successfull in accomplishments.

Signed
JAMES LYNCH,
Highway Surveyor

Dec. 30. Still alarm—time 4:55 P. M., called apparatus to residence of Bracken, Union Street. Needless.

Much work has been done on the fire alarm system and yet there is some more to be done in order that the system might be in good condition. A complete line was installed from the junction of Main and West Streets to West Corners, a new line from West and Main Streets to Cross Street, and a new line on Maple Street; making a total of about three miles of new wire used on this work. The whole system was gone over and cleared of tree grounds, so with a small appropriation the Board of Engineers can put the fire alarm system in shape.

Repairs were made on Engine House No. 2, and it was given two coats of paint, so it is now in good condition.

The interior of House No. 1 is much in need of paint. It is the desire of the Engineers to have it painted on the interior and another room partitioned off in order that we may have a room for a spare driver. The driver at the present time is required to work twenty-four hours a day and seven days a week. To our minds this is not fair to him, therefore, the Engineers are asking in their recommendations that the Town appropriate money to paint the interior, make a room, and make provisions for paying a spare driver in order that the regular driver may have one day off in seven, with his two week's vacation.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASS.

The number of fires here, as elsewhere, seem to be increasing, and, of course, this adds extra expense to the Town. It is only fair that in our recommendations we should provide for the next Board of Engineers insofar as hour service and general expenses are concerned. We have no control over the number of fires, and therefore, cannot estimate the exact amount needed for hour service. The same holds true in general expenses. Therefore, we would recommend that the Town increase the appropriation on hour service to $700.00, and general expenses to $800.00. We feel it would be better for all concerned to have an unexpended balance rather than an overdraft.

The Board of Engineers recommend the following amounts for the ensuing year.

General Expenses	$800.00
Salaries of Men	450.00
Hour Service	700.00
Driver of Truck	1,800.00
Spare Driver	260.00
Engineers' Salaries	150.00
Unpaid Bills—1925-26	215.00
Painting and Repairing Interior of House No. 1	200.00
Rebuilding new and care of Fire Alarm Sys- tem	450.00
500 feet of Hose	525.00
$5,550.00

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN J. CONDON,
MARTIN E. YOUNG,
HAROLD W. MACAULEY.
